Elementary Perspectives 1 William J. Kreidler,1991 Elementary Perspectives 1 ,1990 Resources in Education ,2001-10 Peace Education in a Postmodern World Ian M. Harris,2013-12-16 This special issue of the Peabody Journal of Education provides a comprehensive overview of the latest developments in peace education reform School reforms based upon principles of peace education have in common a belief in the power of peace to create a positive learning climate in schools and to address the problems of violence in the broader culture A peace education strategy for improving school productivity rests upon three main assumptions 1 Violence contributes to the poor performance of many students 2 Adults in school settings need to address problems created by violence in order for schools to improve 3 Anxieties that make it hard for students to master traditional subject matter can best be addressed by a comprehensive peace education strategy that makes school a safe place to learn and provides students with knowledge about alternative nonviolent ways to resolve conflicts Peace building reforms go beyond responding to immediate forms of violence that may be overwhelming students and teachers to promoting positive images of peace through the study of nonviolence Written by established experts in the field of peace education from six different countries this collection of articles not only represents a wide variety of peace education practices from different corners of the globe but it also represents varying academic perspectives Educators can play a key role in helping human societies progress toward more sustainable ways of living by implementing peacemaking peacekeeping and peace building strategies in school programs Peace education reforms point to a new way of thinking about schools as vehicles for promoting a peace culture through insights offered by nonviolent theory Peace Education from the Grassroots Ian Harris,2013-09-01 Historians often ignore the day to day struggles of ordinary people to improve their lives They tend to focus on the accomplishments of illustrious leaders Peace Education from the Grassroots tells the stories of concerned citizens teachers and grassroots peace activists who have struggled to counteract high levels of violence by teaching about the sources for violence and strategies for peace The stories told here come from the grass roots meaning the educators are close to the forms of violence they are addressing This collection of essays tells how citizens at the grassroots level developed peace education initiatives in thirteen different nations Belgium Canada El Salvador Germany India Jamaica Japan Mexico the Philippines South Korea Spain Uganda and the United States A fourteenth article describes the efforts of the International Red Cross to implement a human rights curriculum to teachers on the ground in the Balkans Iran Senegal and the United States These chapters describe a variety of schools colleges peace movement organizations community based organizations and international nongovernmental organizations engaged in peace education Socially Constructed School Violence Kimberly M. Williams,2005 Socially Constructed School Violence Lessons from the Field argues that the way we understand what constitutes violence is socially constructed and that people from different social locations that is gender race social class geographic location and so on will have varied perspectives on what is violent Based on ethnographic work at an urban alternative school for students expelled for bringing weapons to school and an affluent suburban school eighteen miles away this book describes various ways violence can be constructed Specifically this book discusses personal and structural forms of violence that students teachers administrators and other school staff encounter Using powerful examples from the ethnographic analysis this book describes some of the valuable lessons learned about how we can work to prevent school violence

John A Collected Essays 2 John Scales Avery,2016-02-06 This book contains a collection of essays and articles by John Scales Avery discussing the severe problems and challenges which the world faces during the 21st century Human civilization and the biosphere are threatened by catastrophic climate change Unless rapid steps are taken to replace fossil fuels by 100% renewable energy we risk passing a tipping point beyond which uncontrollable feedback loops could produce a 6th extinction event comparable to those observed in the geological record Another serious threat to human civilization and the biosphere is the danger of a catastrophic thermonuclear war Over a long period of time there is an ever increasing risk that such a war will occur by accident or miscalculation Thirdly there is threat of an extremely serious and widespread famine produced by the climate change rapidly growing populations and the end of the fossil fuel era We must urgently address all three challenges

Peace Education B. Jeannie Lum,2018-04-19 In 1999 the UN instituted the Program of Action on a Culture of Peace leading to the Declaration of the International Decade for the Promotion of a Culture of Peace and Non Violence for the Children of the World 2001 2010 This represented a paradigm shift away from the prevailing conceptualization of peace as the absence of war to one of creating cultures of peace and indicated a significant opening for peace educators and the expansion of their mission and field in peace research and scholarship This book seeks to address several questions about the emergence present state and future of the field of peace education and to ground the definition of the discipline in its origins origins deeply set in informal grassroots movements of concerned citizens faith based communities and professional organizations who work for peace as well as those working in formal institutions These origins are vital in imparting identity and in nurturing the current growing collective consciousness that combines the academic discipline and the worldwide peace movement a collective that can unify fuel and inspire dialogue among scholars researchers activists educators government leaders and the myriad of individuals committed to creating cultures of peace throughout the world This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Peace Education

Peace Education, 3d ed. Ian M. Harris,Mary Lee Morrison,2014-01-10 Now in its third edition Peace Education provides a comprehensive approach to educating for a just and sustainable future It begins with religious and historical trends that have molded our understanding of peace and then presents a variety of ways to practice peace education in schools and communities and explains how it can motivate students The teaching and practice of peace education provides a basis of valuable knowledge about resolving conflicts and transforming violence without the use of force Instructors considering this book for use in a course may request an examination copy here
