Athena Rising W. Brad Johnson, David G. Smith, 2019-12-03. When it comes to mentoring women face more barriers than men. Here s how men can help change that. Increasingly new employees and junior members of any profession are encouraged sometimes stridently to find a mentor. Four decades of research reveals that the effects of mentorship can be profound and enduring strong mentoring relationships have the capacity to transform individuals and entire organizations But the mentoring landscape is unequal Evidence consistently shows that women face more barriers in securing mentorships than men and when they do find a mentor they may reap a narrow range of both professional and psychological benefits Athena Rising is a book for men about how to eliminate this problem by mentoring women deliberately and effectively Traditional notions of mentoring are modeled on male to male relationships yet women often report a desire for mentoring that addresses their interpersonal needs Women want mentors who not only understand this but truly honor it Coauthors W Brad Johnson and David G Smith present a straightforward no nonsense manual for men working in all types of institutions organizations and businesses to become excellent mentors to women because as women succeed lean in and assume leading roles in any organization or work context the culture will become more egalitarian effective and prone to retaining top talent
