Ecology Crisis And New Vision:

Ecology: Crisis and New Vision Richard E. Sherrell, 1971 The Rights of Nature Roderick Frazier Nash, 1989-01-17

Charting the history of contemporary philosophical and religious beliefs regarding nature Roderick Nash focuses primarily on changing attitudes toward nature in the United States His work is the first comprehensive history of the concept that nature has rights and that American liberalism has in effect been extended to the nonhuman world A splendid book Roderick Nash has written another classic This exploration of a new dimension in environmental ethics is both illuminating and overdue Stewart Udall His account makes history come alive Sierra So smoothly written that one almost does not notice the breadth of scholarship that went into this original and important work of environmental history Philip Shabecoff New York Times Book Review Clarifying and challenging this is an essential text for deep ecologists and ecophilosophers Stephanie Mills Utne Reader

Ecotheology and the Practice of Hope Anne Marie Dalton, Henry C. Simmons, 2010-09-29 Is there any hope for a more sustainable world Can we reimagine a way of living in which the nonhuman world matters Anne Marie Dalton and Henry C Simmons claim that the ecotheology that arose during the mid twentieth century gives us reason for hope While ecotheologians acknowledge that Christianity played a significant role in creating societies in which the nonhuman world counted for very little these thinkers have refocused religion to include the natural world To borrow philosopher Charles Taylor s concept they have created a new social imaginary reimagining a better world and a different sense of what is and what should be A new mindset is emerging inspired by ecotheological texts and evident in the many diverse movements and activities that operate as if the hope imparted by ecotheology has already been realized While making this powerful argument Dalton and Simmons also provide an essential overview of key ecotheological thinkers and texts

Ecological Imaginations in the World Religions Tony Watling, 2011-10-20 The field of religion and ecology is an emerging and growing movement that is becoming relevant and influential in the world. It seeks to analyse, encourage, inspire, use, compare and combine religious traditions to engage and shape environmental issues. Tony Watling seeks to ethnographically analyse this important field and its expressions. In particular, he analyses and compares its explorations of different world religions for ecological themes and the resulting expressions of ecological visions in what he terms religious ecotopias: idealized environmentally friendly re-imaginings of nature and humanity and correspondingly religion which seek to influence environmental attitudes.

Early Ecotheology and Joseph Sittler Panu Pihkala, 2017 When did Christians begin to address environmental questions? What can be learned from these pioneering thinkers? This study reveals that between 1910 and 1954 many theologians called for responsibility towards nature. The focal point is the work of Joseph Sittler (1904-1987), an American Lutheran and ecumenical theologian. The role of these early ecotheologians is discussed in relation to environmental history and education. The findings show that ecotheology was not as strongly separated from other environmentalism as it was after the 1960s.

Schizoanalysis and Asia Joff P. N. Bradley, 2022-11-08 This book is an update, extension and radicalization of Guattari's philosophy of the postmedia. It is the first of its kind to comprehensively apply Guattari's thought on postmedia to post-millennium technological developments. Given the considerable interest in Félix Guattari and Gilles Deleuze's work and its influence in Asia and South East Asia and beyond, the book is a timely contribution and update of Guattari's essential concepts. It offers a fresh approach to applying Guattari and Deleuze to local contexts. Both Félix Guattari's schizoanalysis and Gilles Deleuze's philosophy remain excellent tools to decode the politics of postmedia. The book centres around the influence of Guattari's work on the Japanese archipelago and how Japan itself impacted on the work of Guattari in the 1980s. The book updates Guattari's work and applies it to the problems which are affecting societies in Asia and beyond. It highlights current research on postmedia by scholars who are working to understand how Japanese society is functioning post-Fukushima and how the country continues to toil from the geo-trauma of the real.

Living with Nature Frank Fischer, Maarten A. Hajer, 1999 This text aims to place the question of the dynamics of environmental crisis in a socio-cultural dimension of the existing economic and political institutions. It argues for a need to find a balance between theoretical analysis of the debate and an appreciation of local circumstances and knowledge.

Kill the Cowboy Sharman Apt Russell, 2001-01-01 Argues that the mythology of the cowboy should be replaced by new icons reflecting the realities of the modern West, including water shortages, overgrazing and the need to protect western wildlife and wilderness.

Nested Ecology Edward T. Wimberley, 2009-05-29 Nested Ecology provides a pragmatic and functional approach to realizing a sustainable environmental ethic. Edward T. Wimberley asserts that a practical ecological ethic must focus on human decision-making within the context of larger social and environmental systems Think of a set of mixing bowls in which smaller bowls sit within larger ones Wimberley sees the world in much the same way with personal ecologies embedded in social ecologies that in turn are nested within natural ecologies Wimberley urges a complete reconceptualization of the human place in the ecological hierarchy Going beyond the physical realms in which people live and interact he extends the concept of ecology to spirituality and the ecology of the unknown In doing so Wimberley defines a new environmental philosophy and a new ecological ethic Environmental Ethics and International Policy H. ten Have,2006-01-01 This publication a joint initiative of the World Commission on the Ethics of Scientific Knowledge and Technology COMEST and the UNESCO Division of Ethics of Science and Technology contains essays written by eight leading international experts in this relatively new inter disciplinary area of applied ethics These papers consider the moral dimensions of environmental management issues and explores proposals for effective international policy making to promote environmental objectives The Environmental Crisis and Art Eva Maria R  pple,2019-02-12 Climate change is a defining issue of our time for which the immediate as well as potential future scope causes enormous impediments to human understanding and comprehension It is argued here that humans ought to make wise use of their capacity of thinking language and communication in working on the task of responsible action Required is nothing less than moving out of thoughtlessness an unresponsiveness and ignorance in particular towards certain environmental problems As human beings we are a species on this planet that is uniquely capable to think and foresee potential consequences and hold power to induce change on our actions It is up to human beings to confront challenges such as climate change to consider what has been critically assessed in thought and reflect on potential responses Crucial in this dialog is the ability to take the standpoint of the other including that of species as well as ecosystems in human imagination It also means to develop a sensibility for the other in making sense of the world that today is largely shaped by humans Throughout history narratives stories images artistic expressions have all played a key role for imaginative ventures that allow the mind to imagine the past present and the future Language and communication can serve comprehension of an issue like climate change and provide a path in developing responsible responses to abstract problems of complex global future dimensions Human Behavior and the Social Environment, Macro Level Katherine S. Van Wormer,Fred H. Besthorn,2017 Unique to Human Behavior and the Social Environment Macro Level is the focus on the natural as well as physical environment in the study of human behavior and use of a trauma informed model in the study of social service organizations This is the only social work text to include a chapter on findings from social psychology relevant to human behavior
