Faith Development And Pastoral Care:

Faith Development and Pastoral Care James W. Fowler, 1987 James Fowler's work as the originator of faith development research, his use of the theories of Jean Piaget and Erik Erikson for theology, has been widely acclaimed for its profound impact on the field of religious education and for its promise for other fields. Christian Perspectives on Faith Development Jeff Astley, Leslie J. Francis, 1992 This book brings together for the first time in one volume key articles on faith development theory originally published in religious and secular journals in America, Australia, and Europe. Written by internationally recognized scholars, the essays discuss faith development in relation to such things as interview data, pastoral care, and Christian education. Women's Faith Development Nicola Slee, 2021-11-18 Presenting a rich account of women's faith lives and mapping women's meanings in their own right, this book offers an alternative to dominant accounts of faith development which failed to account for women's experience. Drawing on Fowler's faith development theory, feminist models of women's faith, and social science methodology, the text explores the patterns and processes of women's faith development and spirituality in a group of thirty women belonging to or on the edges of Christian tradition. Integrating practical theological concern with Christian education and pastoral practice, this book will be of interest to all concerned with women's faith development, spirituality, education, and formation, and those working in the fields of practical theology, pastoral care, adult theological education, spiritual direction, and counselling. Human Development and Faith (Second Edition) Felicity B. Kelcourse, 2015-07-28 This book, now in its second edition, brings together the best available understandings of human development from a multidisciplinary perspective. Uniquely inclusive of the moral and faith dimensions of context and life cycle development, Human Development and Faith examines the interplay of mind, body, family, community, and soul at every stage of development. It addresses two central questions: What are the good enough conditions of parenting, family, and community in each phase of life from birth to death which support growth and development? What gives life adequate meaning as development proceeds? If human development describes the normative and hoped-for passages of life, then faith provides the necessary component of meaning. Throughout the various perspectives offered in this volume is the premise that faith is that quality of living that makes it possible to fully live. The Journal of Pastoral Theology called the first edition of Human Development and Faith an excellent text for pastoral theology courses because it fulfills its ambitious goal of bringing a holistic faith perspective to the usual topics of development. This second edition includes a new chapter on infancy, updates reflecting our growing awareness of cultural diversity, and a new preface. Human Development and Faith (Second Edition) Felicity B.
