Decolonizing the English Literary Curriculum Ato Quayson, Ankhi Mukherjee, 2023-11-09 Leading scholars illustrate the necessity and advantages of reforming the English Literary Curriculum from decolonial perspectives

Slavery, Empathy, and Pornography Marcus Wood, 2002-11-21 Slavery Empathy and Pornography considers the operations of slavery and of abolition propaganda on the thought and literature of English from the late eighteenth to the mid nineteenth centuries Incorporating materials ranging from canonical literatures to the lowest form of street publication Marcus Wood writes from the conviction that slavery was and still is a dilemma for everyone in England and seeks to explain why English society has constructed Atlantic slavery in the way it has. He takes on the works of canonic eighteenth and nineteenth century white authors which claimed when written to account for slavery and asks with some scepticism what kind of truth they hold. Taking an interdisciplinary approach, chapters focus on the writings of the major Romantic poets, English Radicals William Cobbett and John Thelwall, the Surinam writings of John Stedman, the full range of slavery texts generated by Harriet Martineau, John Newton, and the social prophets Carlyle and Ruskin. Slavery, Empathy and Pornography also contains a radical new critique of the operations of slavery within the work of Austen and Charlotte Brontë. Postscript on Insignificance Cornelius Castoriadis, 2011-02-24

Cornelius Castoriadis 1922-1997 was a philosopher, social critic, political activist, practicing psychoanalyst, and professional economist. His work is widely recognized as one of the most singular and important contributions to twentieth century thought. In this collection of interviews, Castoriadis discusses some of his most important ideas with leading figures in the disciplines that play such a crucial part in his philosophical work: poetry, psychoanalysis, biology, and mathematics. Available in English for the first time, these interviews provide a concise and accessible introduction to his work as a whole, allowing him to draw on the astounding breadth of his knowledge, ranging from political theory and sociology to ontology and the philosophy of science. They also render Castoriadis' cutting, polemical, and entertaining style while displaying the originality and clarity of his primary concepts. Intellectually provoking, this timely collection shows how Castoriadis' polemics are sharp and riveting, his conceptual manoeuvres rigorous and original, and his passion inspiring. This is an excellent introduction to one of Europe's most important intellectuals. Leap Terry Tempest Williams, 2015-03-18

With Leap, Terry Tempest Williams, award-winning author of Refuge, offers a sustained meditation on passion, faith, and creativity based upon her transcendental encounter with Hieronymus Bosch's medieval masterpiece The Garden of Delights. Williams examines this vibrant landscape with unprecedented acuity, recognizing parallels between the artist's prophetic vision and her own personal experiences as a Mormon and a naturalist. Searing in its spiritual, intellectual, and emotional courage, Williams's divine journey enables her to realize the full extent of her faith, and through her exquisite imagination, opens our eyes to the splendor of the world.

Second Takes Andrew Repasky McElhinney, 2013-09-28 Second Takes presents the history of English language cinema by focusing on cinematic remakes and on how cinema has been replaced by new forms of media. Remakes, with their innate plurality, offer the most substance for concentrated cultural analysis of how movies reflect and shape American culture. Analyzing the archetypes that recur in this culture reveals how movies are an increasingly dangerous surrogate for the actual. Close readings are presented of such works as popular favorites as Cronenberg's Crash, Disney's The Parent Trap, Ferrara's Bad Lieutenant, Hitchcock's Psycho, Kubrick's A Clockwork Orange, Lynch's Twin Peaks, the film and Welles' The Magnificent Ambersons, while unearthing pictures ripe for rediscovery such as One More Tomorrow, Strange Illusion, and Andy Warhol's Vinyl. Instructors considering this book for use in a course may request an examination copy here Latin American Fiction and the Narratives of the Perverse P. O'Connor, 2004-12-02 Latin American Fiction and the Narratives of the Perverse contains analysis of sexual perversion and narrative creativity in fictions from the Latin American boom and post boom O Connor s main argument is that orthodox criticism of Latin American literature has neglected the eccentric singularities of other fictive trends in the corpus especially in the second half of the twentieth century At the same time by examining these eccentric singularities in their relationship to mainstream trends in the Latin American corpus O Connor forces his readers to view these master narratives and major trends such as modernismo or magical realism from surprisingly new angles Five of the authors discussed Puig Lezama Lima Cortazar and Sarduy have an established place in the Latin American literary canon A fifth one Rosario Ferre may have come close to achieving that status with her earlier fictions Others Felisberto Hernandez Alicia Borinsky Cristina Peri Rossi and Silvia Molloy are less well known but they are certainly highly significant authors for scholars and students of contemporary Latin American fiction

Angela Carter and Surrealism Anna Watz, 2016-07-15 In 1972 Angela Carter translated Xavi re Gauthier s ground breaking feminist critique of the surrealist movement Surr alisme et sexualit 1971 Although the translation was never published the project at once confirmed and consolidated Carter s previous interest in surrealism representation gender and desire and aided her formulation of a new surrealist feminist aesthetic Carter s sustained engagement with surrealist aesthetics and politics as well as surrealist scholarship aptly demonstrates what is at stake for feminism at the intersection of avant garde aesthetics and the representation of women and female desire Drawing on previously unexplored archival material such as typescripts journals and letters Anna Watz s study is the first to trace the full extent to which Carter s writing was influenced by the surrealist movement and its critical heritage Watz s book is an important contribution to scholarship on Angela Carter as well as to contemporary feminist debates on surrealism and will appeal to scholars across the fields of contemporary British fiction feminism and literary and visual surrealism

Erotikon Shadi Bartsch, Thomas Bartscherer, 2006-11-15 Erotikon brings together leading contemporary intellectuals from a variety of fields for an expansive debate on the full meaning of eros Restricted neither by historical period nor by genre these contributions explore manifestations of eros throughout Western culture Ontologies of Sex Zeynep Direk, 2020-06-17

Ontologies of Sex Philosophy in Sexual Politics considers the ontological presuppositions of feminist theories of sexual difference and brings them into conversation with phenomenological ontological accounts of erotic experience Erotic relation is a corporeal intimate and affective encounter with the other in which the subjects have the possibility of being revealed to themselves and to each other in who they are In eroticism law paradoxes death abjection subjectivity sovereignty commitment engagement freedom are at stake By inquiring into various types of analyzes of sexual oppression and different accounts of ethics of Eros this book invites the reader to deepen their existential reflection on the significance of Eros for human life in general and for political subjectivity in particular Lars von Trier Beyond Depression Linda Badley, 2022-02-15

Lars von Trier built a reputation as a provocateur from the start but in the late 2000s he entered an even more inflammatory phase Amid Cannes controversies Antichrist 2009 Melancholia 2011 Nymphomaniac 2013 14 and The House That Jack Built 2018 brandished the cinematic virtuosity von Trier once banned under the Dogme 95 Manifesto while subjecting audiences to extreme cinema Following von Trier's experience of clinical depression in 2006 and 2007 these films took an aggressively personal and retrospective turn against the backdrop of the director's controversy courting public appearances Playing against widespread assumptions Linda Badley takes a reparative approach offering an in depth examination of these four films and the contexts that produced them Drawing on numerous interviews with the director and his collaborators as well as inside access to archival materials she provides a thorough and comprehensive account of von Trier's preproduction and creative process Highlighting a transmedial turn Badley tracks von Trier's artistic touchstones from Wagner Proust and the Marquis de Sade to Scandinavian erotic cinema and serial killer genre tropes She considers his portrayals of mental illness and therapy gender and sexuality nature and extinction shedding light on the thematic concerns that unite these films as a distinct cycle Offering nuanced readings of these films the book emphasizes the significance of von Trier's work for current critical and philosophical debates showing how they engage with notions of the Anthropocene dark ecology and the postcinematic The Flash Press Patricia Cline Cohen, Timothy J. Gilfoyle, Helen Lefkowitz Horowitz, American Antiquarian Society, 2008-09-15

Obscene libidinous loathsome lascivious Those were just some of the ways critics described the nineteenth century weeklies that covered and publicized New York City's extensive sexual underworld Publications like the Flash and the Whip distinguished by a captivating brew of lowbrow humor and titillating gossip about prostitutes theater denizens and sporting events were not the sort generally bound in leather for future reference and despite their popularity with an enthusiastic readership they quickly receded into almost complete obscurity Recently though two sizable collections of these papers have resurfaced and in The Flash Press three renowned scholars provide a landmark study of their significance as well as a wide selection of their ribald articles and illustrations Including short tales of urban life editorials on prostitution and moralizing rants against homosexuality these selections epitomize a distinct form of urban journalism Here in addition to providing a thorough overview of this colorful reportage its editors and its audience the authors examine nineteenth century ideas of sexuality and freedom that mixed Tom Paine s republicanism with elements of the Marquis de Sade s sexual ideology They also trace the evolution of censorship and obscenity law showing how a string of legal battles ultimately led to the demise of the flash papers editors were hauled into court sentenced to jail for criminal obscenity and libel and eventually pushed out of business But not before they forever changed the debate over public sexuality and freedom of expression in America s most important city The Double Flame Octavio Paz,1996 A collection of essays examines the themes of love and sex in literature from Plato to modern fiction Saying Peace Jack Marsh,2021-10-01 Levinas s big idea is that our lived sense of moral obligation occurs in an immediate experience of the otherness of the Other and that moral meaning is grounded in alterity rather than identity Yet he also held what seemed an inconsiderate or eurocentric view of other cultural traditions In Saying Peace Jack Marsh explores this problem testing the coherence and adequacy of Levinas s central philosophical claims Using a twofold method of reconstruction and critique Marsh conducts a holistic immanent evaluation of Levinas s major works showing how the problem of eurocentrism and abiding ambiguities in Levinas s political and religious thought can be traced back to specific problems in his general philosophical methodology Marsh offers an original analysis of Levinas s method that verifies and extends existing critical work by Jacques Derrida Robert Bernasconi Judith Butler and others This is the first book to foreground the normative question of chauvinism in Levinas s work and the first to perform a holistic critical diagnosis of his general philosophical method
