Surviving Your Doctors Richard S. Klein, 2010-01-16 On thinking the matter through it doesn't seem exaggerated to assert that my coming out of the sexual closet my desire to assume and assert my homosexuality coincided within my personal trajectory with my shutting myself up inside what I might call a class closet from Returning to Reims After his father dies Didier Eribon returns to his hometown of Reims and rediscovers the working class world he had left behind thirty years earlier For years Eribon had thought of his father largely in terms of the latter's intolerable homophobia Yet his father's death provokes new reflection on Eribon's part about how multiple processes of domination intersect in a given life and in a given culture Eribon sets out to investigate his past the history of his family and the trajectory of his own life His story weaves together a set of remarkable reflections on the class system in France on the role of the educational system in class identity on the way both class and sexual identities are formed and on the recent history of French politics including the shifting voting patterns of the working classes reflected by Eribon's own family which changed its allegiance from the Communist Party to the National Front Returning to Reims is a remarkable book of sociological inquiry and critical theory of interest to anyone concerned with the direction of leftist politics in the contemporary world and to anyone who has ever experienced how sexual identity can clash with other parts of one's identity A huge success in France since its initial publication in 2009 Returning to Reims received enthusiastic reviews in Le Monde Libération L'Express Les Inrockuptibles and elsewhere

A Thousand Moments of Solitude Federico Sanchez, 2006-04-10 On November 12 2002 at the age of twenty two my son Mitchell committed suicide His sudden and unexpected death sent me reeling down a path I needed to travel if I ever wanted to escape the forest of grief and loss in which I found myself This book recounts my journey to come to terms with the death of my son The path I started down to fulfill a promise I had made to my son while he was alive to find answers to the mental problems he suffered took me places I had not anticipated The path became a network of four intersecting paths and my journey took me far beyond the death of a son to the human condition where we are governed by forces both internal and external over which we have little control and little understanding

Intricately connected the four paths explored in this book are 1 the autobiographical the story of my life with my son Mitchell as we struggled with the mental problems that eventually led to his suicide 2 the diagnostic the various diagnostic tools available to psychiatrists which illustrate the level of knowledge in the field and show some of the failings of our present approach to mental disorders 3 historical fiction narrative accounts of the lives and deaths by suicide of both historical and fictional characters including the son of Queen Isabela of Spain Meriwether Lewis Vincent Van Gogh Miguel a slave working at the Count of Valencianas silver mine La Boca del Infierno in 18th century Mexico and Michele a passenger on the Titanic By telling these stories sometimes in the first person I found a way to express my own anguish and pain something I could not do directly as well as a way to explore further my relationship with my son and my sons complexity and fullness as a person 4 scientific explanation of how the brain works a theory of how the brain works explaining in detail how mental images and thoughts are formed and travel through the nervous system how we live in a world of illusions and how mental illness can be explained in these terms These four paths are intricately connected and reinforce each other in the book The diagnostic explains in technical terms what the autobiographical recounts the autobiographical recounts events which help to explain the complexities and subtleties of human behavior within the context of how the brain works the historical fiction ties into the autobiographical elements and the diagnostic The book also confronts the issue of suicide itself It answers that elusive question Why do people commit suicide The book presents a personal honest biographical testimonial of the experience of the suicide of a son The book speaks from experience not some abstract philosophical point of view The organization and contents of the book are unique a weaving together of four distinct yet related subjects the suicide of a son the classification of mental illnesses narratives of historical fiction and a theory of how the brain works The most outstanding feature of this book is that it presents for the first time to my knowledge a comprehensive theory of the brain that explains mental disorders such as dementia delirium depression manic depression and schizophrenia For the first time suicide is placed in a scientific context and why and how it happens is explained In particular the brain theory here is presented in a simplified form accessible to most particularly because of the anecdotes and stories that help illustrate how the brain functions and malfunctions The book also deals with other related subjects the importance of love in our lives the possibilities of past lives how to deal with grief and loss the possible reasons for the rise of suicide rates in industrialized nations the failures of the system to cure and prevent suicide and other mental disorders and possible directions that therapies and medications might explore in the future The writing is forceful

Knights of the Red Cross Brian Massatt, 2000-08 book description George Adams nervously responds to his first basement fire The heat is more intense than he d expected George abandons Lt Donovan when his cross threaded air hose comes loose Donovan fights the fire alone and George hates himself for making another mistake He fears he might not have what it takes to be a firefighter Don French is a 48 year old volunteer firefighter that is burning out He would love to be a firefighter full time but can't afford to leave his job with the phone company He has pursued the American Dream and now feels trapped by it His nightmares are interrupted by calls He responds to car accidents and a SIDS baby These calls add even more stress to his life Lt Donovan is the full timer that tries to keep them all going A fire grows throughout the novel The fire wants to be worshipped It chases a man and his baby through their home George must attack this fire and save the family trapped inside New York Magazine, 1984-10-08 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine's consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea Wild Science Janine Marchessault, Kim Sawchuk, 2013-10-18 Wild Science investigates the world wide boom in health culture While self help health books and medical dramas are popular around the globe we are bombarded with daily media images of DNA research and news reports about cloning the fight against AIDS cancer and depression With popular culture now the principal means through which the non scientific population encounters science why do certain images of science get promoted above others Contributors examine the public meanings of science revealing the frictions and contradictions within popular representations of what medicine can and should do Focusing on the visual culture of medicine they show how representations of science have a direct impact on popular perceptions of the limits of science and ultimately on health education funding and research and examine the belief that media literacy in popular representations of medicine makes an ethical public discourse on the aims of science possible With sections addressing the new visual technologies which make the human body into a virtual territory the diagnostic and medical practices centered around women's bodies and popular debates around genetics and identity Wild Science argues that science is a practice bound in values and institutions and argues for a responsible engagement with the public cultures of science and health Harper's Weekly John Bonner, George William Curtis, Henry Mills Alden, Samuel Stillman Conant, Montgomery Schuyler, John Foord, Richard Harding Davis, Carl Schurz, Henry Loomis Nelson, John Kendrick Bangs, George Brinton McClellan Harvey, Norman Hapgood, 1866
