Freedom's Coming Paul Harvey, 2012-09-01 In a sweeping analysis of religion in the post Civil War and twentieth century South Freedom's Coming puts race and culture at the center describing southern Protestant cultures as both priestly and prophetic as southern formal theology sanctified dominant political and social hierarchies evangelical belief and practice subtly undermined them The seeds of subversion Paul Harvey argues were embedded in the passionate individualism exuberant expressive forms and profound faith of believers in the region Harvey explains how black and white religious folk within and outside of mainstream religious groups formed a southern evangelical counterculture of Christian interracialism that challenged the theologically grounded racism pervasive among white southerners and ultimately helped to end Jim Crow in the South Moving from the folk theology of segregation to the women who organized the Montgomery bus boycott from the hymn inspired freedom songs of the 1960s to the influence of black Pentecostal preachers on Elvis Presley Harvey deploys cultural history in fresh and innovative ways and fills a decades old need for a comprehensive history of Protestant religion and its relationship to the central question of race in the South for the postbellum and twentieth century period

F. Davis, Black Experience in Natchez Counting the Cost of Freedom Amanda Laury Kleintop, 2025-08-19 During the Civil War the US government abolished slavery without reimbursing enslavers diminishing the white South's wealth by nearly 50 percent After the Confederacy's defeat white Southerners demanded federal compensation for the financial value of formerly enslaved people and fought for other policies that would recognize abolition's costs during Reconstruction As Amanda Laury Kleintop shows their persistence eventually led to the creation of Section 4 of the Fourteenth Amendment which abolished the right to profit from property in people Surprisingly former Confederates responded by using Lost Cause history making to obscure the fact that they had demanded financial redress in the first place The largely successful efforts of white Southerners to erase this history continues to generate false understandings today Kleintop draws from an impressive array of archival sources to uncover this lost history In doing so she demonstrates how this legal battle also undermined efforts by formerly enslaved people to receive reparations for themselves and their descendants a debate that persists in today's national dialogue Beyond Freedom David W. Blight, Jim Downs, 2017-11 This collection of eleven original essays interrogates the concept of freedom and recenters our understanding of the process of emancipation Who defined freedom and what did freedom mean to nineteenth century African Americans both during and after slavery Did freedom just mean the absence of constraint and a widening of personal choice or did it extend to the ballot box to education to equality of opportunity In examining such questions rather than defining every aspect of postemancipation life as a new form of freedom these essays develop the work of scholars who are looking at how belonging to an empowered government or community defines the outcome of emancipation Some essays in this collection disrupt the traditional story and time frame of emancipation Others offer trenchant renderings of emancipation with new interpretations of the language and politics of democracy Still others sidestep academic conventions to speak personally about the politics of emancipation historiography reconsidering how historians have used source material for understanding subjects such as violence and the suffering of refugee women and children Together the essays show that the question of freedom its contested meanings its social relations and its beneficiaries remains central to understanding the complex historical process known as emancipation Contributors Justin Behrend Gregory P Downs Jim Downs Carole Emberton Eric Foner Thavolia Glymph Chandra Manning Kate Masur Richard Newman James Oakes Susan O Donovan Hannah Rosen Brenda E Stevenson Mississippi Westley F.
