Erich Mendelsohn Complete Works:

Erich Mendelsohn Erich Mendelsohn, Bruno Zevi, 1985 Erich Mendelsohn Erich Mendelsohn, 1992 Erich Mendelsohn the most well known of the Expressionist architects first published this book his Complete Works in 1930 the title is something of a misnomer as it does not include his later less successful work It encompasses his wartime sketches some of them no larger than a postage stamp the seminal Einstein Observatory and his splendid commercial work of the 1920s and 30s including factories office buildings theaters housing and department stores Over 50 projects are shown through period photographs including interiors sketches drawings and models Reproduced here in full are all of the sketches Mendelsohn made when he was a soldier on the Russian front during the First World War fine examples of his early work and some of the most intensely personal drawings to come out of his period Also included is the first English translation of two lectures Mendelsohn delivered on his own unique vision of architecture and society The Break with the Past Deborah Ascher Barnstone, 2017-08-15 Between 1918 and 1933 the German interwar avant garde was a primary force driving European cultural innovation and modernism These innovations continue to influence artistic practice theory and arts education today thus making a comprehensive study of the relationship between individual war experience and the immediate response of avant garde architects after the war all the more important The Break with the Past pursues several important interrelated questions What were the disparate war experiences of German architects and did they have different effects on Weimar cultural production Did political orientation play a part in support for the war In aesthetic choices What changes occurred in avant garde architectural practice after 1918 How do they compare with pre war positions and practices and expectations for post war outcomes In order to address these questions the book uses individual case studies of four leading architects Bruno Taut Walter Gropius Erich Mendelsohn and Hans Scharoun This is a valuable resource for academics and students in the areas of Art and Architecture History German history and Cultural Studies European Culture and Modernism The Architecture of Modern American Synagogues, 1950s-1960s Anat Geva, 2023-12-14 In the aftermath of World War II the United States experienced a rapid expansion of church and synagogue construction as part of a larger religious boom The synagogues built in that era illustrate how their designs pushed the envelope in aesthetics and construction The design of the synagogues departed from traditional concepts embraced modernism and innovations in building technology and evolved beyond the formal rational style of early 1950s modern architecture to more of an expressionistic design The latter resulted in abstraction of architectural forms and details and the inclusion of Jewish art in the new synagogues The Architecture of Modern American Synagogues 1950s 1960s introduces an architectural analysis of selected modern American synagogues and reveals how they express American Jewry's resilience in continuing their physical and spiritual identity while embracing modernism American values and landscape In addition the book contributes to the discourse on preserving the recent past e g mid 20th century architecture While most of the investigations on that topic deal with the brick mortar challenges this book introduces preservation issues as a function of changes in demographics in faith rituals in building codes and in energy conservation As an introduction or a reexamination The Architecture of Modern American Synagogues 1950s 1960s offers a fresh perspective on an important moment in American Jewish society and culture as reflected in their houses of worship and adds to the literature on modern American sacred architecture The book may appeal to Jewish congregations architects preservationists scholars and students in fields of studies such as architectural design sacred architecture American modern architecture and building technology Post WWII religious and Jewish studies and preservation and conservation

Constructing a Sense of Place Haim Yacobi, 2017-05-15 While it is widely recognized that architects and their architecture play a key role in constructing a sense of place the inherent nexus between an architectural ideology and the production of national space and place has so far been neglected Focusing on the Zionist ideology this book brings together practising architects and academics to critically examine the role of architects architecture and spatial practices as mediators between national ideology and the politicization of space The book first of all sets out the wider context of theoretical debates concerning the role of architecture in the process of constructing a sense of place then divides into six main sections The book not only provides an innovative new perspective on how the Israeli state had developed but also sheds light on how architecture shapes national identity in any post colonial and settler state

The Other Modern Movement Kenneth Frampton, 2022-01-25 A revealing new look at modernist architecture emphasizing its diversity complexity and broad inventiveness Usually associated with Mies and Le Corbusier the Modern Movement was instrumental in advancing new technologies of construction in architecture including the use of glass steel and reinforced concrete Renowned historian Kenneth Frampton offers a bold look at this crucial period focusing on architects less commonly associated with the movement in order to reveal the breadth and complexity of architectural modernism The Other Modern Movement profiles nineteen architects each of whom consciously contributed to the evolution of a new architectural typology through a key work realized between 1922 and 1962 Frampton's account offers new insights into iconic buildings like Eileen Gray's E 1027 House in France and Richard Neutra's Kaufmann House in Palm Springs California as well as lesser known works such as Antonin Raymond's Tokyo Golf Club and Alejandro de la Sota's Maravillas School Gymnasium in Madrid Foregrounding the ways that these diverse projects employed progressive models advanced new methods in construction techniques and displayed a new sociocultural awareness Frampton shines a light on the rich legacy of the Modern Movement and the enduring potential of the unfinished modernist project Modern Architectural Theory Harry Francis

Mallgrave, 2009-07-13 Modern Architectural Theory is the first book to provide a comprehensive survey of architectural theory primarily in Europe and the United States during three centuries of development In this synthetic overview Harry Mallgrave examines architectural discourse within its social and political context He explores the philosophical and conceptual evolution of its ideas discusses the relation of theory to the practice of building and most importantly considers the words of the architects themselves as they contentiously shaped Western architecture He also examines the compelling currents of French rationalist and British empiricist thought radical reformation of the theory during the Enlightenment the intellectual ambitions and historicist debates of the nineteenth century and the distinctive varieties of modern theory in the twentieth century up to the profound social upheaval of the 1960s Modern Architectural Theory challenges many assumptions about architectural modernism and uncovers many new dimensions of the debates about modernism The Architecture of Red Vienna, 1919-1934 Eve Blau, 1999 Encyclopedic in its coverage this seminal work focuses on the architecture of Prague from the turn of the century to the end of the Second World War a rich matrix within which to place the figures who created the powerful innovative spirits of modern Czech architecture The book documents the architects' structures and theoretical underpinnings that helped to shape Prague's cultural heritage and present day artistic spirit

Modern Architecture and the Sacred Ross Anderson, Maximilian Sternberg, 2020-11-26 This edited volume Modern Architecture and the Sacred presents a timely reappraisal of the manifold engagements that modern architecture has had with the sacred It comprises fourteen individual chapters arranged in three thematic sections Beginnings and Transformations of the Modern Sacred Buildings for Modern Worship and Semi Sacred Settings in the Cultural Topography of Modernity The first interprets the intellectual and artistic roots of modern ideas of the sacred in the post Enlightenment period and tracks the transformation of these in architecture over time The second studies the ways in which organized religion responded to the challenges of the new modern self understanding and then the third investigates the ways that

abstract modern notions of the sacred have been embodied in the ersatz sacred contexts of theatres galleries memorials and museums While centring on Western architecture during the decisive period of the first half of the 20th century a time that takes in the early musings on spirituality by some of the avant garde in defiance of Sachlichkeit and the machine aesthetic the volume also considers the many varied appropriations of sacrality that architects have made up to the present day and also in social and cultural contexts beyond the West Owen Williams David Yeomans, David Cottam, 2001 Be honest first and if you are honest you will be beautiful but do not attempt to be beautiful and dishonest Sir Owen Williams Sir Owen Williams influence on architecture of the first half of the twentieth century stemmed from a demonstration of what a functionalist approach to architecture could achieve Blurring the roles of engineer and architect during the period between the wars Williams produced a series of innovative reinforced concrete buildings whose aesthetic treatment depended upon an expression of their structures Suspending Modernity: The Architecture of Franco Albini Kay Bea Jones, 2016-04-01 Franco Albini's works of architecture and design produced between 1930 and 1977 have enjoyed a recent revival but to date have received only sporadic scholarly attention from historians and critics of the Modern Movement A chorus of Italian voices has sung his praises none more eloquently than his protégé Renzo Piano Kay Bea Jones illuminating study of selected works by Studio Albini will reintroduce his contributions to one of the most productive periods in Italian design Albini emerged from the ideology of Rationalism to produce some of Italy's most coherent and poetic examples of modern design He collaborated for over 25 years with Franca Helg and at a time when professional male female partnerships were virtually unknown His museums and installation motifs changed the way Italians displayed historic artifacts He composed novel suspension structures for dwellings shops galleries and his signature INA pavilions where levity and gravity became symbolic devices for connoting his subjects Albini clarified the vital role of tradition in modern architecture as he experimented with domestic space His cohort defied CIAM ideologies to re-socialize postwar housing and speculate on ways of reviving Italian cities He explored new fabrication technologies from the scale of furniture to wide span steel structures yet he never abandoned the rigors of craft and detail in favor of mass production Suspending Modernity follows the evolution of Albini's most important buildings and projects even as they reveal his apprehensive attitudes about the modern condition Jones argues here that Albini's masterful use of materials and architectural expression mark an epic paradigm shift in the modern period

Proceedings of the ACSA Annual Meeting Association of Collegiate Schools of Architecture, 1999 Modernism as Memory Kathleen James-Chakraborty, 2018-01-15 After World War II West Germans and West Berliners found ways of communicating both their recent sufferings and aspirations for stable communities through buildings that fused the ruins of historicist structures with new constructions rooted in the modernism of the 1910s and 20s As Modernism as Memory illustrates these postwar practices undergird the approaches later taken in influential structures created or renovated in Berlin following the fall of the Wall including the Jewish Museum and the Reichstag the New Museum and the Topography of Terror While others have characterized contemporary Berlin's museums and memorials as postmodern Kathleen James Chakraborty argues that these environments are examples of an architecture of modern memory that is much older more complex and historically contingent She reveals that churches and museums repaired and designed before 1989 in Dren Hanover Munich Neuges Pforzheim Stuttgart and Weil am Rhein contributed to a modernist precedent for the relationship between German identity and the past developed since then in the Ruhr region and in Berlin Modernism as Memory demonstrates that how one remembers can be detached from what one remembers contrasting ruins with recollections of modernism to commemorate German suffering the Holocaust and the industrial revolution as well as new spaces for Islam in the country
