Manolin a young man whom Santiago has trained since childhood has been forced by his parents to work on a luckier boat. Manolin remains dedicated to Santiago visiting his shack each night hauling his fishing gear preparing food and talking about American baseball and Santiago's favorite player Joe DiMaggio. Santiago says that tomorrow he will venture far out into the Gulf Stream north of Cuba in the Straits of Florida to fish confident that his unlucky streak is near its end. The Old Man

Islands in the Stream, Novel Ernest Hemingway, 2020-12-18 Early in 1950 Hemingway started work on a sea trilogy to consist of three sections The Sea When Youngset in Bimini The Sea When Absent set in Havana and The Sea in Being set at sea. He also wrote an unpublished story Sea Chase which his wife and editor combined with the previous stories about the islands renamed them as Islands in the Stream which was published in 1970. The first act Bimini begins with an introduction to the character of Thomas Hudson a typical Hemingway stoic male figure. Hudson is a renowned American painter who finds tranquility on the island of Bimini in the Bahamas a far cry from his usual adventurous lifestyle. Hudson's strict routine of work is interrupted when his three sons arrive for the summer and is the setting for most of the act. Also introduced in this act is the character of Roger Davis a writer one of Hudson's oldest friends. Though similar to Hudson by struggling with an unmentioned internal conflict Davis seems to act as a more dynamic and outgoing image of Hudson's character. The act ends with Hudson receiving news of the death of his two youngest children soon after they leave the island. Cuba takes place soon thereafter during the Second World War in Havana Cuba where the reader is introduced to an older and more distant Hudson who has just received news of his oldest and last son's death in the war. This second act introduces us to a more cynical and introverted Hudson who spends his days on the island drinking heavily and doing naval reconnaissance for the US military aboard Hudson's yacht converted to an auxiliary patrol boat. At Sea the final act follows Hudson and a team of irregulars aboard their boat as they track and pursue survivors of a sunken German U boat along the Jardines del Rey archipelago on the northern coast of Cuba. Hudson becomes intent on finding the fleeing Germans after he finds they massacred an entire village to cover their escape.
