Sublime Economy Jack Amariglio, Joseph W. Childers, Stephen E. Cullenberg, 2008-11-25 Over the last two centuries artists critics philosophers and theorists have contributed significantly to such representations of the economy as sublime It might even be said that much of the emergence of a distinctly modern art in the West is inextricably linked to the perception of art's own autonomy and therefore its privileged mostly critical gaze at the terrible mixture of wonder and horror of capitalist economic practices and institutions The premise of this collection is that despite this perceptual sharing sublime economy has yet to be investigated in a purely cross disciplinary way Sublime Economy seeks to map this critical territory by exploring the ways diverse concepts of economy and economic value have been culturally constituted and disseminated through modern art and cultural practice Comprising of 14 individual essays along with an editors introduction Sublime Economy draws together work from some of the leading scholars in the several fields currently exploring the intersection of economic and aesthetic practices and discourses A pressing issue of this cross disciplinary conversation is to discern how artists writers and cultural scholars constructions of distinct conceptions of economic value as pertains to aesthetic objects as well as to more everyday objects and relations of mass consumption have contributed to the ways value functions in and across disparate discourses Thus this book looks at how cultural critics and theorists have put forward working notions of economic value that have regularities and effects similar to those of the expert conceptions and discourses about value that have been the preserve of professional economists The Films of Mira Nair Amardeep Singh, 2018-09-10 The Films of Mira Nair Diaspora V rit presents the first full length scholarly study of her cinema Mira Nair has broken new ground as both a feminist filmmaker and an Indian filmmaker Several of her works especially those related to the South Asian diaspora have been influential around the globe Amardeep Singh delves into the complexities of Nair's films from 1981 to 2016 offering critical commentary on all of Nair's major works including her early documentary projects as well as shorts The subtitle diaspora v rit alludes to Singh's primary theme Nair's filmmaking project is driven aesthetically by her background in the documentary realist tradition cin ma v rit and thematically by her interest in the lives of migrants and diasporic populations Mainly Nair's filmmaking intends to document imaginatively the experiences of diasporic communities Nair's focus on the

diasporic appears in the long list of her films that have explored the subject such as Mississippi Masala So Far from India Monsoon Wedding The Perez Family My Own Country The Namesake and The Reluctant Fundamentalist However a version of the diasporic sensibility also emerges even in films with an apparently different scope such as Nair's adaptation of Thackeray's Vanity Fair Nair began her career as a documentary filmmaker in the early 1980s While Nair now has largely moved away from the documentary format in favor of making fictional feature films Singh shows that a documentary realist style remains active in her subsequent fictional cinema
