Uncommon Wealths in Postcolonial Fiction Helga Ramsey-Kurz, Melissa Kennedy, 2017-11-01 Uncommon Wealths in Postcolonial Fiction engages urgently with wealth testing current assumptions of inequality in order to push beyond reductive contemporary readings of the gaping abyss between rich and poor Shifting away from longstanding debates in postcolonial criticism focused on poverty and abjection the book marshals fresh perspectives on material spiritual and cultural prosperity as found in the literatures of formerly colonized spaces The chapters follow the money to illuminate postcolonial fiction's awareness of the ambiguities of wealth acquired under colonial capitalism and transmuted in contemporary neoliberalism They weigh idealistic projections of individual and collective wellbeing against the stark realities of capital accumulation and excessive consumption They remain alert to the polysemy suggested by Uncommon Wealths both registering the imperial economic urge to ensure common wealth and referencing the unconventional or non Western the unusual even fictitious and contrasting privately coveted and exclusively owned wealth with visions of a shared good Arranged into four sections centred on aesthetics injustice indigeneity and cultural location the individual chapters show how writers of postcolonial fiction including Aravind Adiga Amit Chaudhuri Anita Desai Patricia Grace Mohsin Hamid Stanley Gazemba Tomson Highway Lebogang Matseke Zakes Mda Michael Ondaatje Kim Scott and Alexis Wright employ prosperity and affluence as a lens through which to re-examine issues of race ethnicity gender and family the cultural value of heritage land and social cohesion and such conflicting imperatives as economic growth individual fulfilment social and environmental responsibility and just distribution

Fate and Freedom in the Novels of David Adams Richards Sara MacDonald, Barry Craig, 2017-05-04 This book explores the understanding of freedom developed in the later novels of celebrated Canadian author David Adams Richards Many reviewers highlight two interconnected features in Richards novels a seemingly rigid determinism of setting and sociodemographics and a resulting hopelessness In contrast Richards describes the quest of human life and the purpose of his novels as a search for freedom This book explores the account of freedom that is developed through the course of four of Richards s works The Friends of Meager Fortune Mercy Among the Children The Lost Highway and Crimes Against My Brother Following the Augustinian thread that informs Richards s writing we argue that rather than presenting an understanding of human life that is bleak or hopeless Richards instead reveals an argument wherein one s happiness and freedom is found in the midst of love

Music and Identity in Postcolonial British South-Asian Literature Christin Hoene, 2014-08-27 This book examines the role of music in British South Asian postcolonial literature asking how music relates to the construction of postcolonial identity It focuses on novels that explore the postcolonial condition in India Pakistan and the United Kingdom Vikram Seth s A Suitable Boy Amit Chaudhuri s Afternoon Raag Suhayl Saadi s Psychoraag Hanif Kureishi s The Buddha of Suburbia and The Black Album and Salman Rushdie s The Ground Beneath Her Feet with reference to other texts such as E M Forster s A Passage to India and Vikram Seth s An Equal Music The analyzed novels feature different kinds of music from Indian classical to non classical traditions and from Western classical music to pop music and rock n roll Music is depicted as a cultural artifact and as a purely aestheticized art form at the same time As a cultural artifact music derives meaning from its socio cultural context of production and serves as a frame of reference to explore postcolonial identities on their own terms As purely aesthetic art music escapes its contextual meaning The transgressive qualities of music render it capable of expressing identities irrespective of origin and politics of location Thereby music in the novels marks a very productive space to imagine the postcolonial nation and to rewrite imperial history to express the cultural hybridity of characters in between nations to analyze the state of the nation and life in the multicultural diaspora of contemporary Great Britain and to explore the ramifications of cultural globalization versus cultural imperialism It will be a useful research and teaching tool for those interested in postcolonial literature music studies cultural studies contemporary literature and South Asian literature

Black British Literature Mark Stein, 2004 In this fascinating book Mark Stein examines black British literature centering on a body of work created by British based writers with African South Asian or Caribbean cultural backgrounds Linking black British literature to the bildungsroman genre this study examines the transformative potential inscribed in and induced by a heterogeneous body of texts Capitalizing on their plural cultural attachments these texts portray and purvey the transformation of post imperial Britain Stein locates his wide ranging analysis in both a historical and a literary context He argues that a cross cultural and interdisciplinary approach is essential to understanding post colonial culture and society The book relates black British literature to ongoing debates about cultural diversity and thereby offers a way of reading a highly popular but as yet relatively uncharted field of cultural production With the collapse of its empire with large scale immigration from former colonies and with ever increasing cultural diversity Britain underwent a fundamental makeover in the second half of the twentieth century This volume cogently argues that black British literature is not only a commentator on and a reflector of this makeover but that it is simultaneously an agent that is integral to the processes of cultural and social change Conceptualizing the novel of transformation this comprehensive study of British black literature provides a compelling analytic framework for charting these processes

Cultural Allotropy Vinay Bharat, 2015-08-26 This research work spins around the issue of cultural allotropy which we all have experienced at different levels however a conscious realization regarding it might be missing to some extent Centuries of political intervention and subjugation by foreign countries results in the presence of a mixed culture and this side by side flourishing of two cultures seems now an accepted fact a part of mans consciousness But the presence of two contradictory sets of values one not fully accepted and the other not totally rejected gives rise to a difficult situation in the face of the conflicting claims of the two This gives rise to a mixing of cultures a blend which in other words may be called cultural allotropy that is existence of the culture of a particular region in two or more forms having different and mixed properties at the emotional or intellectual level at a given point of time Going beyond the political subjugation in the era of globalization it has now become a matter of economic and cultural subjugation Undoubtedly our cultural allotropy is a byproduct of modern economic compulsions also Through different Indian English novelists I have tried to intrigue the issues via different portrayals and characters and finally posed a question What is it to be an Indian
