Erotic Africa:

Frottage Keguro Macharia, 2019-11-19 Winner 2020 Alan Bray Memorial Prize given by the GL Q Caucus of the Modern Language Association A new understanding of freedom in the black diaspora grounded in the erotic In Frottage Keguro Macharia weaves together histories and theories of blackness and sexuality to generate a fundamentally new understanding of both the black diaspora and queer studies Macharia maintains that to reach this understanding we must start from the black diaspora which requires re thinking not only the historical and theoretical utility of identity categories such as gay lesbian and bisexual but also more foundational categories such as normative and non normative human and non human Simultaneously Frottage questions the heteronormative tropes through which the black diaspora has been imagined Between Frantz Fanon Ren Maran Jomo Kenyatta and Claude McKay Macharia moves through genres psychoanalysis fiction anthropology poetry as well as regional geohistories across Africa and Afro diaspora to map the centrality of sex gender desire and eroticism to black freedom struggles In lyrical meditative prose Macharia invigorates frottage as both metaphor and method with which to rethink diaspora by reading and reading against discomfort vulnerability and pleasure The Short Story in South Africa Rebecca Fasselt, Corinne Sandwith, 2022-03-24 This book considers the key critical interventions on short story writing in South Africa written in English since the year 2000 The short story genre whilst often marginalised in national literary canons has been central to the trajectory of literary history in South Africa In recent years the short story has undergone a significant renaissance with new collections and young writers making a significant impact on the contemporary literary scene and subgenres such as speculative fiction erotic fiction flash fiction and queer fiction expanding rapidly in popularity This book examines the role of the short story genre in reflecting or championing new developments in South African writing and the ways in which traditional boundaries and definitions of the short story in South Africa have been reimagined in the present Drawing together a range of critical interventions including scholarly articles interviews and personal reflective pieces the volume traces some of the aesthetic and thematic continuities and discontinuities in the genre and sheds new light on questions of literary form Finally the book considers the place of the short story in twenty first century writing and interrogates the ways in which the short story form may contribute to or recast ideas of the post apartheid or post transitional The perfect guide to contemporary short story writing in South Africa this book will be essential reading for researchers of African literature Jungle Goddess Charles Nuetzel, 2006-10-01 In the depths of the African jungle passion and terror mate Unaware that the man s popular true adventures were pure pulp fiction Bob Lake s publisher sent him on a safari into Africa When the plane crashes in an unexplored region of the jungle death lingers at every hand from savage beasts to primitive natives all determined to ravish the white invaders Originally published as Jungle Nymph and later in a somewhat altered form as Jungle Goddess here is the author s preferred text complete with new fresh material written especially for this edition African Erotica Joseph Tolédano, 2004 The profound erotic world of Africa is revealed in this book through art religion and anthropology as well as through tales from travelers who spent time in Africa including Sir Richard Burton The ancient roots of African erotica are explored revealing stories of the Queen of Sheba King Solomon and many others Also explored are the evidence and expressions of African eroticism in the cultures of various countries that were in close proximity to Africa or had commercial ties with the peoples of Africa including the Greeks Romans Arabs Indians and Persians

The Radiance of the King Camara Laye, 2011-08-16 At the beginning of this masterpiece of African literature Clarence a white man has been shipwrecked on the coast of Africa Flush with self importance he demands to see the king but the king has just left for the south of his realm Traveling through an increasingly phantasmagoric landscape in the company of a beggar and two roguish boys Clarence is gradually stripped of his pretensions until he is sold to the royal harem as a slave But in the end Clarence s bewildering journey is the occasion of a revelation as he discovers the image both shameful and beautiful of his own humanity in the alien splendor of the king Aargh! Joss Smith Westonpeglerpegler, 2011-06-01 The writing is a fascinating blend of wry contemporary social narrative a la Nick Hornby yet conveying a message about the divisive South African culture reminiscent of JM Coetzee Some of the brutally honest accounts of Joss early sexual encounters would probably shock if taken out of context but he somehow manages to make them seem wholly acceptable as he struggles to come to terms with his many desires in an Apartheid governed world

Rupert Reid Description This eccentric book is an attempt to make manic depression more widely understood given the stigmatism that it is usually associated with The illness creates a jaundiced perception of people and reality and it is probably for this reason that the characters names are changed otherwise it is a real story However there is no distinction between reality and dreams It is not a story about success victory or triumph although equally given the circumstances it is also not one of failure either It is a journey that starts in normality and ends in the opposite corner beginning with a disturbed and violent dream The book charts the experiences of Joss through Africa and Australia marriage and running a business On a few occasions the narrative fails and the author expresses his nightmares secret thoughts imagery and disbeliefs in poetry The sudden loss of control or sanity and his arrival in a mental asylum and the view from inside is both very distressing and strangely humorous It ends on a note of poignancy recalling Joss supposed recovery and his attempted assimilation back into society A fascinating and thoroughly engaging read a must for anybody who wishes to further understand the thoughts and actions of a manic depressive

About the Author Joss has been a Company Director and is now a student at the Open University Joss is a republican who does not use products that have been tested on animals prefers to buy second hand clothes from Oxfam reads the Telegraph and listens to Radio Four His experiences include seeing a UFO scratching a white rhino and a tarantula s stomach riding an ostrich and he has been in a high speed police car chase Joss has run the Comrades Marathon 89 kilometres in 7 hours 29 minutes and 59 seconds For nine years Joss was a vegetarian did not eat chocolate or drink alcohol He is a one time member of Greenpeace votes Labour is a pacifist asthmatic left hander bow legged has one kidney and suffers from manic depression Library of Congress Subject Headings Library of Congress, Library of Congress. Subject Cataloging Division, Library of Congress. Office for Subject Cataloging Policy, 2013 Library of Congress Subject Headings Library of Congress. Cataloging Policy and Support Office, 2009 Touched by Bipolar Joss Smith Wesson, 2015-10-14 I find this book a beautiful piece of retrospective writing full of sensitive insight and tender descriptions. The introduction is quite breathtaking as an anticipation of the events that will come later and is also a glimpse into the author's thoughts and especially his character. The introduction is also important in the way that it starts the question about the arrogance of society in relation to the painful misfortune of a person enduring a so-called mental illness. Society lifts its shield of indifference in order to build its precarious opulence out of the pain of the mentally ill person. I became familiar with the way that events are communicated so powerfully and particularly enjoyed witnessing the journey through the hardships and wonders of the author's adolescence in Africa. I was taken by the miracle of his description of the mysterious landscapes and places that inhabit his many memories. His work in various farms, weekends with friends, the awakening of love, his impressions of the Zulu workers and the motorbike—all early memories that have a mix of innocence and candid enthusiasm colored by tender sensuality. The episode with the girls in the bus leaves the impression of being at one with the author in being fully aware of the experience while being acutely conscious of his feelings and meanings. In another chapter I found myself dramatically touching his experiences as a schoolboy in England and the difficulties of learning and relearning the peculiarities of the culture and the feelings of vulnerability finding his place in a foreign country. The author shows a lot of courage enduring this moment in his life. Another one of my favorite chapters was the unforgettable journey across Australia as a hitchhiker. A journey colored by freedom and friendship. Everything in the book is an anticipation of the author's meeting with Belinda. All women, including Beauty, are only affinities that have led to the real essence of love. All preparations for it. It is not difficult to understand the author's good fortune at being capable of holding in his mind and dreams the power of love and to be loved by a woman. This is the heart of the book. The mix of styles and poetry is powerful. The strength of the book. Many great authors have tried these combinations. Goethe, Emerson, Flaubert, and even Shakespeare with amazing aesthetical results. The poet knows the language of the spirit. Life and death, love and sadness, loneliness are all mystical reflections which are the nourishments of the poems. All elements of the author's reality are beautifully drawn in a rhythmic space. This book travels beyond the intentions of comprehension of a medical condition. The mental pain experienced during the outbreak of depression is the material which gives birth to a reflective piece of art. Beauty comes from unexpected sources and this book is about the beauty of life Rethinking South Africa's Past Christopher J. Lee, Andrew Offenburger, 2025-03-18 This book presents key historical scholarship published in Safundi from 1999 to 2024, tracing South Africa's past through approaches of comparative history, transnational history, and visual history, in addition to addressing the importance of topics like gender, labor, and class dynamics, as well as regional historiographies. The first section of the book focuses on comparative history as a founding method for Safundi given the journal's origins in American and South African studies while also recalibrating this approach through a variety of topics cities biographies and practices of violence rather than nation states writ large Drawing upon innovative sources of evidence the second section moves beyond the comparative method to address transnational histories as a new narrative technique for storytelling and analysis Whether issues of education immigration or visiting musicians to South Africa these chapters demonstrate the importance of a post national approach for understanding the past The sections that follow fan out into other subject areas including the uses of visual history gender roles class cultures and environmental history all of which illuminate connections between South African history and other parts of the world This book will be an indispensable resource for scholars students activists and policymakers as well as those readers who are generally interested in understanding South Africa's complex history over the past several centuries

South Africa's Shakespeare and the Drama of Language and Identity Adele Seeff, 2018-07-13 This volume considers the linguistic complexities associated with Shakespeare's presence in South Africa from 1801 to early twentieth first century televisual updatings of the texts as a means of exploring individual and collective forms of identity A case study approach demonstrates how Shakespeare's texts are available for ideologically driven linguistic programs Seeff introduces the African Theatre Cape Town in 1801 multilingual site of the first recorded performance of a Shakespeare play in Southern Africa where rival amateur theatrical groups performed in turn in English Dutch German and French Chapter 3 offers three vectors of a broadening Shakespeare diaspora in English Afrikaans and Setswana in the second half of the nineteenth century Chapter 4 analyses Andr Brink's Kinkels innie Kabel a transposition of Shakespeare's The Comedy of Errors into Kaaps as a radical critique of apartheid's obsession with linguistic and ethnic purity Chapter 5 investigates John Kani's performance of Othello as a Xhosa warrior chief with access to the ancient tradition of Xhosa storytellers Shakespeare in Mzansi a televisual miniseries uses black actors vernacular languages and local settings to Africanize Macbeth and reclaim a cross cultural multilingualism An Afterword assesses the future of Shakespeare in a post rainbow decolonizing South Africa Global Sha Any reader interested in Shakespeare Studies global Shakespeare Shakespeare in performance Shakespeare and appropriation Shakespeare and language Literacy Studies race and South African cultural history will be drawn to this book

Passion and Defiance Mira Liehm, 1986-03-17 Since World War II aesthetic impulses generated in Italy have swept through every film industry in the world and in her book Mira Liehm analyses the roots in literature philosophy and contemporary Italian life which have contributed to this extraordinary vigor An introductory chapter offers a unique overview of the Italian cinema before 1942 It is followed by a full and profound discussion of neorealism in its heyday its difficult aftermath in the fifties the glorious sixties and finally by an analysis of the contemporary cinematic crisis Mira Liehm has known personally many of the leading figures in Italian cinema and her work is rich in insights into their lives and working methods This impressive scholarly work immediately outclasses all other available Italian film histories It will be essential reading for anyone seriously interested in the cinema Gaps Mac Keyes,2007-11-29 When Blake Adams enters a contest set up by a Corporate Mephistopheles who seduces others into his power schemes he realizes that his obsession with a game of solitaire called Gaps reveals a solution He travels to Baghdad Kigali Manzini down the Current River to the resort town of Branson and through the Corporate world with his sexy wife Brooksie and his trusted friend Jonathan searching for the key to unlock the confusion about family values and the meaning to life This is a novel about the search for significance and the discovery of authenticity investigating the nuances of sex abuse of political power and the contest for spiritual and social values This romance mystery offers a poetic love story reserved for mature readers Heterographies Alex Hughes,1999-12

Heterographies starts with the premise that sex and gender are fundamental components of the autobiographical writings of both sexes Renaissance Suppliants Leah Whittington,2016-06-02 Renaissance Suppliants studies supplication as a social and literary event in the long European Renaissance It argues that scenes of supplication are defining episodes in a literary tradition stretching back to Greco Roman antiquity taking us to the heart of fundamental questions of politics and religion ethics and identity sexuality and family As a perennial mode of asymmetrical communication in moments of helplessness and extreme need supplication speaks to ways that people live together despite grave inequalities It is a strategy that societies use to regulate and perpetuate themselves to negotiate conflict and to manage situations in which relationships threaten to unravel All the writers discussed here Vergil Petrarch Shakespeare and Milton find supplication indispensable for thinking about problems of antagonism difference and hierarchy bringing the aesthetic resources of supplicatory interactions to bear on their unique literary and cultural circumstances The opening chapters establish a conceptual framework for thinking about supplication as facilitating transitions between states of feeling and positions of relative status beginning with Homer and classical literature Vergil's Aeneid is paradigmatic instance in which literary and social structures of the ancient past are transformed to suit the needs of the present and supplication becomes a figure for the act of cultural translation Subsequent chapters take up different aspects of Renaissance supplicatory discourse showing how postures of humiliation and abjection are appropriated and transformed in erotic poetry drama and epic The book ends with Milton who invests gestures of self abasement with unexpected dignity Catalog of Copyright Entries. Third Series Library of Congress. Copyright Office,1976

Queer Exoticism Judith S. Kaufman,Tamara Powell,2020-06-01 Queer Exoticism Examining the Queer Exotic Within joins the growing bibliography of queer postcolonial and queer race studies The authors assembled here examine the queer tendency to visit decidedly different and unusual subjects of desire in an effort partially at least to find oneself The identity quest that is inherent in the search for the exotic often results in something quite the opposite of foreign since it forms and articulates that which is ourselves Thus experiencing the exotic becomes a path to self knowledge not unlike the work of therapy wherein the examination of elements that appear at first peculiar or unfamiliar end up opening channels to self discovery In this way the gaze outward turns inward to exhibit an inner exoticism that at times is at once always and already inner and outer These essays also focus on various questions of imperialism race exoticism along with other aspects of the exotic Going beyond Said s sense of orientalism this volume examines the otherness of oneself and the notion of desire for the Other as something different from purely an act of domination and colonization thereby refusing perceptions of ascendancy Inasmuch as they represent various geographic and cultural groups the studies lend themselves to a variety of different methodologies and analytical approaches

The Routledge Handbook of the New African

Diasporic Literature Lokangaka Losambe, Tanure Ojaide, 2024-05-16 The Routledge Handbook of the New African Diasporic Literature introduces world literature readers to the transnational multivocal writings of immigrant African authors Covering works produced in Europe North America and elsewhere in the world this book investigates three major aesthetic paradigms in African diasporic literature the Sankofan wave late 1960s early 1990s the Janusian wave 1990s 2020s and the Offshoots of the New Arrivants those born and growing up outside Africa Written by well established and emerging scholars of African and diasporic literatures from across the world the chapters in the book cover the works of well known and not so well known Anglophone Francophone and Lusophone writers from different theoretical positionalities and critical approaches pointing out the unique innovative artistic qualities of this major subgenre of African literature The focus on the diasporic consciousness of the writers and their works sets this handbook apart from others that solely emphasize migration which is more of a process than the community of settled African people involved in the dynamic acts of living reflected in diasporic writings This book will appeal to researchers and students from across the fields of Literature Diaspora Studies African Studies Migration Studies and Postcolonial Studies

Irregular Connections Andrew P.

Lyons, Harriet Lyons, 2004-12-01 Irregular Connections traces the anthropological study of sex from the eighteenth century to the present focusing primarily on social and cultural anthropology and the work done by researchers in North America and Great Britain Andrew P and Harriet D Lyons argue that the sexuality of those whom anthropologists studied has been conscripted into Western discourses about sex including debates about prostitution homosexuality divorce premarital relations and hierarchies of gender class and race Because sex is the most private of activities and often carries a high emotional charge it is peculiarly difficult to investigate At times such as the late 1920s and the last decade of the twentieth century sexuality has been a central concern of anthropologists and focal in their theoretical formulations At other times the study of sexuality has been marginalized The anthropology of sex has sometimes been one of the main faces that anthropology presented to the public often causing resentment within the discipline Andrew P Lyons is an associate professor of anthropology at Wilfrid Laurier University Harriet D Lyons is an associate professor of anthropology at the University of Waterloo
