History and Imagination Ronald V. Morris, 2012-03-08. In History and Imagination, elementary school social studies teachers will learn how to help their students break down the walls of their schools, more personally engage with history, and define democratic citizenship. By collaborating together in meaningful investigations into the past and reenacting history, students will become experts who interpret their findings, teach their peers and relate their experiences to those of older students neighbors parents and grandparents The byproduct of this collaborative intergenerational learning is that schools become community learning centers just like museums and libraries where families can go together in order to find out more about the topics that interest them There is an incredible value in the shared and lived experiences of reenacting the past of meeting people from different places and times an authority and reality that textbooks cannot rival By engaging elementary social studies students in living history whether in the classroom after school or in partnership with local historical institutions teachers are guaranteed to impress upon the students a special desired understanding of place and time
