Kulu-Glasgow, Monika Smit, Ibrahim Sirkeci, 2019-04-19 Unaccompanied Children From Migration to Integration Edited by I k Kulu Glasgow Monika Smit and Ibrahim Sirkeci Published 19 April 2019 Paperback ISBN 978 1 912997 14 5 The statistics show that children move in great numbers and many do so alone While some of the reasons which motivate them to undertake such journeys alone are similar to those of adults e g wars pursuing aspirations for better social and economic opportunities ethnic violence cultural differences examples of others migrating others are more specific to children such as forced child marriages lack of educational opportunities forced conscription or being sent ahead to realize family reunification in another country Similar to adult companions they suffer and react to democratic deficit and developmental economic deficit and yet they may become more vulnerable in their flight Reaching their destination often does not mean they are then less vulnerable either They are faced with specific challenges of integration on economic social and cultural dimensions and in many cases also face burdens of the reunification of their family Yet there is little attention paid to unaccompanied minors in the literature on forced migration This was an important reason to initiate this book This book largely focuses on unaccompanied minors who arrived in a European country in 2015 with special attention paid to the top three nationalities of unaccompanied minors namely Syrian Afghan and Eritrean minors

Multicultural Matters Karen Pearce, 2002 Inhabiting Borders, Routes Home Ala Sirriyeh, 2016-05-23 In recent years there has been growing interest in the experiences of young people seeking asylum in Europe While the significance of the role of age is recognized both youth transitions and trajectories beyond the age of eighteen are still largely unexplored the role and impact of mobility predominantly centering on experiences of movement from country of origin to country of settlement Inhabiting Borders Routes Home contends that in considering migration and settlement experiences of young refugees it is also important to consider the role of their mobility through age and transitions in the country of settlement Based on narrative research with young refugees this book explores how migration journeys are intertwined with life course journeys and transitions into adulthood shedding light on the manner in which gender intersects with age in experiences of migration and settlement with close attention to the processes by which home is understood and constructed Through the concept of home the book draws together and reflects on interconnections between integration in areas such as education or housing and experiences of social networks Examining experiences of the asylum process and the manner in which they are interwoven within a wider narrative of home both within and beyond Inhabiting Borders Routes Home will be of interest to social scientists working in the areas of migration asylum intersectionality and the life course

Gebremedhin, 2002 It describes how to uncover hidden values and cultures in order to stimulate new gender equitable ways of thinking This book provides technical information on gender issues that can form the basis for policy actions and development programs It also can provide hypothesis for more in depth research concerning gender issues It is evident that very little information about the lives and work of Eritrean women exists

Contesting Race and Citizenship Camilla Hawthorne, 2022-07-15 Contesting Race and Citizenship is an original study of Black politics and varieties of political mobilization in Italy Although there is extensive research on first generation immigrants and refugees who traveled from Africa to Italy there is little scholarship about the experiences of Black people who were born and raised in Italy Camilla Hawthorne focuses on the ways Italians of African descent have become entangled with processes of redefining the legal racial cultural and economic boundaries of Italy and by extension of Europe itself Contesting Race and Citizenship opens discussions of the so called migrant crisis by focusing on a generation of Black people who although born or raised in Italy have been thrust into the same racist xenophobic political climate as the immigrants and refugees who are arriving in Europe from the African continent Hawthorne traces not only mobilizations for national citizenship but also the more capacious transnational Black diasporic possibilities that emerge when activists confront the ethical and political limits of citizenship as a means for securing meaningful lasting racial justice possibilities that are based on shared critiques of the racial state and shared histories of racial capitalism and colonialism     Eritrea & Ethiopia ,2003     Library of Congress Subject Headings Library of Congress.
