Ernst Troeltsch And Liberal Theology:

Ernst Troeltsch and Liberal Theology Mark Chapman, 2001-11-09 This is the first discussion in English of the ethical implications of German liberal theology in the early years of the twentieth century It avoids pejorative interpretative categories such as culture protestantism seeking instead to understand a much neglected period on its own terms The leading figure Ernst Troeltsch 1865 1923 is treated as a public theologian engaging at many different levels with his social and political context and trying to ensure that religion could continue to shape the future course of history To understand his context he made use of the tools of the emergent discipline of sociology and also entered into dialogue with philosophers and historians Troeltsch s public theology is contrasted with other liberal models of theology particularly those of the New Testament scholar Wilhelm Bousset and the systematic theologian Wilhelm Herrmann who were far more reluctant to engage seriously with their context and as a result isolated religion from its wider social and intellectual setting Troeltsch s theological solution is also compared with Max Weber s sociological response to the problems of modernity Troeltsch s ideas of cultural synthesis are seen as both constructive and critical and as having much to contribute to contemporary social and political theology

Ernst Troeltsch and Liberal Theology Mark David Chapman, 2001 Chapman assesses the German liberal theological tradition in the early years of the 20th century concentrating in particular on the work of Ernst Troeltsch

Studies in the Theological Ethics of Ernst Troeltsch Max A. Myers, Michael R. LaChat, 1991 Is there a future for liberal theology That was a question which Ernst Troeltsch asked in print overtly or indirectly in almost every piece on theology that he wrote This study explores the doubts Troeltsch had about the study of religion the religious life about science as applied to culture and the future of civilization

Ernst Troeltsch and Comparative Theology Echol Lee Nix, 2010 Ernst Troeltsch and Comparative Theology examines the methodological attempts of Ernst Troeltsch and Robert Neville for discerning Christian normativity The investigation of Troeltsch focuses on his treatment of the absoluteness of Christianity and highlights the crisis brought upon absolute religious claims by the study of the history of religions By rejecting both the supernatural exclusive apologetic of orthodox Protestantism and the evolutionary apologetic of liberal Protestantism Troeltsch insists that theology s method should be the history of religions method die religionsgeschichtliche Methode Like Troeltsch Neville agrees with historical inquiries but contrary to Troeltsch Neville advances an axiological hypothesis to thinking which is founded in valuation Neville explains the role of valuation at the imaginative level of thinking and relates it to his theory of normative truth in religious symbols This study shows that Neville begins with Troeltsch s methodological presuppositions but achieves more normative theology than Troeltsch especially on ways in which God is engaged in symbolically shaped thinking and practice Both thinkers offer creative insights for theology that make possible a critical comparison of truth claims regarding the validity of Christianity in and for a historically conscious age

The Christian Faith Ernst Troeltsch, 1991-01-01 The first English translation of Troeltsch s Glaubenslehre The first attempt to do systematic theology from a deep Christian commitment with full awareness of Christianity's social and historical relativity From Dogmatics to Liberal Theology and Religionswissenschaft Richard Edward Harry, 2022 The present study revisits both historically and analytically the work of Ernst Troeltsch 1865-1923 centering its interpretive lens primarily around his various theoretical and methodological contributions to Religionswissenschaft Roughly analogous to what we today would call or recognize as the wide ranging and arguably loosely knit field of religious studies Troeltsch's approach to Religionswissenschaft was an expression of foundational epistemological debates that affected the entire disciplinary matrix of the emerging cultural or human sciences Geisteswissenschaften Troeltsch transcribed how the study of religion had reoccupied deep philosophical issues connected to the eighteenth century question of the relationship between the Enlightenment ideal of Reason and the traditional or premodern theistic self understanding of Western civilization The dissolution of the dogmatic Christian worldview and its adjoining conception of Church authority was the starting point for Troeltsch's multipronged justification of Religion as a viable category The autonomy of scientific socio historical inquiry meant that the operative theoretical horizon of the History of Religions School had turned comparative while being irreversibly expanded to include the totality of human religions Troeltsch's liberal theology would also have to forego conversation stopping appeals to supernatural revelation bernat rlichen Offenbarung 1991b 87-88 Troeltsch's framework for Religionswissenschaft matured during the late nineteenth century and through the First World War He was an early twentieth century heir of German Idealism suffering through a generational post Hegelian philosophical malaise that culminated in collective fears about civilizational anomie a crisis of values and meaning Troeltsch interpreted Nietzsche's madman prophecies about the death of God viz the onset of European Nihilismus and the overcoming berwindung of Christian metaphysics morality and culture by means of a triumphant will to power as a condensed symbol and direct assault on both Enlightenment rationalism and Western religious consciousness Haunted by Relativismus both ethical and epistemological Troeltsch's socio cultural writings on the conflict ridden modern spirit Geist had a taste for melodramatic mandarin themes of spiritual bankruptcy and cultural collapse Sadly the tragic course of historical events would prove that he was no alarmist Troeltsch presciently foresaw that this profound irrationalist deformation in German philosophy was linked to a budding propensity for post truth barbaric statolatry Troeltsch retraced these cultural anxieties which were aggravated by the dizzying pace of accelerated social change to the modern scientific disenchantment of the cosmos and its heightened sense of historical consciousness historische Bewu tsein defined loosely as a deepening insight into the plurality of worldviews and the contingency of religious reasons cultural values and practical forms of rationality Troeltsch wrote seriously about Die Krisis des Historismus 1922 as an epistemological and cultural problem and he fully integrated this concern into his thinking about Religionswissenschaft Kulturgeschichte and the post WWI future of Europ ismus Troeltsch finalized his career in Berlin as a prestigious philosopher of culture dedicated to building a democratic Weimar Republic

critiquing nationalist power politics and situating Christian liberal theology and ethics within the broader socio historical discourse of comparative Weltreligionen Analytic respect for the content of Troeltsch s constructive project reveals systematicity and coherence Regarding the nature of historical consciousness and its relationship to religious consciousness the foundational concerns of Religionswissenschaft steered Troeltsch headlong into many longstanding and definitive problems within the Western philosophical tradition The systematic study of religion Troeltsch summarized in 1922 exhibits its greatest depth and power in the way it summons the mind to confront the antinomy of metaphysics and history placing both sets of problems in intimate crossfertilization 1991b 366 The constructive portion of Troeltsch s Religionswissenschaft settled on critical idealism a Baden Neo Kantian conception of transcendental freedom and rationality that made ample room for faith while limiting philosophy s traditional metaphysical ambitions Hegel s ontological excesses and theological oversteps rendered his teleological philosophy of history into a crude self glorification fantasy but Troeltsch found it important not to throw the idealist baby out with the Absolutist bathwater Functioning as a Neo Kantian value theory Werttheorie Troeltsch s Religionswissenschaft offered an epistemology and philosophy of culture which presupposed a normative conception of rationality that seeks out universal validity in its basic ends or value orientations Moreover Troeltsch s philosophy of religion reincorporated Schleiermacher s mystical notion of religious consciousness religiöse Bewusstsein right into the very heart of Kant s tripartite economy of practical reason that is operative within and underlying rationality in its self legislating theoretical moral and aesthetic forms Troeltsch believed it was necessary to be suspicious and critical toward all concrete claims of Absoluteness but idealism s obsession with the problem of normative rationality and its relation to das Absolute could not be completely vanquished or pragmatically deflated Troeltsch s Werttheorie operates formally as a species of epistemological transcendentalism holding that autonomous and valid ideals provide some sort of a priori bulwark against historicist relativism in its many guises 1999 45 Troeltsch ultimately endorsed Platonismus an ontologically grounded metaphysics of value and theistic Personalismus These overbeliefs carried him beyond the sphere of Religionswissenschaft proper but Troeltsch nevertheless saw the scientific discipline as being compatible with a liberal and non dogmatic Christian lifeworld Lebenswelt and faith Glaubenslehre

Reinventing Liberal Christianity Theo Hobson, 2013-10-16 In past years liberal Christianity challenged centuries of authoritarian tradition and had great political influence Today it is widely dismissed as a watering down of the faith and more conservative forms of Christianity are increasingly dominant Can the liberal Christian tradition recover its influence Hobson argues that a simple revival is not possible because liberal Christianity consists of two traditions He aims to transform liberal Christianity through the rediscovery of faith and ritual

Theology at the End of Culture Russell Re Manning, 2005 This book is a reconsideration of Paul Tillich s 1886 1965 project of a theology of culture and art Concentrating on Tillich s widely neglected pre emigration writings 1910 1933 Re Manning reconstructs and defends Tillich s proposals for theology of culture as a philosophically sophisticated programme of theological engagement with culture and art On the boundary between the extremes of liberal Christian humanism and neo orthodox isolationism Tillich s project is shown to be a powerful continuation of the mediatory intentions of the Schleiermacher Troeltsch line of modern Protestant theology to overcome the intolerable gap between religion and culture Drawing heavily on Tillich s incorporation of Schelling s positive philosophy into the deep structure of this theology Re Manning argues that Tillich s Idealistic Romantic theology of mediation provides a way through the entrenched oppositions of the divided mind of twentieth century theology to a constructive theology of cultural engagement Further this book offers an assessment of the continued relevance of Tillich s project in the situation of contemporary philosophical theology Beyond the dominant antithetical types of postmodern theology Mark C Taylor s a theology and the radical orthodoxy of John Milbank Re Manning argues for the possibility of a Tillichian postmodern theology of culture able to engage with the spiritual situation at the end of culture

Troeltsch's Eschatological Absolute Evan F. Kuehn,2020-04-01 Ernst Troeltsch is widely recognized as having played an important role in the development of modern Protestant theology but his contribution is usually understood as largely critical of traditional modes of theological inquiry He is best known for his historicist critique of dogmatic theology and seen either as the closing chapter of nineteenth century liberalism or as a proto postmodernist Central to this pivotal period in modern theology stands the problem how can we articulate a doctrine of ultimate reality such that a meaningful and coherent account of the world is available without our understanding of God thereby becoming conditioned by the world itself Evan Kuehn demonstrates that historiographical assumptions about twentieth century religious thought have obscured the coherence and relevance of Troeltsch s understanding of God history and eschatology An eschatological understanding of the Absolute Kuehn contends stands at the heart of Troeltsch s theology and the problem of historicism with which it is faced Troeltsch s eschatological Absolute must be understood in the context of questions that were being raised at the turn of the twentieth century both by research on New Testament apocalypticism and by modern critical methodologies in the historical sciences His theory of the Absolute is central to his views on religion and religious ethics and provides practitioners of constructive studies in religion with important resources for engaging with sociological and historical studies where Troeltsch s status as a classical figure is widely recognized

Faith and Modern Thought Timothy Hull,2020-10-29 Get the full picture Understand the whole story Faith and Modern Thought is a jargon busting and engaging introduction providing an imaginative and creative way into the great minds that have forged the modern world especially Kant and Hegel and the revolutionary philosophies of existentialism and Marxism they inspired Tim Hull provides the wider intellectual picture the fuller philosophical story in which modern theology was forged After an engaging introduction to the European Enlightenment and the cultural crisis it triggered the stage is set to understand the essence of modern theology From that essential background the radical faith of many of the most influential of modern theologians and philosophers of religion is explored exposing a deep rooted indebtedness to the Enlightenment tradition

Postcolonial Public Theology Paul S Chung, 2017-07-27 Postcolonial Public Theology is a tour de force a study in theological reflection in conversation with the most compelling intellectual discourses of our time that offers prophetic challenge to the hegemony of economic globalisation While evolutionary science searches for an ethically responsible practice of rationality and inter religious engagement forces Christians to grapple with the realities of cultural hybridity Postcolonial Public Theology makes the case for public theology to turn toward postcolonial imagination demonstrating a fresh rethinking of the public and global issues that continue to emerge in the aftermath of colonialism Paul S Chung provides students and scholars with a fascinating framework for imagining a polycentric Christianity as well as for discussing the continuing importance of Christian theology in the public arena

Christ Without Absolutes Sarah Coakley, 1988 Can Christians continue to worship Jesus Christ as the full final and absolute revelation of God in an age of historical relativism an expanding universe and the impinging of other world faiths on Western culture This bold and penetrating study goes to the heart of the debate between traditionalists and liberals such as Ernst Troeltsch who would answer no Coakley argues that a liberal approach to Christology in fact opens up many new and liberating possibilities for the future of Christianity

Lutheran Identity and Political Theology Carl-Henric Grenholm, Goran Gunner, 2014-11-04 Lutheran tradition has in various ways influenced attitudes to work the economy the state education and health care One reason that Lutheran theology has been interpreted in various ways is that it is always influenced by surrounding social and cultural contexts In a society where the church has lost a great deal of its cultural impact and authority and where there is a plurality of religious convictions the question of Lutheran identity has never been more urgent However this question is also raised in the Global South where Lutheran churches need to find their identity in a relationship with several other religions Here this relationship is developed from a minority perspective Is it possible to develop a Lutheran political theology that gives adequate contributions to issues concerning social and economic justice What is the role of women in church and society around the world Is it possible to interpret Lutheran theology in such a way that it includes liberating perspectives These are some of the questions and issues discussed in this book

Critical Theory and Political Theology Paul S. Chung, 2019-05-02 This book deals with the aftermath of the enlightenment and its legacy in the political social and racial context It discusses the incomplete project of modernity in terms of social contract theory racial justice issues and political theology in the postcolonial context Hermeneutical realism and cultural linguistic inquiry become substantial features in elaborating postcolonial political theology and its ethical stance against the colonization of lifeworld and its pathologies A study of critical theory and political theology is of a reconstructive character in seeking to relocate critical theory and political ethics in the context of alternative modernities at the level of postcolonial theory

Jesus and the Church Paul Avis, 2020-11-26 What is church's true foundation Was the Christian church founded by Jesus or does the Eucharist make the church Paul Avis sets out his own answer to these questions Gathering a wide range of critical scholarship he argues that there is something solid and dependable at the foundation of the church's life and mission Avis argues that Jesus wanted a church in a sense but not as we know it Christ proclaimed the gospel of the Kingdom and his disciples proclaimed the gospel whose content was Jesus himself the Kingdom in person The church is battered and divided but at its core is a treasure that is indestructible the gospel of Christ embodied in word and sacrament A central theme of the book is the relationship between the church and Christ the church and the gospel the church and the Kingdom Jesus Christ crucified and risen is the sole foundation of the church but he cannot be without his people

Barth, Bonhoeffer, and Modern Politics Joshua Mauldin, 2021 This innovative study brings together two areas of discourse that have not been connected before interpretations of Barth and Bonhoeffer on one hand and narratives of modernity on the other

Exploring Lost Dimensions in Christian Mysticism Louise Nelstrop, Simon D. Podmore, 2016-04-15 Mystical theology has developed through a range of meanings from the hidden dimensions of divine significance in the community's interpretation of its scriptures to the much later science of the soul's ascent into communion with God The thinkers and questions addressed in this book draws us into the heart of a complicated beautiful and often tantalisingly unfinished conversation continuing over centuries and often brushing allusively into parallel concerns in other religions Raising fundamental matters of epistemology representation metaphysics and divine reality
