Fictions of Dementia Susanne Katharina Christ, 2022-09-20 Taking its cues from both classical and post classical narratologies this study explores both forms and functions of the representation of dementia in Anglophone fictions. Initially dementia is conceptualised as a narrative epistemological paradox. The more those affected know what it is like to have dementia, the less they can tell about it. Narrative fiction is the only discourse that provides an imaginative glimpse at the subjective experience of dementia in language. The narratological modelling of four narrative modes elaborates how the paradox becomes productive in fiction. Depending on the narrative perspective taken but also on the type of narration, the technique for representing consciousness and the epistemic strategy of narrating dementia, the respective narrative modes come with different prerequisites and possibilities for narrating dementia. The analysis of four contemporary Anglophone dementia fictions based on the developed model reveals their potential functions. Fiction allows readers to learn about the challenges of dementia, grants them perspective, taking it trains cognitive flexibility and explores the meaning of memory, knowledge, narrative and imagination and thus also offers trajectories of a cultural coping with dementia.

Memory and Latency in Contemporary Anglophone Literature Yvonne Liebermann, 2023-06-06 Up until fairly recently memory used to be mainly considered within the frames of the nation and related mechanisms of group identity. Building on mechanisms of inclusion and exclusion, this form of memory focused on the event as a central category of meaning making. Taking its cue from a number of Anglophone novels, this book examines the indeterminate traces of memories in literary texts that are not overtly concerned with memory but still latently informed by the past. More concretely, it analyzes novels that do not directly address memories and do not focus on the event as a central meaning making category. Relegating memory to the realm of the latent, that is, the not directly graspable dimensions of a text, the novels that this book analyses withdraw from overt memory discourses and create new ways of remembering that refigure the temporal tripartite of past, present and future and negotiate what is memorable in the first place. Combining the analysis of the novels' overall structure with close readings of selected passages, this book links latency as a mode of memory with the productive agency of formal literary devices that work both on the micro and macro level, activating readers to challenge their learned ways of reading for memory.

Voicing Memories, Unearthing Identities: Studies in the Twenty-First-Century Literatures of Eastern and East-Central Europe Aleksandra Konarzewska, Anna Nakai, 2023-09-12 In the region known as Eastern and East Central Europe, the framework provided by memory studies became highly valuable for understanding the overload of interpretations and conflicting perspectives on events during the twentieth century. The trauma of two world wars, the development of collective consciousness according to national and ethnic categories, stories of the trampled lands and lives of people and resistance to the rule of authoritarian and totalitarian terrors: these trajectories left complex layers of identities to unfold. The following volume addresses the issue of identity as a pivot in studies of memory and literature. In this context, it addresses the question of cultural negotiation as it took shape between memory and literature history and literature and memory and history with the help of contemporary authors and their works The authors take the literature of countries such as Estonia Poland Serbia Ukraine and Russia as the point of departure and explain its significance in terms of geographical theoretical and thematic perspectives

Arabs and Iranians in the Islamic Conquest Narrative Scott Savran, 2017-09-08

Arabs and Iranians in the Islamic Conquest Narrative analyzes how early Muslim historians merged the pre Islamic histories of the Arab and Iranian peoples into a didactic narrative culminating with the Arab conquest of Iran This book provides an in depth examination of Islamic historical accounts of the encounters between representatives of these two peoples that took place in the centuries prior to the coming of Islam By doing this it uncovers anachronistic projections of dynamic identity and political discourses within the contemporaneous Islamic world It shows how the formulaic placement of such embellishment within the context of the narrative served to justify the Arabs rise to power whilst also explaining the fall of the Iranian Sasanian empire The objective of this book is not simply to mine Islamic historical chronicles for the factual data they contain about the pre Islamic period but rather to understand how the authors of these works thought about this era By investigating the intersection between early Islamic memory identity construction and power discourses this book will benefit researchers and students of Islamic history and literature and Middle Eastern Studies

Travelling Concepts for the Study of Culture Birgit Neumann, Ansgar Nnning, 2012-10-01 Bringing together innovative and internationally renowned experts this volume provides concise presentations of the main concepts and cutting edge research fields in the study of culture rather than the infinite multitude of possible themes More specifically the volume outlines different models for the study of culture explores avenues for interdisciplinary exchange assesses key concepts and traces their travels across various disciplinary historical and national contexts To trace the travelling of concepts means to map both their transfer from one discipline approach or culture of research to another and also to identify the transformations which emerge through these processes of transfer The volume serves to show that working with travelling concepts provides a unique strategy for research and research design which can open up a wide range of promising perspectives for interdisciplinary exchange It offers an exemplary overview of an interdisciplinary and international approach to the travelling concepts that organize structure and shape the study of culture In doing so the volume serves to initiate a dialogue that exceeds disciplinary and national boundaries and introduces a self reflexive dimension to the field thus affording a recognition of how deeply disciplinary premises and nation specific research traditions affect different approaches in the study of culture

Erinnerung und Identitt Christina Lammer, 2020-07-30 Erinnerung und Identitt gelten als zentrale Themen der Kurzgeschichten und Romane von Doeschka Meijsing 1947 2012 doch deren literarische Inszenierungen wurden bislang kaum untersucht Christina Lammer zeichnet die beiden Aspekte als zentrale

Themenkomplexe systematisch nach und bietet neben einer Einführung in das Gesamtwerk auch neue Sichtweisen auf die Hauptwerke der Autorin. So macht sie ersichtlich, wie die untersuchte Prosa anspielungsreich sinnstiftende Prozesse von Erinnerungskonstruktionen hinterfragt und dabei die Bedeutung intersektionaler Biographien literarischer Figuren als Resultate struktureller Diskriminierungen und Privilegierungen inszeniert.

Cultural Memory Studies Astrid Erll, Ansgar Nünning, Sara B. Young, 2008. This handbook represents the interdisciplinary and international field of cultural memory studies for the first time in one volume. Articles by renowned international scholars offer readers a unique overview of the key concepts of cultural memory studies. The handbook not only documents current research in an unprecedented way; it also serves as a forum for bringing together approaches from areas as varied as sociology, political sciences, history, theology, literary studies, media studies, philosophy, psychology, and neurosciences. Cultural memory studies, as defined in this handbook, came into being at the beginning of the 20th century with the works of Maurice Halbwachs on mémoire collective. In the course of the last two decades, this area of research has witnessed a veritable boom in various countries and disciplines. As a consequence, the study of the relation of culture and memory has diversified into a wide range of approaches. This handbook is based on a broad understanding of cultural memory as the interplay of present and past in sociocultural contexts. It presents concepts for the study of individual remembering in a social context, group and family memory, national memory, the various media of memory, and finally the host of emerging transnational lieux de mémoire, such as 9/11.

Erinnerungen einer ungewünschten Generation Sophie Hubbe, 2025-08-11. Nach dem Zweiten Weltkrieg wurden in Deutschland Hunderttausende Kinder von alliierten Soldaten und einheimischen Frauen geboren aus Liebesbeziehungen, kurzen Affären, Versorgungspartnerschaften oder Vergewaltigungen. Diese Besatzungskinder wurden oft stigmatisiert, unehelich geboren, als Nachwuchs des Feindes betrachtet und meist ohne leiblichen Vater aufwachsend. Erlebten sie familiäre Konflikte, Schuldzuweisungen und Ausgrenzung? Viele suchen bis heute nach ihren Vätern und familiären Wurzeln, oft unterstützt von Vereinen und Selbsthilfegruppen. Auch ihre Kinder, die Besatzungsenkelkinder, sind in diese Suche einbezogen. Sophie Hubbe untersucht, wie Erinnerungen und Narrative in den Familien weitergegeben werden und welche Bedeutung der alliierte Vater und Großvater für die Familien im Heute noch spielen.

After World War II, hundred thousands of children were born to Allied soldiers and German women resulting from romantic relationships, brief affairs, or acts of sexual violence. These occupation children faced stigmatization due to their birth outside the wedlock, their perception as the offspring of the enemy, and their absent biological fathers. These circumstances frequently resulted in experiences of familial conflict, blame, and social exclusion. Until today, many of them search for their fathers and familial roots, often supported by associations and self-help groups. The occupation grandchildren are also involved in this search. Sophie Hubbe examines the manner in which memories and narratives are transmitted within the families and the significance of the Allied grandfather.

Memoria colectiva y culturas del recuerdo Universidad de los Andes, 2017-11-07. Memoria es una categoría central en la investigación en ciencias culturales y es también un tema principal en el arte y en el discurso político social. El libro da una visión panorámica de los estudios de la memoria en diferentes disciplinas y en el ámbito internacional. Presenta de forma sistemática y detallada orientaciones destacadas, precisa las particularidades de los autores más reconocidos, ofrece categorías de análisis e incluye una amplia bibliografía. Los siete capítulos del libro introducen sendas perspectivas sobre el uso y los aportes de varias categorías y orientaciones teóricas sobre la memoria colectiva e individual, el recuerdo así como las relaciones interdisciplinarias que se han tejido entre las aproximaciones a este campo.
