Life-Destroying Diagrams Eugenie Brinkema,2022-01-14 In Life Destroying Diagrams Eugenie Brinkema brings the insights of her radical formalism to bear on supremely risky terrain the ethical extremes of horror and love Through close readings of works of film literature and philosophy she explores how diagrams grids charts lists abecedaria toroids tempos patterns colors negative space lengths increments and thresholds attest to formal logics of torture and cruelty violence and finitude friendship and eros debt and care Beginning with a wholesale rethinking of the affect of horror orienting it away from entrenched models of feeling toward impersonal schemes and structures Brinkema moves outward to consider the relation between objects and affects humiliation and metaphysics genre and the general bodily destruction and aesthetic generation geometry and scenography hatred and value love and measurement and ultimately the tensions hazards and speculative promise of formalism itself Replete with etymological meditations performative typography and lyrical digressions Life Destroying Diagrams is at once a model of reading without guarantee and a series of generative experiments in the writing of aesthetic theory

SRDS Consumer Magazine Advertising Source ,1998 The Colonizing Trick David Kazanjian,2003 An illuminating look at the concepts of race nation and equality in eighteenth and nineteenth century America The idea that all men are created equal is as close to a universal tenet as exists in American history In this hard hitting book David Kazanjian interrogates this tenet exploring transformative flash points in early America when the belief in equality came into contact with seemingly contrary ideas about race and nation The Colonizing Trick depicts early America as a white settler colony in the process of becoming an empire one deeply integrated with Euro American political economy imperial ventures in North America and Africa and pan American racial formations Kazanjian traces tensions between universal equality and racial or national particularity through theoretically informed critical readings of a wide range of texts the political writings of David Walker and Maria Stewart the narratives of black mariners economic treatises the personal letters of Thomas Jefferson and Phillis Wheatley Charles Brockden Brown's fiction congressional tariff debates international treaties and popular novelettes about the U S Mexico War and the Yucatan's Caste War Kazanjian shows how emergent racial and national formations do not contradict universalist egalitarianism rather they rearticulate it making equality at once restricted formal abstract and materially embodied

The Politics of Nothing Clare Monagle, Dimitris Vardoulakis, 2013-10-31 This book questions what sovereignty looks like when it is de-ontologised when the nothingness at the heart of claims to sovereignty is unmasked and laid bare Drawing on critical thinkers in political theology such as Schmitt Agamben Nancy Blanchot Paulhan The Politics of Nothing asks what happens to the political when considered in the frame of the productive potential of the nothing The answers are framed in terms of the deep intellectual histories at our disposal for considering these fundamental questions carving out trajectories inspired by for example Peter Lombard Shakespeare and Spinoza This book offers a series of sensitive and creative reflections that suggest the possibilities offered by thinking through sovereignty via the frame of nihilism This book was originally published as a special issue of Culture Theory and Critique
