Electronic Village Policy Issues Of The Information Economy:

Asian Economic and Political Issues Frank H. Columbus, 1998 It is predicted by some observers that the 21st century will be remembered as the Asian Century Many of the countries in the region seem to be able to take the economic and trade baton when one of the others experience problems The region in general continues to grow economically politically and militarily The articles presented in this book examine the current political and economic situations in nations across Asia particularly focusing on economic developments Contents Preface The Challenge of Removing Administrative Barriers to FDI in China Negative Externality Tacit Bargaining and Cigarette Demand The Case of Environmental Tobacco Smoke in Japan Modelling Development Control of Residential Development A Probit Analysis of Rent Seeking and Policy Autonomy in Town Planning in Hong Kong Social Capital Does it Pay The Institutional Impact on Conditions and Consequences of Access to Social Capital the Case of the Former GDR The Role of Foreign Investment in Guangdong's Economic Development Natural Disasters and Long run Economic Growth in Asia and Around the World The Role of Urban Policy in the Battle against Poverty The Experience of the Philippines

China's Telecommunications Reforms Scott Yunxiang Guan, 2003 In the early 1990s China started to reform its telecommunications regime by removing barriers to foreign and private investment and encouraging competition This text applies the Public Choice Plus theory developed in the study of economics to the analysis of the policymaking process of China's telecommunications reforms Guan is a senior fellow at the Centre for Innovation Law and Policy at the U of Toronto

Do Think Tanks Matter? Donald E. Abelson, 2009 Assessing the evolution and influence of public policy institutes

Do Think Tanks Matter?, Second Edition Donald E. Abelson, 2009-09-01 It is often assumed that think tanks carry enormous weight with lawmakers In Do Think Tanks Matter Donald Abelson argues that the basic question of how think tanks have evolved and under what conditions they can and do have an effect is consistently ignored Think tank directors often credit their institutes with influencing major policy debates and government legislation and many journalists and scholars believe the explosion of think tanks in the latter part of the twentieth century indicates their growing importance in the policy making process Abelson goes beyond assumptions identifying the influence and relevance of public policy institutes in today's political arena in the United States where they've become an integral feature of the political landscape and in Canada where despite recent growth in numbers they enjoy less prominence than their US counterparts By focusing on the policy cycle issue articulation policy formation and implementation Abelson argues that individual think tanks have sometimes played an important role in shaping the political dialogue and the policy preferences and choices of decision makers but often in different ways and at different stages of the policy cycle This revised and updated edition of the book includes up to date data 2000-08 on the growing visibility and policy relevance of think tanks in Canada and the United States

Down to the Wire Allan L. Shampine, 2003 In recent years regulators and businesses have struggled to keep pace with an onslaught of new technologies that has dramatically changed the world's telecommunications networks This book gathers together research intended for those who must grapple with these changes the people who must decide whether and how to deploy new telecommunications technologies and those who must regulate the technologies The research is divided into three sections focusing on the past present and future of telecommunications innovations The first section Lessons from the Past examines what lessons concerning adoption and regulation can be learned by studying the diffusion of recent telecommunications technologies The second section Decision Making with Respect to Diffusing Technologies examines possible improvements to the decision making processes used by companies and regulators in the face of limited information and dynamic markets The final section Public Policy and Future Diffusion examines public policy implications for future technologies

How Ottawa Spends 2008-2009 Allan Maslove, 2014-06-22 The twenty ninth edition of How Ottawa Spends focuses on the policies of the Harper government and the course of federal provincial relations Leading scholars of Canadian public policy explore several key policy areas including fiscal balance in the federation tax policy regulatory capacity the federal funding of territorial and northern Aboriginal governments child care policy higher education policy telecommunications policy and the rapid appearance and disappearance of the federal social economy initiative i e how Ottawa doesn't spend Contributors include Frances Abele Carleton IRPP Cheryl N Collier Carleton Geoffrey Hale University of Lethbridge Walter Hettich emeritus California State Edward T Jackson Carleton Rianne Mahon Carleton Allan M Maslove Carleton Clara Morgan Carleton Michael J Prince University of Victoria Richard Schultz McGill Robert Slater Carleton Barry Stemshorn University of Ottawa and Stanley L Winer Carleton

Do Think Tanks Matter?, First Edition Donald E. Abelson, 2002-03-08 Do Think Tanks Matter evaluates the influence and relevance of public policy institutes in today's political arena Many journalists and scholars believe the explosion of think tanks in the latter part of the twentieth century indicates their growing importance in the policy making process This perception has been reinforced by directors of think tanks who often credit their institutes with influencing major policy debates and government legislation Yet the basic question of how and in what way they influence public policy has Donald Abelson contends frequently been ignored Abelson studies the experiences of think tanks in the United States where they have become an integral feature of the political landscape and in Canada where their numbers have grown considerably in recent years but where compared to their U S counterparts they enjoy less prominence in policy making By focusing on the policy cycle issue articulation that is getting issues on the political agenda and policy formation and implementation actually affecting the outcome of policies already on the political agenda he argues that think tanks have sometimes played an important role in shaping the political dialogue and the policy preferences and choices of decision makers but often in different ways and at different stages of the policy cycle

The Electronic Village Dale Orr, Thomas A. Wilson, C.D. Howe Institute, 1998 Papers in this volume mostly from a conference on the information economy provide analysis and discussion of some of the economic and public policy issues related to the revolutionary changes occurring in telecommunications Topics of papers include the impacts of changing technologies in communication and information processing on regulatory and other government policies the different approaches to telecommunications regulation in Canada and the United States international influences on Canadian communications policy policies affecting foreign direct investment in telecommunications the links between improvements in telecommunication infrastructure and economic growth the determinants of the geographic distribution of information technology in the United States 1986 92 and broadcasting regulation and government policies in Canada How Ottawa Spends, 2009-2010 Allan M. Maslove, 2009 This is the thirtieth volume in the series How Ottawa Spends It is arguable that never in these years have Canadians faced such serious economic upheaval and political dysfunction as the current climate The dramatic and seemingly sudden changes in the economy occurred simultaneously with a political drama one that was largely disassociated from the real and pressing economic challenge Early Harper budgets delivered lower taxes for all Canadians partly through highly targeted but politically noticeable small tax breaks on textbooks for students tools for apprentices in skilled trades and public transit costs The needs of the beleaguered average Canadian and the swing voter in the swing constituencies of an already strategized next election were a key part of Conservative agenda setting In the 2007 budget alone there were twenty nine separate tax reductions and federal spending was projected to increase by 10 billion including a 5 7 percent increase in program spending A small surplus of 3 3 billion was planned almost all of which would go to debt reduction As Harper savoured his 14 October 2008 re election with a strengthened minority government although without his desired majority he and his minister of Finance already knew that his surpluses were likely gone in the face of the crashing financial sector and a looming recession Future deficits were firmly back on the agenda Contributors include Malcolm G Bird Carleton University Chris Brown Carleton University G Bruce Doern Carleton University and University of Exeter Melissa Haussman Carleton University Robert Hilton Carleton University Ruth Hubbard University of Ottawa Edward T Jackson Carleton University Kirsten Kozolanka Carleton University Evert Lindquist University of Victoria Allan M Maslove Carleton University Peter Nares Social and Enterprise Development Innovations Gilles Paquet University of Ottawa L Pauline Rankin Carleton University Jennifer Robson Carleton University Robert P Shepherd Carleton University Richard Shillington Informetrica Limited and Chris Stoney Carleton University Tax Reform in Canada Fraser Institute (Vancouver, B.C.), 2003 Papers presented at a conference in Toronto Oct 11 2001 Includes bibliographical references China and the Long March to Global Trade Alan S Alexandroff, Sylvia Ostry, Rafael Gomez, 2002-10-03 On December 11th 2001 China joined the World Trade Organization WTO This book examines the Prolonged negotiations leading up to this historic event EPA Publications Bibliography Quarterly Abstract Bulletin United States. and Jean Chrétien radically altered the structure and functions of the federal government first by signing and implementing major trade liberalization projects and then by cutting back the size of their governments budgets and the scope of their policies. Uncle Sam and Us analyzes the Mulroney Chrétien era's impact on Canadian governance through two related factors: globalization from without and neoconservatism from within. Stephen Clarkson begins his study by conceptualizing the present Canadian state as a five-tiered nested system stretching from the municipal and provincial levels through the federal government and on to the new continental and global spheres of governance. In effect, he argues, the North American Free Trade Agreement and the World Trade Organization have added a supraconstitution to Canada's existing institutions. His analysis concerns the changes that have occurred not just in the federal government but in provincial and municipal governance as well. The impact of globalization and neoconservatism is examined extensively in the second part of Clarkson's study, which examines how the functions of the Canadian state have altered. Clarkson addresses the changes in a number of policy areas such as macro and monetary policy, regulatory, industrial and trade policy, as well as social, labour, environmental, cultural and foreign policy. In linking external forces and internal factors in his analysis, Clarkson brings together separate aspects of the Canadian state into a comprehensive understanding of the current Canadian political climate. He combines a global knowledge of the international political economy with a micro concern for detailed analyses of policy issues and concludes that the responsibility for Canada's predicament lies less with external forces than with Canadians and the governments they elected. He ends with a hopeful look into the future, pointing towards a realization of the shortcomings of neoconservative globalization and the expectation of a new governing paradigm. Co-published with Woodrow Wilson Center Press.

Who is Afraid of the State? Gordon S. Smith, Gordon Scott Smith, Daniel Wolfish, 2001-01-01. The essays in this collection argue that contrary to some private sector populists, the state is in the best position to lead in making policy in a rapidly changing world and should retain and refine this responsibility. *Canadian Books in Print. Canadian Book Review Annual, 1999. Making Policy for the New Information Economy Krishna Prasad Jayakar, Chun Liu, 2023-09-10. This volume is a theoretically informed comparative analysis of the telecommunications and information policy-making process in two major developing economies, China and India. With a focus on how policies are made rather than what those policies are, the book investigates how policy actors interact within institutional structures to define policy problems and identify potential solutions. The authors explain the evolution of these policy-making systems as the two countries liberalized their economies and opened their media and telecommunications.
