Beasts of the Sky Jon Hackett, Seán Harrington, Damian O'Byrne, 2025-01-07 Often the sky is conceptualised as a place of infinite possibilities past the limits of our scientific explorations and into the realms of our fiction and speculation it is the site for our thoughts on the future of the extra terrestrial and beyond Our representations in the media of space sky and the infinite invariably mediate social and cultural anxieties that are current looming and indeed threatening These concerns range from the environment and fears of ecosystem collapse the nuclear arms and space race modernity utopia and dystopia Beasts of the Sky Strange Sightings from the Stratosphere is the third and final collection in the Beasts series This collection offers its readers an in depth and interdisciplinary engagement with the skies above and their monstrous inhabitants through critical readings of science fiction and popular culture through the media of film television popular music digital games and animation Within this collection there are a multitude of convergent critical perspectives used to engage and explore fictional and real monstrosities of the sky and space in media As with previous collections Skies features chapters from a variety of academic perspectives genre and narrative textual analysis spectatorship and reception Tolkien studies performance studies digital media and indeed fiction are featured Under examination are a wide range of narratives and media forms that represent reimagine and create subjects as varied as the threat of nuclear weapons sightings of UFOs space exploration and flying creatures

Haunted Spaces in Twenty-First Century British Nature Writing Anneke Lubkowitz, 2020-06-08 This study investigates the figure of haunting in the New Nature Writing It begins with a historical survey of nature writing and traces how it came to represent an ideal of natural space as empty of human history and social conflict Building on a theoretical framework which combines insights from ecocriticism and spatial theory the author explores the spatial dimensions of haunting and hauntology and shows how 21st century writers draw on a Gothic repertoire of seemingly supernatural occurrences and spectral imagery to portray natural space as disturbed uncanny and socially contested Iain Sinclair and Robert Macfarlane are revealed to apply psychogeography's interest in hidden histories and haunted places to spaces associated with wilderness and the countryside Kathleen Jamie's allusions to the Gothic are put in relation to her feminist re writing of the outdoors and John Burnside's use of haunting is shown to dismantle fictions of the far north This book provides not only a discussion of a wide range of factual and fictional narratives of the present but also an analysis of the intertextual dialogue with the Romantic tradition which enfolds in these texts
