Ernest Trova Ernest T. Trova, 1971 Ernest Trova Martin H. Bush, 1977 Ernest Trova has attempted to summarize man's condition in contemporary society with a popular graphic symbol called Falling Man When Trova created the figure in 1964 he focused on psychological and moral issues rather than on man's physical being One sees Trova's popular image in an unlimited number of roles and an endless assortment of emotional and intellectual attitudes There is no end to the series there is only an evolution because Trova portrays man as he sees him now As man changes his philosophy will change and so will Trova's vision of him I am not a reformer said Trova not part of any social or political group My interest is man as he is now on the verge of entering the 21st century I am concerned with how to cope with our time My interest is in the formulation of a personal philosophy a guide for my individual life style as a contemporary sculptor living in the United States The 123 illustrations in this monograph represent every aspect of the artist's work This document also includes an interview with Trova and a comprehensive bibliography of his work Ernest Trova Ernest T. Trova, 1974 Trova: the Profile Cantos Ernest T. Trova, 1973 Ernest Trova Retrospective Ernest T. Trova, 2007-04-11 Ernest Trova Ernest T. Trova, Ellen E. Post, Laumeier Sculpture Park, 1986 Newsletter Archives of American Art, 1981 Regents' Proceedings University of Michigan. Board of Regents, 1995 Proceedings of the Board of Regents University of Michigan. Board of Regents, 1995 New York Magazine , 1970-10-26 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine's consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea National Arts Guide , 1980 Hot Art, Cold War - Southern and Eastern European Writing on American Art 1945-1990 Claudia Hopkins, Iain Boyd Whyte, 2020-12-21 Hot Art Cold War Southern and Eastern European Writing on American Art 1945 1990 is one of two text anthologies that trace the reception of American art in Europe during the Cold War era through primary sources Translated into English for the first time from sixteen languages and introduced by scholarly essays the texts in this volume offer a representative selection of the diverse responses to American art in Portugal Italy Spain Greece Yugoslavia Romania Bulgaria Soviet Union including the Baltic States Czechoslovakia Poland Hungary and East Germany GDR There was no single European discourse as attitudes to American art were determined by a wide range of ideological political social cultural and artistic positions that varied considerably across the European nations This volume and its companion Hot Art Cold War Northern and Western European Writing on American Art 1945 1990 offer the reader a unique opportunity to compare how European art writers introduced and explained contemporary American art to their many and varied audiences Whilst many are fluent in one or two foreign languages few are able to read all twenty five languages represented in the two volumes These ground breaking publications significantly enrich the fields of American art studies and European art criticism

Donald Judd Interviews Donald Judd, 2019-11-12 Donald Judd Interviews presents sixty interviews with the artist over the course of four decades and is the first compilation of its kind It is the companion volume to the critically acclaimed and bestselling Donald Judd Writings This collection of interviews engages a diverse range of topics from philosophy and politics to Judd's insightful critiques of his own work and the work of others such as Mark di Suvero Edward Hopper Yayoi Kusama Barnett Newman and Jackson Pollock The opening discussion of the volume between Judd Dan Flavin and Frank Stella provides the foundation for many of the succeeding conversations focusing on the nature and material conditions of the new art developing in the 1960s The publication also gathers a substantial body of unpublished material across a range of mediums including extensive interviews with art historians Lucy R Lippard and Barbara Rose Judd's contributions in interviews panels and extemporaneous conversations are marked by his forthright manner and rigorous thinking whether in dialogue with art critics art historians or his contemporaries In one of the last interviews he observed Generally expensive art is in expensive chic circumstances it is a falsification The society is basically not interested in art And most people who are artists do that because they like the work they like to do that make art Art has an integrity of its own and a purpose of its own and it's not to serve the society That's been tried now in the Soviet Union and lots of places and it doesn't work The only role I can think of in a very general way for the artist is that they tend to shake up the society a little bit just by their existence in which case it helps undermine the general political stagnation and perhaps by providing a little freedom supports science which requires freedom If the artist isn't free you won't have any art Donald Judd Interviews is co published by Judd Foundation and David Zwirner Books The interviews expand upon the artist's thinking present in Donald Judd Writings Judd Foundation David Zwirner Books 2016
