

SHILOH, NEAR THE MISSISSIPPI-TENNESSEE
BORDER. (APRIL 6-7, 1862)

The Confederate army began their battle for control of the Western front with an early morning surprise attack. Union General Ulysses S. Grant was caught off guard, and pulled back his troops to Pittsburgh Landing on the Tennessee River.

On the second day, Grant ordered a counter-attack, and the Union army, aided by reinforcements, drove a battered Confederate army to retreat.

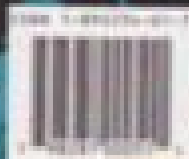

An estimated 100,000 men fought in this, the largest battle ever fought in America up to that time. It was also the costliest: almost one out of every four soldiers died or were wounded; 13,000 Union and 10,700 Confederate.
