Faith Reason And Revelation In Theodore Beza 1519 1605:

Faith, Reason, and Revelation in Theodore Beza, 1519-1605 Jeffrey Mallinson, 2003 Faith Reason and Revelation in the Thought of Theodore Beza investigates the direction of religious epistemology under a chief architect of Calvinism 1519 1605 Mallinson contends that Beza consolidated his tradition by balancing the subjective and objective aspects of faith and knowledge Making use of new editions of Beza's class notes and correspondence and examining the theological ideas found in Beza's long neglected New Testament annotations this study clarifies the thought of Calvin's successor The nature of Protestant scholasticism and the relationship between faith and philosophy are observed in context rather than from the anachronistic perspectives of modern schools that seek to establish their own continuity with Calvinism Faith, Reason and Revelation in Theodore Beza, 1519-1605 Jeffrey Mallinson, 2003 This volume investigates the direction of religious epistemology under a chief architect of the Calvinistic tradition Mallinson contends that Beza defended and consolidated his tradition by balancing the subjective and objective aspects of faith and knowledge Enamoured With Piety Yarran Johnston, 2020-10-26 Being released in the 400th anniversary of his birth Enamoured with Piety by Dr Yarran Johnston offers an insight into the life and ministry of the Puritan Thomas Watson Johnston traces the pervading theme of godliness in Watson's thoughts and writings making the case that Watson represents English Puritanism in its mature phase specifically in its understanding of godliness as a proper regard for God Richard Hooker, the Rule of Faith, and the Rise of Religious Evidentialism Nigel Voak, 2025-03-10 Nigel Voak examines the genesis and evolution of religious evidentialism in England from 1585 to 1700 a deeply influential epistemology which claims that religious beliefs are only justified to the extent that we have evidence to substantiate them and that we have an obligation to proportion our assent to the strength of our evidence Given the propositions of faith lack the evidentness of objects of scientific knowledge absolutely certain assent to such beliefs is therefore epistemically unjustifiable This epistemology which breaks with the previous Christian tradition is classically formulated in John Locke's An Essay concerning Human Understanding first edition 1690 This study argues that this epistemology of belief can be traced back to the English theologian Richard Hooker 1554 1600 whose thought was then developed over the course of the seventeenth century Rule of Faith Controversy which acted as the crucible for these new ideas on faith evidence and certainty Voak shows that the key thinkers in this process including Locke himself were aware that this epistemology came from Hooker and used him in formulating their own influential positions Adaptations of Calvinism in Reformation Europe Mack P. Holt, 2016-03-16 Traditional historiography has always viewed Calvin's Geneva as the benchmark against which all other Reformed communities must inevitably be measured judging those communities who did not follow Geneva's institutional and doctrinal example as somehow inferior and incomplete versions of the original Adaptations of Calvinism in Reformation Europe builds upon recent scholarship that challenges this concept of the fragmentation of Calvinism and instead offers a more positive view of Reformed communities beyond Geneva The essays in this volume highlight the different paths that Calvinism followed as it took root in Western Europe and which allowed it to develop within fifty years into the dominant Protestant confession Each chapter reinforces the notion that whilst many reformers did try to duplicate the kind of community that Calvin had established most had to compromise by adapting to the particular political and cultural landscapes in which they lived The result was a situation in which Reformed churches across Europe differed markedly from Calvin s Geneva in explicit ways Summarizing recent research in the field through selected French German English and Scottish case studies this collection adds to the emerging picture of a flexible Calvinism that could adapt to meet specific local conditions and needs in order to allow the Reformed tradition to thrive and prosper The volume is dedicated to Brian G Armstrong whose own scholarship demonstrated how far Calvinism in seventeenth century France had become divided by significant disagreements over how Calvin s original ideas and doctrines were to be understood

Symphonia Catholica Byung Soo Han, 2015-05-20 Byung Soo Han intends to answer by investigating the merger of patristic and contemporary sources in the theological method of Amandus Polanus a significant question concerning the way in which the intellectual and methodological eclecticism of the Reformed was able to establish a coherent system of thought capable of defense as not only confessional but also orthodox in its theology and broadly catholic drawing both on the thought of the Reformers and on the resources of the great tradition of Christian thought that extended back to the church fathers From a methodological perspective Polanus s development from the Ramistically organized doctrinal framework of the early Partitiones through the increasingly detailed and specialized efforts of the commentaries disputations and Symphonia indicates a fairly clear concerted effort to build toward a detailed systematic presentation and in fact each of these earlier efforts provided as it were building blocks that would be incorporated into the Syntagma This constructive labor itself serves to set aside the claim that Polanus based his theology on a deductive principle The specific focus of the book is on the place and function of backgrounds and sources traditional and contemporary with particular emphasis on the place of the church fathers in Reformed orthodoxy Polanus s patristic work Symphonia and its eventual impact on his full systematic work the Syntagma provides a singular case within the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries of the reformulation of patristic thought in a fully systematized form suitable for combination with the results of biblical exegesis and contemporary doctrinal argumentation in the formulation of Reformed orthodox theology This study attempts to assess the claim of catholicity and orthodoxy by Reformed theology demonstrating the formative function of patristic thought in Polanus s theology Further the study illustrates the place of this traditionary exercise within the methodologically eclectic approach followed by Polanus and his contemporaries as they created a theology that drew not only on Scripture and contemporary philosophical assumptions but also on patristic medieval Reformation era traditionary Aristotelian Platonic and Ramist sources This study therefore reappraises the development of Reformed orthodoxy In Polanus s case an older scholarship that read his theology as based on central dogmas or as an exercise of rationalism will be set aside in favor of a more nuanced view of his sources and method Within this larger framework Polanus s use of the fathers builds on and confirms the Reformers s assumption of catholicity in the face of the detailed polemics of Robert Bellarmine as well as confirming the point that his approach to formulation was traditionary and somewhat eclectic Finally the book identifies the theological cohesion of the early orthodox Reformed model as exemplified by Polanus s thought especially in its method of drawing together of traditionary materials from varied sources In short the book demonstrates the importance of the church fathers to the formulation of a Reformed orthodox and catholic theology in the context of showing contrary to previous studies of Polanus s thought and contrary to the older stereotypes of Calvinist orthodoxy that Reformed orthodoxy was neither a rigid monolith nor a matter of philosophical speculation but the product of a carefully conceived exercise in the compilation and assessment of biblical and traditionary materials

Reformed Preaching Joel Beeke,2018-10-15 Preaching today all too often tragically misses the point We ve all heard sermons that sound more like a lecture filling the head but not the heart And we ve all heard sermons tailored to produce an emotional experience filling the heart but not the head But biblical preaching both informs minds and engages hearts giving it the power to transform lives By the Spirit's grace biblical preaching brings truth home from the heart of the preacher to the heart of the hearer Joel Beeke a pastor and professor of preaching with over four decades of experience explores the fundamental principles of Reformed experiential preaching examining sermons by preachers from the past and bridging the historical gap by showing pastors what the preaching of God's life transforming truth looks like today

Unity in Diversity Randall J. Pederson, 2014-08-14 Unity in Diversity presents a fresh appraisal of the vibrant and diverse culture of Stuart Puritanism provides a historiographical and historical survey of current issues within Puritanism critiques notions of Puritanisms which tend to fragment the phenomenon and introduces unitas within diversitas within three divergent Puritans John Downname Francis Rous and Tobias Crisp This study draws on insights from these three figures to propose that seventeenth century English Puritanism should be thought of both in terms of Familien hnlichkeit in which there are strong theological and social semblances across Puritans of divergent persuasions and in terms of the greater narrative of the Puritan Reformation which united Puritans in their quest to reform their church and society Calvin and the Reformed Tradition Richard A. Muller,2012-11-15 Richard Muller a world class scholar of the Reformation era examines the relationship of Calvin s theology to the Reformed tradition indicating Calvin s place in the tradition as one of several significant second generation formulators Muller argues that the Reformed tradition is a diverse and variegated movement not suitably described either as founded solely on the thought of John Calvin or as a reaction to or deviation from Calvin thereby setting aside the old Calvin and the Calvinists approach in favor of a more integral and representative perspective Muller offers historical corrective and nuance on topics of current interest in Reformed theology such as limited atonement universalism union with Christ and the order of salvation Heavenly Providence Suk Yu Chan,2022-08-08 Suk Yu Chan provides a revisit of John Calvin s interpretation of the doctrine of divine providence and builds upon a vast repository of quality research conducted by previous Reformation scholars The author adopts a historical approach to explore Calvin s works from 1534 1559 and argues that from 1534 1541 Calvin used the image of the fountain to portray God as the source of everything who has power to preserve and give life to all creatures on earth Between the Latin edition of the Institutes in 1539 and the French translation of that work in 1541 Calvin was indecisive about the definition of special providence articulating a fitful relationship between providence and soteriology in these two texts In 1552 Calvin gradually ceased using the image of the fountain to portray God as the source of everything and he also delivered three definitions of divine providence general providence special providence and the very presence of God Based on the theological understanding of divine providence which he had developed from 1534 1552 Calvin presented his exegesis on the Book of Job and the Book of Psalms through his sermons and commentaries Furthermore Calvin also discussed the importance of the human role in God s providence While Calvin s theological understanding of God s providence was inherited by his successor Theodore Beza Beza applied it differently in his exegesis on the Book of Job From 1534 1559 Calvin formulated his biblical doctrine of divine providence articulating that divine providence is heavenly providence which is comprised of eternal predestination and divine preservation
