for all healthcare practitioners caring for children Intractable Seizures W. McIntyre Burnham, Peter L. Carlen, Paul A. Hwang, 2012-12-06 About 20% of people with epilepsy have seizures which are resistant to anticonvulsant medications. These drug-resistant seizures are called intractable and the patients who have them about 1 in 500 of the general population present a major challenge to neurologists and epilepsy associations. The present volume describes the symptomatology of the major intractable syndromes, the most appropriate drugs for each and the possibilities for surgical control. Research related to the causes and effects of unchecked seizures is presented and new directions in prevention and therapy are discussed.

Nutrition and Brain J. D. Fernstrom, R. Uauy, P. Arroyo, 2001-07

This volume provides a survey of the links between nutrition and the brain. It examines many of the mechanisms by which diet and individual nutrients are known to modify brain development, biochemistry, and function, and evaluates current practices in the use of the diet for the prevention and treatment of disorders affecting brain function. It also highlights the need to consider issues related to brain function in the development and evolution of national policies for treating nutritional deficiencies and excesses. Written by leading investigators and clinicians, this publication will help practitioners, clinical investigators, and scientists appreciate the broad opportunities awaiting investigation and ultimately clinical applications in this dynamic and expanding area of investigation.
