German Unification International Monetary Fund, 1990-12-04 This paper discusses comparison of economic and social indicators in the year 1988 between Federal Republic of Germany FRG and German Democratic Republic GDR The budgetary costs of unification will be substantially larger than initially envisaged Moreover if one adds to the budget the increases in government debt related to equalization paper a portion of the old enterprise debt on the books of the banks The Trust Fund has been assigned a task or enormous scope and complexity the privatization restructuring and in some cases liquidation of 8000 enterprises with 4 million employees Even taking care of the short run financial problems of these enterprises has proved daunting the more fundamental task will be near impossible to achieve with any rapidity It is clearly essential to the success of economic integration that capital allow east rather than labor flowing west and that income growth and new

Ullrich Heilemann, Reimut Jochimsen, 1993 In this book the authors argue that policymakers were so preoccupied with fiscal problems that they ignored east Germany's anemic production inflated employment and decayed infrastructure The authors urge adoption of hard headed medium term strategies so that west and east can grow closer and enjoy economic growth
