Erasure A Novel:

Erasure Percival Everett, 2011-10-25 Percival Everett's blistering satire about race and publishing now adapted for the screen as the Academy Award winning AMERICAN FICTION directed by Cord Jefferson and starring Jeffrey Wright. Thelonious Monk Ellison's writing career has bottomed out; his latest manuscript has been rejected by seventeen publishers, which stings all the more because his previous novels have been critically acclaimed. He seethes on the sidelines of the literary establishment as he watches the meteoric success of We's Lives in Da Ghetto, a first novel by a woman who once visited some relatives in Harlem for a couple of days. Meanwhile, Monk struggles with real family tragedies: his aged mother is fast succumbing to Alzheimer's, and he still grapples with the reverberations of his father's suicide seven years before. In his rage and despair, Monk dashes off a novel meant to be an indictment of Juanita Mae Jenkins's bestseller. He doesn't intend for My Pafology to be published, let alone taken seriously, but it is under the pseudonym Stagg R. Leigh, and soon it becomes the Next Big Thing. How Monk deals with the personal and professional fallout galvanizes this audacious, hysterical and quietly devastating novel.

Erasure Percival Everett, 2021-09-30 20 in the New York Times 100 Best Books of the 21st Century. Adapted into the Oscar-nominated major motion picture American Fiction. By the twice Booker Prize shortlisted author of The Trees and James Truly, brilliant Los Angeles Review of Books A classic. The Times: A remarkable novel. Wall Street Journal: Sublime, brilliant, uproarious. A wise novel about how we live. Brandon Taylor: With your book sales at an all-time low, your family falling apart, and your agent telling you you're not black enough, what's an author to do? Thelonious Monk Ellison has the answer. Or does he? Winner of the Hurston Wright Legacy Award for Fiction. One of the most original and forceful novels to have emerged from America in years. TLS: A furious whirl of a book. It made me howl with laughter and rage and sorrow and affinity. Lisa McInerney: Seminal doesn't even come close. This novel is Everett at his finest, full of trademark protest, humanity and incisive humour, all wrapped up in one hell of a story. Courtney Newland: Hilarious. Everett is a first-rate word wrangler. Nicholas Lezard: Guardian.

Erasure Percival Everett, 2006-04 With sales at an all-time low, your family falling apart, and your agent telling you you're not black enough, what's an author to do? But write a ghetto novel and call it FCK. At once a savage satire on contemporary American culture and a profoundly moving story of family turmoil, Erasure marked the UK debut of a unique American voice and was rightly hailed as one of the most startling novels of recent times. Hybrid Novels

George Kowalik, 2025-10-03 The phrase post-postmodernism has appeared in Contemporary Literary Studies since the 20th century, but what does it mean? Scholars have defined the term in various, often contradictory ways. Existing studies also rarely centralise race as an essential component in the transition from postmodern irony to post-postmodern sincerity. Hybrid Novels analyses post-postmodernism's only consistency and certainty: hybridity. This speaks for a broader social issue concerning the ethics of categorisation and the conflicting labels imposed on subjectivity. Hybrid Novels considers landmark American and British novels by Percival Everett, Jonathan Franzen, Zadie Smith, and David Foster Wallace, published from 1996 to 2001. It positions these authors at the centre of the post postmodernism debate together for the first time This book suggests that 2010s autofiction further develops post postmodern tensions of irony and sincerity at the turn of the 21st century Major American Canadian novels by Sheila Heti Ben Lerner Teju Cole and Tao Lin are discussed published from 2010 to 2013

Jean Rhys Juliana Lopoukhine, Frédéric Regard, Kerry-Jane Wallart, 2023-05-29 Jean Rhys position upon the literary map of the 20th century remains unstable even after Wide Sargasso Sea 1966 She shunned public exposure and yet desperately sought acknowledgement by her own peers she stood away from the modernist circles of Montparnasse in Paris and yet explored a radically avant garde writing which retrospectively makes her rank among them while her always problematic authority places her in the marginalized position of the postcolonial author Writing precariously in the case of Jean Rhys reaches far beyond a mere posture of submission or a necessity to cope with a lack of money or a room of one s own Rather it becomes an ethical and political stance that engages with forms of minimal resistance to forms of subjection just as the very precariousness of her writing thwarts any efforts to place her or her work to frame her characters or label her style With Jean Rhys precariousness is the site where voices silenced and bodies dismissed by a gendered or imperialistic power may be retrieved until their vulnerability becomes a dislodging force that makes the power structures precarious in turn This book reassesses the precariousness of Jean Rhys as a distinct positionality eliciting an isolated voice which insists and persists It was originally published as a special issue of the journal Women A Cultural Review

Novel Competition Evan Brier, 2024-04-16 Novel Competition describes the literary and institutional struggle to make American novels matter between 1965 and 1999 As corporations took over the book business Hollywood movies popular music and other forms of mass produced culture competed with novels as never before for a form of prestige that had mostly been attached to novels in previous decades In the context of this competition developments like the emergence of Rolling Stone magazine regional publishers Black studies programs and New Hollywood became key events in the life of the American novel Novels by Truman Capote Ann Beattie Toni Cade Bambara Cynthia Ozick and Larry McMurtry among many others are recast as prescient reports on and formal responses to a world suddenly less hospitable to old claims about the novel s value This book brings to light the story of the novel s perceived decline and the surprising ways American fiction transformed in its wake

The Complicit Text Ivan Stacy, 2020-12-10 The Complicit Text Failures of Witnessing in Postwar Fiction identifies the causes of complicity in the face of unfolding atrocities by examining the works of Albert Camus Milan Kundera Kazuo Ishiguro W G Sebald Thomas Pynchon and Margaret Atwood Ivan Stacy argues that complicity often stems from narrative failures to bear witness to wrongdoing However literary fiction he contends can at once embody and examine forms of complicity on three different levels as a theme within literary texts as a narrative form and also as it implicates readers themselves through empathetic engagement with the text Furthermore Stacy questions what forms of non complicit action are possible and explores the potential for productive forms of compromise Stacy discusses both individual dilemmas of complicity in the shadow of World War II and collective complicity in the context of contemporary concerns such as the hegemony of neoliberalism and the climate emergency

Race in Young Adult Speculative Fiction offers a sustained analysis of race and representation in young adult speculative fiction YASF The collection considers how characters of color are represented in YASF how they contribute to and participate in speculative worlds how race affects or influences the structures of speculative worlds and how race and racial ideologies are implicated in YASF This collection also examines how race and racism are discussed in YASF or if indeed race and racism are discussed at all Essays explore such notable and popular works as the Divergent series The Red Queen The Lunar Chronicles and the Infernal Devices trilogy They consider the effects of colorblind ideology and postracialism on YASF a genre that is often seen as progressive in its representation of adolescent protagonists Simply put colorblindness silences those who believe and whose experiences demonstrate that race and racism do continue to matter In examining how some YASF texts normalize many of our social structures and hierarchies this collection examines how race and racism are represented in the genre and considers how hierarchies of race are reinscribed in some texts and transgressed in others Contributors point toward the potential of YASF to address and interrogate racial inequities in the contemporary West and beyond They critique texts that fall short of this possibility and they articulate ways in which readers and critics alike might nonetheless locate diversity within narratives This is a collection troubled by the lingering emphasis on colorblindness in YASF but it is also the work of scholars who love the genre and celebrate its progress toward inclusivity and who further see in it an enduring future for intersectional identity
