Freedom In The Family A Mother Daughter Memoir Of The Fight For Civil Rights:

Freedom in the Family Tananarive Due, Patricia Stephens Due, 2009-04-02 Patricia Stephens Due fought for justice during the height of the Civil Rights era Her daughter Tananarive grew up deeply enmeshed in the values of a family committed to making right whatever they saw as wrong Together in alternating chapters they have written a paean to the movement its hardships its nameless foot soldiers and its achievements and an incisive examination of the future of justice in this country Their mother daughter journey spanning two generations of struggles is an unforgettable story Women and the Civil Rights Movement, 1954-1965 Davis W. Houck, David E. Dixon, 2009-10-20 Historians have long agreed that women black and white were instrumental in shaping the civil rights movement Until recently though such claims have not been supported by easily accessed texts of speeches and addresses With this first of its kind anthology Davis W Houck and David E Dixon present thirty nine full text addresses by women who spoke out while the struggle was at its most intense Beginning with the Brown decision in 1954 and extending through the Voting Rights Act of 1965 the editors chronicle the unique and important rhetorical contributions made by such well known activists as Ella Baker Fannie Lou Hamer Daisy Bates Lillian Smith Mamie Till Mobley Lorraine Hansberry Dorothy Height and Rosa Parks They also include speeches from lesser known but influential leaders such as Della Sullins Marie Foster Johnnie Carr Jane Schutt and Barbara Posey Nearly every speech was discovered in local regional or national archives and many are published or transcribed from audiotape here for the first time Houck and Dixon introduce each speaker and occasion with a headnote highlighting key biographical and background details The editors also provide a general introduction that places these public addresses in context Women and the Civil Rights Movement 1954 1965 gives voice to stalwarts whose passionate orations were vital to every phase of a movement that changed America To Tell a Black Story of Miami Tatiana D. McInnis, 2022-12-13 How portrayals of anti Blackness in literature and film challenge myths about South Florida history and culture In this book Tatiana McInnis examines literary and cultural representations of Miami alongside the city s material realities to challenge the image of South Florida as a diverse cosmopolitan paradise McInnis discusses how this favorable melting pot narrative depends on the obfuscation of racialized violence against people of African descent Analyzing novels short stories and memoirs by Edwidge Danticat M J Fievre Carlos Moore Carlos Eire Patricia Stephens Due and Tananarive Due as well as films such as Dawg Fight and Moonlight McInnis demonstrates how these creations push back against erasure by representing the experiences of Black Americans and immigrants from Caribbean nations McInnis considers portrayals of state sanctioned oppression residential segregation violent detention of emigres and increasing wealth gaps and concludes that celebrations of Miami s diversity disguise the pervasive adaptive nature of white supremacy and anti Blackness To Tell a Black Story of Miami offers a model of how to use literature as a primary archive in urban studies It draws attention to the similarities and divergences between Miami s Black diasporic communities a historically underrepresented demographic in popular and scholarly awareness of the city Increasing understanding of Miami's political social and economic inequities this book brings greater nuance to traditional narratives of exceptionalism in cities and regions Publication of this work made possible by a Sustaining the Humanities through the American Rescue Plan grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities

Dark Cities Sherrilyn Kenyon, Scott Smith, Cherie Priest, Jonathan Maberry, 2017-05-16 An anthology of spine tingling tales of urban terror from modern masters of horror including Sherrilyn Kenyon Cherie Priest and Seanan McGuire In shadowy back alleys crumbling brownstones and gleaming skyscrapers cities harbor unique forms of terror Here lie malicious ghosts cursed buildings malignant deities and personal demons of every kind Twenty of today's most talented writers bend their skills toward the darkness creating brand new tales guaranteed to keep you awake at night especially if you live in the dark cities Far worse than mythical creatures such as vampires and werewolves these are horrors that lurk in the places you go every day where you would never expect to find them But they are there and now that you know you'll never again walk the streets alone

Black Women's Mental Health Stephanie Y. Evans, Kanika Bell, Nsenga K. Burton, 2017-06-01 This book offers a unique interdisciplinary and thoughtful look at the challenges and potency of Black women's struggle for inner peace and mental stability It brings together contributors from psychology sociology law and medicine as well as the humanities to discuss issues ranging from stress sexual assault healing self care and contemplative practice to health policy considerations and parenting Merging theory and practice with personal narratives and public policy the book develops a new framework for approaching Black women s wellness in order to provide tangible solutions The collection reflects feminist praxis and defines womanist peace in terms that reject both superwoman stereotypes and victim caricatures Also included for health professionals are concrete recommendations for understanding and treating Black women this book speaks not only to Black women but also educates a broader audience of policymakers and therapists about the complex and multilayered realities that we must navigate and the protests we must mount on our journey to find inner peace and optimal health from the Foreword by Linda Goler Blount For access to an online resource created by the editors visit Black Women s Mental Health <http://www.bwmentalhealth.net>

A Spirit of Dialogue Christopher N. Okonkwo, 2008 A groundbreaking study A Spirit of Dialogue examines through extensive interdisciplinary research theory and close reading the intricate reconstructions extensions and resonances of the West African myth of spirit children the Born to Die in contemporary African American neo slave narratives Arguing that the myth called Ogbaja in Igbo language and b k in Yoruba has had over thirty years of uncharted presence in African American literature Okonkwo advances a compelling case absent in extant scholarship He traces Ogbaja the Born to Die s appearance in African American texts to a convergence of factors They include but are not limited to the impact of Chinua Achebe s Things Fall Apart the 1960s emergence of the contemporary neo slave narrative the 1960s and 1970s black consciousness Black Power movement and the cultural agenda gendered politics and centripetal philosophy of the Black Arts movement s nationalist aesthetic African American identity questions of the post civil rights and the multicultural eras and the thematic shifts as well as the African diaspora orientation of African American fiction of the post nationalist aesthetic period A Spirit of Dialogue focuses on the sometimes neglected and understudied works of four canonical African American writers Octavia E Butler s Wild Seed and Mind of My Mind Tananarive Due s The Between John Edgar Wideman s The Cattle Killing and Toni Morrison s Sula and Beloved Okonkwo demonstrates persuasively how the mythic spirit child informs the content and form of these novels offering Butler Due Wideman and Morrison a non occidental code by which to engage collectively with the various issues integral to the history experience of African descended people The paradigm functions then as the nexus of a life affirmative dialogue among the six novels as well as between them and other works of African religious and literary imagination particularly Things Fall Apart and Ben Okri s The Famished Road

Southern Black Women in the Modern Civil Rights Movement Bruce A. Glasrud,Merline Pitre,2013-03-20 Normal0falsefalsefalseEN USX NONEX NONE WINNER 2013 of the Liz Carpenter Award for Research in the History of Women presented by the Texas State Historical Association Throughout the South black women were crucial to the Civil Rights Movement serving as grassroots and organizational leaders They protested participated sat in mobilized created energized led particular efforts and served as bridge builders to the rest of the community Ignored at the time by white politicians and the media alike with few exceptions they worked behind the scenes to effect the changes all in the movement sought Until relatively recently historians too have largely ignored their efforts Although African American women mobilized all across Dixie their particular strategies took different forms in different states just as the opposition they faced from white segregationists took different shapes Studies of what happened at the state and local levels are critical not only because of what black women accomplished but also because their activism leadership and courage demonstrated the militancy needed for a mass movement In this volume scholars address similarities and variations by providing case studies of the individual states during the 1950s and 1960s laying the groundwork for more synthetic analyses of the circumstances factors and strategies used by black women in the former Confederate states to destroy the system of segregation in this country
