Freedom of the Mind in History Henry Osborn Taylor, 1923
Taylor, 2013-10 This is a new release of the original 1923 edition of the Mind in History Henry Osborn Taylor, 1924
History as the Story of Freedom Clark Butler, 1997 The purpose of this book is to advance responsible rehabilitation of the speculative philosophy of history It challenges the idea popularized by thinkers such as and Claude Levi Strauss and Jean Francois Lyotard that historical meta mythology and meta narrative are philosophically obsolete As long as humanity viewed anthropologically lives by over arching narrative the quest for a version that survives rational criticism remains vital Here human rights serve as the key to unlock such a version Despite the fact that the Hegelian philosophy of history has often been derided something very similar currently functions as the official ideology of the world community the idea of history as the story of freedom This book does not retell the world historical story of freedom Rather it uncovers it beginning with the current age of human rights and working backward through the great role model civilizations of history Its conclusion is that a forward retelling of the story of freedom as the story of human rights can be justified by dewesternizing the story The book contains critical responses from specialized scholars and representative of selected world cultures The volume includes illustrations and a guest Afterword by Donald Phillip Verene It is a companion volume to the author s Hegel s Logic Between History and Dialectic North western University Press 1996

Freedom and History H. D. Lewis, 2021-10-29 First published in 1962 Freedom and History expresses a deep concern about freedom and the way it is imperilled by misunderstandings The cause of freedom has not always been well served by its friends by presenting one sided ideas of freedom they have often paved the way for extreme forms of collectivism and despotism Professor Lewis examines works of T H Green and compares Green with Locke and Rousseau to show how much the attitude of Green and other idealists to questions of education the family punishment slavery and war was affected by the individualism that underlay their thought and the failure to pay due heed to the facts of moral perplexity This in turn is seen to owe much to the optimism of late nineteenth century thinkers and the belief in inevitable progress The volume also discusses the nature of history objectivity in history religion and history and law and morality Author subjects the works of writers like Reinhold Niebuhr Barbara Wootton Ian Ramsey Leonard Hodgson to close critical examination and presents his own ideas about the relation of theology to historical fact This book will be an essential read for scholars and researchers of political philosophy religion theology ethics moral philosophy and philosophy in general
