The Monkey's Voyage Alan de Queiroz,2014-01-07 Throughout the world closely related species are found on landmasses separated by wide stretches of ocean What explains these far flung distributions Why are such species found where they are

across the Earth Since the discovery of plate tectonics scientists have conjectured that plants and animals were scattered over the globe by riding pieces of ancient supercontinents as they broke up In the past decade however that theory has foundered as the genomic revolution has made reams of new data available And the data has revealed an extraordinary stranger than fiction story that has sparked a scientific upheaval In The Monkey's Voyage biologist Alan de Queiroz describes the radical new view of how fragmented distributions came into being frogs and mammals rode on rafts and icebergs tiny spiders drifted on storm winds and plant seeds were carried in the plumage of sea going birds to create the map of life we see today In other words these organisms were not simply constrained by continental fate they were the makers of their own geographic destiny And as de Queiroz shows the effects of oceanic dispersal have been crucial in generating the diversity of life on Earth from monkeys and guinea pigs in South America to beech trees and kiwi birds in New Zealand By toppling the idea that the slow process of continental drift is the main force behind the odd distributions of organisms this theory highlights the dynamic and unpredictable nature of the history of life In the tradition of John McPhee's Basin and Range The Monkey's Voyage is a beautifully told narrative that strikingly reveals the importance of contingency in history and the nature of scientific discovery connections to other subjects group projects and more The literary works included are Exploration into India by Anita Ganeri Tusk and Stone by Malcolm Bosse The Song of the Dodo David Quammen, 2011-03-15 Compulsively readable a masterpiece maybe the masterpiece of science journalism Bill McKibben Audubon A brilliant stirring work breathtaking in its scope and far reaching in its message The Song of the Dodo is a crucial book in precarious times Through personal observation scientific theory and history David Quammen examines the mysteries of evolution and extinction and radically alters our understanding of the natural world and our place within it In this landmark of science writing we learn how the isolation of islands makes them natural laboratories of evolutionary extravagance as seen in the dragons of Komodo the elephant birds of Madagascar the giant tortoises of the Galapagos But the dark message of island studies is that isolated ecosystems whether natural or human made are also hotbeds of extinction And as the world's landscapes from Tasmania to the Amazon to Yellowstone are carved into pieces by human activity the implications of this knowledge are more urgent than ever An unforgettable scientific adventure a fascinating account of an eight year journey of discovery and a wake up call for our time David Quammen's The Song of the Dodo is an exquisitely written book that takes the reader on a globe circling tour of wild places and extraordinary ideas Wanderings of a Pilgrim in Search of the Picturesque (Complete) Fanny Parkes Parlby, 2020-09-28 In April 1822 Monsieur mon mari took me to Switzerland For the first time I quitted England How beautiful was the Valley of Chamouni how delightful our expedition on the La Fleg re The guides pronounced it too early in the year to attempt the ascent of Mont Blanc We quitted the valley with regret and returned to Geneva but our plans were frustrated and our hopes disappointed for on reaching the hotel we found a letter requiring our instant return to England The Marchioness of Ely in which we had taken our passage to Bengal was reported to be ready to sail in a few days no time was to be lost we started immediately travelled night and day incessantly and arrived greatly harassed in town The illness brought on by the over fatigue of that journey never quitted me for years The vessel however was merely preparing for her departure and did not sail until long after Happily the pain of separation from the beloved home of my childhood was broken by the necessity of exertion in preparation for the voyage June 13th We went to Gravesend to see the ship it was scarcely possible to enter our destined abode the larboard stern cabin so full was it to overflowing boxes of clothes hampers of soda water crates of china and glass a marvellous confusion After a time the hampers and boxes were carried below the furniture cleated and lashed and some sort of order was established We had carefully selected a ship that was not to carry troops we now found the Ely had been taken up to convey four troops of H M 16th Lancers the remainder of the regiment was to sail in the General Hewitt Some of our fellow passengers were on board on the same errand as ourselves June 18th We had lingered with our friends and had deferred the sad farewell until the last moment half uncertain if we should be in time to catch the ship in the Downs we posted to Deal took refuge at the Three Kings and had the satisfaction of watching the Marchioness of Ely and the Winchelsea her companion as they bore down At 11 P M we went on board and sailed the next day There was such a glorious confusion on deck that those who were novices in military and naval affairs might deem as they gazed around it could never subside into any thing approaching order Every one however was saying it would be very different when the ship was at sea of which indeed there was little doubt for to go on as we were would have been impossible Off the Isle of Wight the pilot left us to our captain s guidance the breeze was favourable we were sailing so smoothly there was scarcely any motion The last farewell tears dropped as I passed the Needles and the coast of Hampshire whilst memory recalled the happy days I had spent there and in the Forest the beautiful Forest Such thoughts and feelings it was necessary to throw aside I joined the party in the cuddy scrutinized the strange faces and retired to my cabin with as solitary a feeling as if my husband and I had been exiles for ever The voyage began prosperously I was satisfied with the captain with my cabin with my servant and happy with my lord and master We regretted we had taken our passage in a ship full of troops and anticipated we should be debarred taking exercise on the quarter deck and enjoying ourselves with walk and talk during the fine moonlight nights In the Ely it appeared as if it would be impossible were you to attempt it you would be sure to blunder over some sleeping Lancer However the band was on board some small consolation and as the society was large there was more chance of entertainment
