Eric Ravilious Imagined Realities:

Eric Ravilious Alan Powers, 2003-11-06 The English artist Eric Ravilious 1903-42 is now one of the most popular artists of his period. He was a painter of watercolours and murals, a book illustrator in wood engraving and lithography and a designer of transferware pottery. Eric Ravilious Imagined Realities includes illustrations of many previously unpublished paintings, including a number from private collections, as well as surveying his other artistic activities. The text draws on many letters and other documents, again previously unpublished, and is the most comprehensive account of Ravilious's career ever published. It also attempts to position Ravilious in relation to English art of his time and more recent critical and cultural issues. BOOK JACKET The Battle of Britain, 1945-1965 Garry Campion, 2015-10-06 Seventy-five years after the Battle of Britain, the Few's role in preventing invasion continues to enjoy a revered place in popular memory. The Air Ministry were central to the Battle's valorisation. This book explores both this and also the now forgotten 1940 Battle of the Barges mounted by RAF bombers. The Idea of North Peter Davidson, 2005-04-15 While a compass might tell us which direction we are going, there is really only one direction to which it ever points north. North is the ultimate point of orientation, but it is also a celebrated destination for the adventurous, the curious, the solitary and the foolhardy. In this fascinating book, updated in this accessible pocket edition, Peter Davidson explores the concept of north through its many manifestations in painting, legend and literature. Arctic bound, Davidson takes the reader on a journey from the heart of society to the most far-flung outposts of human geography, packing in our rucksacks a treasure trove of stories and artworks from the Icelandic Sagas to Nabokov's snowy kingdom of Zembla, from Hans Christian Andersen's forbidding Snow Queen to the works of artists such as Eric Ravilious, Ian Hamilton Finlay and Andy Goldsworthy. He celebrates the different ways our artists and writers have illuminated our relationship with the earth's most dangerous and austere terrain. Through Davidson's astonishing but inviting erudition, we ultimately come to see north as a permanent goal, frozen forever on a horizon we never seem to quite reach.

Unravelling Sussex Tony Ward, 2016-11-03 If you enjoy puzzle solving, you will enjoy the novel approach of Unravelling Sussex. Based on Tony Ward's Poetry series in Sussex Life, each famous Sussex person or place is introduced by a puzzle poem. The challenge is to unravel the embedded clues solved by the chapter that follows. This innovative little book brings new life to the aims to inform, educate and entertain. Romantic Moderns: English Writers, Artists and the Imagination from Virginia Woolf to John Piper Alexandra Harris, 2010-11-01 Winner of the 2010 Guardian First Book Award, a groundbreaking reassessment of English cultural life in the thirties and forties. In the 1930s and 1940s, while the battles for modern art and modern society were being fought in Paris and Spain, it seemed to some a betrayal that John Betjeman and John Piper were in love with a provincial world of old churches and tea shops. Alexandra Harris tells a different story: eclectically, passionately, wittily, urgently, English artists were exploring what it meant to be alive at that moment and in England. They showed that the modern need not be at war with the past; constructivists and conservatives could work together and even the Bauhaus migr L szl Moholy Nagy was beguiled into taking photos for Betjeman s nostalgic An Oxford University Chest A rich network of personal and cultural encounters was the backdrop for a modern English renaissance This great imaginative project was shared by writers painters gardeners architects critics and composers Piper abandoned purist abstracts to make collages on the blustery coast Virginia Woolf wrote in her last novel about a village pageant on a showery summer day Evelyn Waugh Elizabeth Bowen and the Sitwells are also part of the story along with Bill Brandt and Graham Sutherland Eric Ravilious and Cecil Beaton

Literature as History Simon Barker,Jo Gill,2011-10-27 Literature as History presents a selection of specially commissioned essays by a range of key contemporary thinkers on the interdisciplinary study of literature and history The unifying theme is the interrelationship between literary cultural production and its historical moment The essays in the collection are astute and exciting in terms of their engagement with ever changing developments in critical and theoretical practice while retaining an invaluable focus on familiar and engaging texts and authors The contributors offer a reappraisal of the nature of literary studies today looking back over the thirty five years of Peter Widdowson s career a career which has coincided with the emergence of challenges to and reformulations of critical theory and ask what the future holds particularly for the interdisciplinary ways of working which Widdowson pioneered Bringing together distinguished scholars in the interdisciplinary study of English and History it seizes the opportunity to take stock of the current field of literary studies and to ask searching questions about its future development

The Good Fight G. Campion,2016-01-08 Propaganda during the Battle of Britain contributed to high national morale and optimism with The Few s prowess and valour projected through Air Ministry communiqu s and daily claims scores The media was a willing partner in portraying their heroism also later consolidated in wartime publications films and historiography

The Impact of the Spanish Civil War on Britain Tom Buchanan,2006-11-27 Explores the relationship between Britain and the Spanish Civil War This book explains the war s legacy and longer term impact on Britain and presents a chronological progression from the Civil War to the post war Franco era It also provides a discussion of the importance of loss and memory

Spirit of Place Susan Owens, 2020-09-15 Lyrical and compelling Spirit of Place examines the British landscape as it s portrayed in literature and art English landscape painting is often said to be an eighteenth century invention yet when we look for representations of the countryside in British art and literature we find a story that begins with Old English poetry and winds its way through history all the way up to the present day In Spirit of Place Susan Owens illuminates how the British landscape has been framed reimaged and reshaped by generations of creative thinkers To offer a panoramic view of the countryside throughout history Owens dives into the work of writers and artists from Bede and the Gawain Poet to Thomas Gainsborough Jane Austen J M W Turner and John Constable and from Paul Nash and Barbara Hepworth to Robert Macfarlane Richly illustrated including manuscript pages early maps paintings film stills and photographs Spirit of Place is a compelling narrative of how we have been shown the British landscape

Broadcasting Buildings Shundana Yusaf, 2014-02-28 How the BBC shaped popular perceptions of architecture and placed them at the heart of debates over participatory democracy In the years between the world wars millions of people heard the world through a box on the dresser In Britain radio listeners relied on the British Broadcasting Corporation for information on everything from interior decoration to Hitler s rise to power One subject covered regularly on the wireless was architecture and the built environment Between 1927 and 1945 the BBC aired more than six hundred programs on this topic published a similar number of articles in its magazine The Listener and sponsored several traveling exhibitions In this book Shundana Yusaf examines the ways that broadcasting placed architecture at the heart of debates on democracy Undaunted by the challenge of talking about space and place in disembodied voices over a nonvisual medium designers and critics turned the wireless into an arena for debates about the definitions of the architect and architecture the difficulties of town and country planning after the breakup of large country estates the financing of the luxury market the expansion of local governing power and tourism Yusaf argues that while broadcast technology made a decisive break with the Victorian world these broadcasts reflected the BBC's desire to continue the legacy of Victorian institutions dedicated to the production of a cultivated polity. Under the leadership of John Reith the BBC introduced listeners to the higher pleasures of life hoping to deepen their respect for tradition, the authority of the state and national interests. These ambitions influenced the way architecture was portrayed on the air. Yusuf finds that the wireless evoked historic architecture only in travelogues and contemporary design mainly in shopping advice. The BBC's architectural programming she argues offered a paradoxical interface between the placelessness of radio and the situatedness of architecture between the mechanical or nonhumanistic impulses of technology and the humanist conception of architecture. Eric Lyons and Span Barbara Simms, 2025-04-01

Due to popular demand we are delighted to offer this new paperback edition of Eric Lyons and Span. Lavishly illustrated and deeply researched, this book celebrates the work of the architect Eric Lyons OBE 1912-1980 whose famous post-war housing that today would be marketed as lifestyle housing is as well loved today as it was vibrantly successful when first constructed. Built almost entirely for Span Developments its mission was to provide an affordable environment that gave people a lift. Influenced by Walter Gropius Lyons brought a commitment to high density housing and the idea of fostering community into his Span work without compromising his intuitive sensitivity for landscape. His success brought the practice an impressive array of awards and led to a term as President of the RIBA. The enduring success of his design philosophy can be traced forward to 2005 when Span received a special Housing Design Award given to schemes that meet the current Sustainable Communities Plan. Indeed the concept of Span mirrors current best practice thinking in housing design and continues to offer a fresh relevant challenge to volume housebuilders in Britain today. This book serves as a lively reminder of that fact. Written by distinguished historians, practitioners and Span enthusiasts the book has been researched using the archive compiled by Ivor Cunningham, one of Lyons' ex-partners while a detailed gazetteer contains scale plan drawings of many of Span's housing templates. Eric Ravilious Alan Powers, 2013

More popular than ever the work of Eric Ravilious 1903-42 is rooted in the landscape of mid-20th century England. This new survey of his work by Alan Powers, the established authority on Ravilious, is the first to provide a comprehensive overview of his art in all media: watercolour, illustration, printmaking, graphic design, textiles and ceramics, and positions Ravilious firmly as a major figure in the history of early 20th century British art. In an accessible and engaging text copiously illustrated with reproductions of work drawn from a range of sources, Alan Powers discusses the reception of Ravilious's work since his death in 1942 and the part it has played in creating an English style of the time positioned between tradition and Modernism and borrowing from naive and popular art of the past. Shadow Sites Kitty Hauser, 2007-03-29

At certain times of the day, at sunrise and sunset, the outlines of prehistoric fields, barrows and hill forts in the British landscape may be thrown into relief. Such shadow sites, best seen from above and captured by an airborne camera, are both examples of and metaphors for a particular way of seeing the landscape. At a time of rapid modernisation and urbanisation in mid-twentieth century Britain, an archaeological vision of the British landscape reassured and enchanted

a number of writers artists photographers and film makers From John Piper Eric Ravilious and Shell guide books to photographs of bomb damage aerial archaeology and The Wizard of Oz Kitty Hauser delves into evocative interpretations of the landscape and looks at the affinities between photography as a medium to capture traces of the past as well as their absence
