Freedom And Interpretation The Oxford Amnesty Lectures 1992:

Discrimination and Toleration Kirsten Hastrup, George Ulrich, 2021-10-25 Discrimination on the basis of race gender or other ascribed group affiliations or individual identities is an all too well known phenomenon International instruments are invoked and refined to alter this situation but often to little avail In the present volume authors from across the globe explore the nature and forms of discrimination and seek to establish a new conceptual ground for addressing the issue Toleration is often advocated as a remedy for discriminatory practices In contrast to tolerance which is seen as an attitude toleration implies an active engaging of difference In this volume several authors address the inherent complexities of the notion itself not least the implication of asymmetry between the tolerant and the tolerated A central theme throughout the volume is the relative force of law and other areas of public concern in addressing the issues of both discrimination and toleration From a wide range of legal literary anthropological and philosophical perspectives the authors also show how the role of the intellectual is vital in reshaping the discourse and in redirecting practices that may affirm the equal worth of all humans

Legal Cultures and Human Rights Kirsten Hastrup, 2021-08-04 Cultural diversity as expressed for instance in different normative orders or legal cultures poses both a practical and a theoretical challenge to the idea of universal human rights In the present volume the authors seek to address and contain this challenge with a view to the changing nature of the global society While culture is sometimes signposted as an obstacle to human rights on the ground this volume suggests that in so far as the global culture of human rights is primarily seen as a formal and institutional order based on a particular view of equal human worth local cultures cannot trump it The main point is that the culture of human rights is inclusive of all and must maintain a standard by which all peoples and cultures can measure their own performances Further and as demonstrated in the present volume from a range of disciplines such as law literature history and anthropology culture is not a mental prison but a particular outlook upon the world for ever changing in response to new experiences and insights

Democracy in Dark Times Jeffrey C. Isaac, 2019-04-25 This is a truly illuminating and necessary book Jeffrey Isaac lucidly explores the moral and political dilemmas of this turbulent fin de siecle East and West His passionate approach is inspired by a genuine moral vision that sees liberal democracy as an unfinished continuously beleaguered project Hannah Arendt and Albert Camus I am sure would have been in full agreement with his line of reasoning Vladimir Tismaneanu University of Maryland College Park This will be the first of the many recent books on Hannah Arendt to move beyond exegesis to engage in the kind of thinking about politics that she so valued The book brings an Arendtian voice back into contemporary politics Lisa Disch author of Hannah Arendt and the Limits of Philosophy Jeffrey Isaac s new book is essential reading for anyone who seeks to grapple seriously with the challenges confronting progressive democratic aspirations Ian Shapiro Yale University This book reveals Isaac to be a first rate essayist a bold critic who writes about key issues of politics and democracy with learning style and power Robert A Dahl Yale University Persuaded by Jeffrey Isaac s argument about dark times I nonetheless found these essays full of light strong lively provocative and even despite themselves encouraging There can t be a renewal of democratic theory and practice without the kind of critique that Isaac provides

Rights A Critical Introduction is essential reading for anyone new to the subject of rights and any student of political philosophy politics and law

Making Human Matthew S. Weinert,2015-02-20 Differences between human beings have long been used to justify a range of degrading exclusionary and murderous practices that strip people of their humanity and dignity While considerable scholarship has been devoted to such dehumanization Matthew S Weinert asks how we might conceive its reverse humanization or what it means to make human Weinert proposes an account of making human centered on five mechanisms reflection recognition resistance replication of dominant mores and responsibility Examining cases such as the UN Security Council s engagements with crises and the International Court of Justice s grappling with Kosovo s unilateral declaration of independence he illustrates the distinct and contingent ways these mechanisms have been deployed Theoretically the cases evince a complex evolving relationship between state centric and human centric views of society ultimately revealing the normative potentialities of both Though the case studies concern specific human relations issues on an international level Weinert argues in favor of starting from the shared problem of being human and of living in a world in which the humanity of countless groups has been demeaned or denied Working outward from that point he proposes we obtain a more pragmatically grounded understanding of the social construction of the human being

Religion in the English Novel Michael Giffin,2020-10-23 Romanticism marked a dramatic turning point in philosophy and aesthetics The shift from Classicism to Romanticism to Modernism and its Posts is paralleled in the shift from Kant to Hegel to Nietzsche to Derrida The central notions of the Enlightenment nature progress rationalism and rejection of the irrational are opposed by the central notions of the Counter Enlightenment relativism vitalism anti rationalism and sense of the organic Then there is the idea of freedom at the heart of the West s religious and secular vocabularies The authors discussed in this study ask their readers to consider the question of freedom and constraints upon it For some freedom is found in Christianity for others Christianity is freedom s enemy

Human Rights and the Borders of Suffering Anne Brown,M. Anne Brown,2013-07-19 This electronic version has been made available under a Creative Commons BY NC ND open access license This book argues for greater openness in the ways we approach human rights and international rights promotion and in so doing brings some new understanding to old debates Starting with the realities of abuse rather than the liberal architecture of rights it casts human rights as a language for probing the political dimensions of suffering Seen in this context the predominant Western models of rights generate a substantial but also problematic and not always emancipatory array of practices These models are far from answering the questions about the nature of political community that are raised by the systemic infliction of suffering Rather than a simple message from us to them then rights promotion is a long and difficult conversation about the relationship between political organisations and suffering Three case studies are explored the Tiananmen Square massacre East Timor s violent modern history and the circumstances of indigenous Australians The purpose of these discussions is not to elaborate on a new theory of rights but to work towards rights practices that are more responsive to the spectrum of injury that we inflict and endure The book is a valuable and innovative contribution to rights debates for students of international politics political theory and conflict resolution as well as for those engaged in the pursuit of human rights

Jesus: Miriam's Child, Sophia's Prophet Elisabeth Schüssler Fiorenza,2015-11-19 In Jesus Miriam s Child Sophia s Prophet Elisabeth Schüssler Fiorenza makes a unique contribution to two quite different discussions of Jesus the Christ On the one hand she looks at biblical christology from a critical feminist perspective in the tradition of liberation theology On the other she examines the feasibility of a feminine christology by considering such problems as Christian anti Judaism ideological justification of domination religious exclusivism and the formation of patriarchal identity Re imagining the Jesus movement in a feminist key transcends the boundaries set by history gender and doctrine By assessing various Jesus traditions and interpretations in terms of whether they can engender liberating visions for today Schüssler Fiorenza seeks to challenge and transform a Christianity dominated by masculinity and exclusivist theological frameworks so that it offers a vision of justice and well being for all the central image in which is the reign the coming world of God This Cornerstones edition features a new extended introduction which takes into account the developments in the field since the work was originally published in 1994

The Dimensions of Global Citizenship Darren J. O'Byrne,2004-11-23 The Dimensions of Global Citizenship takes issue with the assumption that ideas about global citizenship are merely Utopian ideals The author argues that far from being a modern phenomenon world citizenship has existed throughout history as a radical alternative to the inadequacies of the nation state system Only in the post war era has this ideal become politically meaningful This social transformation is illustrated by references to the activities of global social movements as well as those of individual citizens Comparative Romanticisms Larry H. Peer, Diane Long Hoeveler, 1998 Essays on key aspects of Romanticism viewed in a wider European context Terror and Taboo Joseba Zulaika, William Douglass, 2016-04-22 Terror and Taboo is about the mythology of terrorism it is an exploration of the ways we talk about terrorism It offers incontestable evidence to support the idea that we give power to terrorism by the way we write and talk about it According to Zulaika and Douglass we make terrorism worse by the way we represent it in the media and in everyday conversation Through their examination of terrorism they propose to remove the taboos surrounding terrorism Terror and Taboo is full of examples to ground the authors premise ranging from specific examples such as tendency to talk more about where Timothy McVeigh shopped for weapons than about the international traffic in arms by legitimate nations to more theoretical interpretations that will be familiar to readers of cultural studies books (Con)Fusing Signs and Postmodern Positions Robert Neustadt, 2012-06-12 Foregrounding a strategy of experimental techniques which Neustadt call con fusing signs the book explores critical and political dimensions of contemporary Spanish American artistic practices that are often explained away in the vague name of postmodern fragmentation Con Fusing Signs explores the techniques consequences and purposes for this type of fragmentation This study reassesses the much discussed crisis of representation through an analysis of the complexity of political critique in areas as diverse and related as postmodernity military dictatorship and postcolonialism This book explores the manner in which multimedia artists Diamela Eltit Alejandro Jodorowsky and Guillermo G mez Pe a articulate political critiques through textual con fusion while paradoxically underscoring their inability to get outside of discourse The Essential Wayne Booth Wayne C. Booth, 2006-07-15 Publisher description Narrative Deconstructions of Gender in Works by Audrey Thomas, Daphne Marlatt, and Louise Erdrich Caroline Rosenthal, 2003 Study of three North American women novelists combining the standpoints of gender studies and narratology By analyzing the works of Thomas Marlatt and Erdrich through the lenses of subjectivity gender studies and narratology Caroline Rosenthal brings to light new perspectives on their writings Although all three authors write metafiction that challenge literary realism and dominant views of gender the forms of their counter narratives vary In her novel Intertidal Life Thomas traces the disintegration of an identity through narrative devices that unearth ruptures and contradictions in stories of gender In contrast Marlatt in Ana Historic challenges the regulatory fiction of heterosexuality She offers her protagonist a way out into a new order that breaks with the law of the father creating a monstrous text that explores the possibilities of a lesbian identity In her tetralogy of novels made up of Love Medicine Tracks The Beet Queen and The Bingo Palace Erdrich resists definite readings of femininity altogether By drawing on trickster narratives she creates an open system of gendered identities that is dynamic and unfinalizable positing the most fragmented worldview as the most enduring By applying gender and narrative theory to nuanced analysis of the texts

Rosenthal's study elucidates the correlation between gender identity formation and narrative. Caroline Rosenthal is Professor and Chair of American Literature at the Friedrich Schiller University in Jena, Germany. Her book Narrative Deconstructions of Gender was published by Camden House in 2003.

A Different Kind of War Story Carolyn Nordstrom, 1997-10-14 A deeply researched study into the nature of political violence.

Arab Intellectuals and American Power M.D. Walhout, 2020-10-01 Edward Said, the famous Palestinian American scholar and activist, was one of the twentieth century's most iconic public intellectuals whose pioneering and to some controversial work on Orientalism shaped Middle Eastern and postcolonial studies and beyond. But how exactly did he arrive at his famous maxim to speak truth to power? This dual biographical study examines the lives of Edward Said and the eminent Lebanese philosopher and diplomat Charles Malik, a distant relative 30 years his senior whom Said knew from childhood as Uncle Charles. To Said, Malik was no ordinary relative; in his memoir, he called Malik the great negative intellectual lesson of my life and was to describe him as an ideal as I was growing up, only to later claim Malik went through an ugly transformation that I could never come to terms with. M.D. Walhout charts the development of these two remarkable figures, reconstructing in the process the way in which American power in the Middle East came to have a defining effect on Arab intellectuals in the twentieth century. Exploring issues of religion and nationalism, Walhout shows how Said came to reject much of what Malik stood for: Christian faith, hardline anti-Communism, and the benign nature of American power. He argues that the example of Malik was instrumental in the development of Said's later belief that the true vocation of the intellectual was not to compromise with power but to resist it.

Ecological Thinking Lorraine Code, 2006-04-27 How could ecological thinking animate an epistemology capable of addressing feminist, multicultural, and other postcolonial concerns? Starting from an epistemological approach implicit in Rachel Carson's scientific practice, Lorraine Code elaborates the creative restructuring resources of ecology for a theory of knowledge. She critiques the instrumental rationality, abstract individualism, and exploitation of people and places that western epistemologies of mastery have legitimated to propose a politics of epistemic location sensitive to the interplay of particularity and diversity and focused on responsible epistemic practice. Drawing on ecological theory and practice on naturalized epistemology and on feminist and postcolonial theories, Code analyzes extended examples from developmental psychology and from two natural institutions of knowledge production: medicine and law. These institutions lend themselves well to a reconfigured naturalism. They are in practice empirically scientifically informed, specifically situated, and locally interpretive. With human subjects as their objects of knowledge, they invoke the responsibility requirements central to Code's larger project. This book discusses a wide range of literature in philosophy, social science, and ethico-political thought. Highly innovative, it will generate productive conversations in feminist theory and in the ethics and politics of knowledge more broadly conceived.
