Crowning of a Poet's Quest Paola Loreto, 2009 This first extended study of Derek Walcott's Tiepolo's Hound 2000 defines the book as the culmination of the poetry and poetics of the Caribbean writer and Nobel Prize winner In this long poem Walcott achieves three goals pursued throughout his career to develop an original Caribbean aesthetic to meld the modes of poetry and prose and to formulate the Bildung of the island artist in terms of an autobiographical narrative The analysis provides an aesthetic and cultural evaluation of the poem in terms both of the Western poetic tradition to which it refers through its rich intertextuality and of its significance as a postcolonial milestone The commentary locates Walcott in an aesthetic tradition running from Emerson through the American Pragmatists to modernist poets describes his experimental use of certain central narrative strategies in his semi autobiographical long poems which is compared to those of another openly admired bilingual writer Vladimir Nabokov explores Walcott's revision of the epic mode and of the genre of autobiography delineates his unfolding of a post Romantic internalization of the poet's Arthurian quest and discusses his complex treatment of the multi layered metaphor of light as major evidence of the maturity of his style and poetics with their conscious cross fertilization between the literary cultures of Europe and the Caribbean An appendix to this study contains the transcriptions of various Walcott events that took place in Italy in the summers of 2000 and 2001 including a creative writing seminar a press conference and readings This extensive material opens a window onto Walcott's gifts as a teacher to his stringent yet passionate commitment to the art of poetry and to the ways in which he and his students grapple with the challenges of literary translation The Cambridge Companion to the Epic Catherine Bates, 2010-04-22 This Companion surveys over four thousand years of epic poetry in a series of accessible essays Ambition and Anxiety Line Henriksen, 2006 This comparative study investigates the epic lineage that can be traced back from Derek Walcott's Omeros and Ezra Pound's Cantos through Dante's Divina Commedia to the epic poems of Virgil and Homer and identifies and discusses in detail a number of recurrent key topoi A fresh definition of the concept of genre is worked out and presented based on readings of Homer The study reads Pound's and Walcott's poetics in the light of Roman Jakobson's notions of metonymy and metaphor placing their long poems at the respective opposite ends of their language poles Although there has already been an intermittent critical focus on the classical and Dantean antecedents of Walcott's poetry the present study is the first to bring together the whole range of epic intertextualities underlying Omeros and the first to read this Caribbean masterpiece in the context of Pound's achievement Book Jacket Walcott's Omeros: Revitalization of Wounded

Caribbeans Rahman Mostafiz, 2014-03-22 While writing this epic Walcott adopts and transforms elements from Pound's The Cantos Eliot's The Waste Land and Crane's The Bridge He uses pseudo Dantean verse Sapphic prosody Homeric sensibility and Virgilian methodology which does not show his inaptness of aesthetic purity of writing epic but rather shows his attempt to set a new trend in literary modernism I have defined this new trend as polyglossic epic which I will demonstrate in this book A Companion to Twentieth-Century Poetry Neil Roberts, 2008-06-09 In the twentieth century more people spoke

English and more people wrote poetry than in the whole of previous history and this Companion strives to make sense of this crowded poetical era The original contributions by leading international scholars and practising poets were written as the contributors adjusted to the idea that the possibilities of twentieth century poetry were exhausted and finite However the volume also looks forward to the poetry and readings that the new century will bring The Companion embraces the extraordinary development of poetry over the century in twenty English speaking countries a century which began with a bipolar transatlantic connection in modernism and ended with the decentred heterogeneity of post colonialism

Representation of the canonical and the marginal is therefore balanced including the full integration of women poets and feminist approaches and the in depth treatment of post colonial poets from various national traditions Discussion of context intertextualities and formal approaches illustrates the increasing self consciousness and self reflexivity of the period whilst a Readings section offers new readings of key selected texts The volume as a whole offers critical and contextual coverage of the full range of English language poetry in the last century Encyclopedia of Post-Colonial Literatures in English

Eugene Benson, L.W. Conolly, 2004-11-30 Post Colonial Literatures in English together with English Literature and American Literature form one of the three major groupings of literature in English and as such are widely studied around the world Their significance derives from the richness and variety of experience which they reflect In three volumes this Encyclopedia documents the history and development of this body of work and includes original research relating to the literatures of some 50 countries and territories In more than 1 600 entries written by more than 600 internationally recognized scholars it explores the effect of the colonial and post colonial experience on literatures in English worldwide Art and the Artist in

Society Jane Elizabeth Alberdeston, Elsa Luciano Feal, José Jiménez-Justiniano, 2013-07-16 Art and Artist in Society is a compilation of essays that examine the nexus between artists the art they create and society These essays consider how art has changed its form and role both to accommodate newer trends and to fully participate in society Divided into six thematic sections the book examines the works of a diverse group of artists working in a range of art forms such as writers Milan

Postcolonial Odysseys Maeve Tynan, 2011-05-25 Postcolonial Odysseys Derek Walcott's Voyages of Homecoming highlights the importance of the trope of voyaging in Derek Walcott's poetics primarily as it pertains to the poet's engagement with classical verse Focusing specifically on the engagement with Homeric myth and The Odyssey in particular it articulates the manner in which Walcott's postcolonial reconfigurations of epic verse both highlights the endurance of the classics as well as demonstrating how cultural practices can remake and transform ancient texts Concomitant with the poet's presentation of self as divided this study traces opposing forces in operation within this trope a centrifugal force that corresponds to the outward journey away from his island home in search of greater publishing opportunities and broader readerships and a centripetal force corresponding to the return journey or homecoming The enabling potential of Greek myth is marked by a similar to-ing and fro-ing in Walcott's verse as he repeatedly engages with and simultaneously disavows Homeric configurations Insisting on the reciprocal nature of poetic appropriation the act of rewriting also signalling new ways of rereading Walcott's appropriations effectively enter into a critical dialogue with Homeric verse Further depth to Walcott's rewriting of Homer is provided by an analysis of the mediating influence of Euro American modernism Through an examination of the postcolonial aftermath of modernism it challenges the perceived exclusivity of each illustrating this premise through case studies of Walcott's relation to both Romare Bearden and James Joyce This study is therefore interdisciplinary and inter artistic in nature transgressing the borderline between poetry and prose and that of literary and artistic disciplines Highlighting the permeability of such boundaries it investigates the journey of Odysseus as prototypical wanderer through time and space from oral to print culture from word to image

Contemporary Caribbean Writing and Deleuze Lorna Burns, 2012-07-12 Contemporary Caribbean Writing and Deleuze maps a new intellectual and literary history of postcolonial Caribbean writing and thought spanning from the 1930s surrealist movement to the present crossing the region's language blocs and focused on the interconnected principles of creativity and commemoration Exploring the work of René Glissant Wilson Harris Derek Walcott Antonio Benítez Rojo Pauline Melville Robert Antoni and Nalo Hopkinson this study reveals the explicit and implicit engagement with Deleuzian thought at work in contemporary Caribbean writing Uniting for the first time two major schools of contemporary thought postcolonialism and post continental philosophy this study establishes a new and innovative critical discourse for Caribbean studies and postcolonial theory beyond the oppositional dialectic of colonizer and colonized Drawing from Deleuze's writings on Bergson Nietzsche and Spinoza this study interrogates the postcolonial tropes of newness becoming relationality and a philosophical concept of immanence that lie at the heart of a little observed dialogue between contemporary Caribbean writers and Deleuze

Literary Drowning Stephanie Pocock Boeninger, 2020-10-23 Literary depictions of drowning or burial at sea provide fascinating glimpses into the often conflicted human relationship with memory For many cultures and religious traditions properly remembering the dead involves burial a funeral and some kind of grave marker Traditional rituals of memorialization are disturbed by the drowned body which may remain lost at sea or be washed up unrecognized on a distant shore The first book of its kind Literary Drowning explores depictions of the drowned body in twentieth century Irish and Caribbean postcolonial literature uncovering a complex transatlantic conversation that reconsiders memory forgetfulness and the role that each plays in the making of the postcolonial subject and nation Faced with fissures in cultural memory postcolonial writers often identify their situation and their nation s with that of the drowned body Floating aimlessly without a grave unmemorialized and perhaps unremembered the drowned corpse embodies the troubled memory of the postcolonial nation or individual Boeninger follows a trail of drowned bodies and literary influence from the turn of the century Irish playwright J M Synge through the poems and plays of St Lucian Nobel laureate Derek Walcott to the lesser known work of Guyanese British novelist and poet David Dabydeen and finally to the contemporary Irish plays of Marina Carr Each author while borrowing from those who came before changes the image of the drowned body to reflect different facets of the project of remembering postcolonially

Nobody's Nation Paul Breslin, 2009-02-15 Nobody's Nation offers an illuminating look at the St Lucian Nobel Prize winning writer Derek Walcott and grounds his work firmly in the context of West Indian history

Paul Breslin argues that Walcott's poems and plays are bound up with an effort to re-imagine West Indian society since its emergence from colonial rule its ill-fated attempt at political unity and its subsequent dispersal into tiny nation-states. According to Breslin, Walcott's work is centrally concerned with the West Indies' imputed absence from history and lack of cohesive national identity or cultural tradition. Walcott sees this lack not as impoverishment but as an open space for creation. In his poems and plays, West Indian history becomes a realm of necessity, something to be confronted, contested, and remade through literature. What is most vexed and inspired in Walcott's work can be traced to this quixotic struggle. Linking extensive archival research and new interviews with Walcott himself to detailed critical readings of major works, Nobody's Nation will take its place as the definitive study of the poet.
