Free Trade and Prosperity Arvind Panagariya, 2019-04-01 Arguments for protection and against free trade have seen a revival in developed countries such as the United States and Great Britain as well as developing countries such as India Given the clear benefits trade openness has brought everywhere this is a surprising development The benefits of free trade are especially great for emerging market economies Free Trade and Prosperity offers the first full scale defense of pro free trade policies with developing countries at its center Arvind Panagariya a professor at Columbia University and former top economic advisor to the government of India supplies a historically informed analysis of many longstanding but flawed arguments for protection He starts with an insightful overview of the positive case for free trade and then closely examines the various contentions of protectionists One protectionist argument is that infant industries need time to grow and become competitive and thus should be sheltered Other arguments are that emerging markets are especially prone to coordination failures they are in need of diversification of their production structures and they suffer from market imperfections The panoply of protectionist arguments including those for import substitution industrialization fails when subject to close logical and empirical scrutiny Free trade and outward oriented policies are preconditions to both sustained rapid growth and poverty alleviation in developing countries Panagariya provides compelling evidence demonstrating the failures of protectionism and the promise of free trade using detailed case studies of successful countries such as Singapore Taiwan South Korea China and India Low or declining barriers to free trade and high or rising shares of trade in total income have been key elements in the sustained rapid growth and poverty alleviation in these countries and many others Free trade is like oxygen the benefits are ubiquitous and not noticed until they are no longer there This important book is an essential reminder of the costs of protectionism Vietnam Era Veterans' Readjustment Assistance Act of 1974 United States.
