Researching the Socio-Political Dimensions of Mathematics Education Paola Valero, Robyn Zevenbergen, 2006-04-11 Mathematics education research as a discipline is situated at the confluence of an array of diffuse seemingly incommensurable and radically divergent discourses Research claims that have grown out of mathematics education are wide ranging and antagonistic rather than circumscribed by hidebound disciplinary frames While there has never been a unified totalising discipline of knowledge labelled mathematics education research and while it has always been a contested terrain it is fair to say that the master paradigm out of which this field has been generated has been that of cognitive psychology Mainstream mathematics education knowledges refracting the master discourse of psychology whereby cognition serves as the central privileged and defining concept clearly delimits its possibilities for serving as a social tool of democratic transformation The central point of departure of this new collection is that mathematics education research is insufficiently univocal to support the type of uncompromising interpretation that cognitive psychologists would bring to it The hallmark contribution of this pathbreaking volume edited by Paola Valero and Robyn Zevenbergen is the paradigmatic shift the authors have effected in the field of mathematics education research taking up a position at the faultline of socio-cultural analysis and critical pedagogy

Mathematics for Social Justice Catherine A. Buell, Bonnie Shulman, 2021-11-17

Mathematics instructors are always looking for ways to engage students in meaningful and authentic tasks that utilize mathematics At the same time it is crucial for a democratic society to have a citizenry who can critically discriminate between fake and reliable news reports involving numeracy and apply numerical literacy to local and global issues This book contains examples of topics linking math and social justice and addresses both goals There is a broad range of mathematics used including statistical methods modeling calculus and basic algebra The range of social issues is also diverse including racial injustice mass incarceration income inequality and environmental justice There are lesson plans appropriate in many contexts service learning courses quantitative literacy reasoning courses introductory courses and classes for math majors What makes this book unique and timely is that the most previous curricula linking math and social justice have been treated from a humanist perspective This book is written by mathematicians for mathematics students Admittedly it can be intimidating for instructors trained in quantitative methods to venture into the arena of social dilemmas This volume provides encouragement support and a treasure trove of ideas to get you started The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the journal PRIMUS Problems Resources and Issues in Mathematics Undergraduate Studies presents exemplary research based practices that maximize students learning by utilizing their home based cultural language and literacy practices to help them meet school expectations Pre service teachers practicing teachers and teacher educators need both resources and knowledge including global perspectives about language variation in PreK 12 classrooms and hands on strategies that enable teachers to promote students use of their own language in the classroom while also addressing mandated content and performance standards This book meets that need Visit <http://www.ncte.org> for more information about NCTE books membership and other services

Teachers Act Up! Education And Democracy Pilar O'Cadiz,2018-03-08 This book has been almost seven years in the making Though the work has certainly not been continuous for all those years it was a major focus of the three of us for most of them It is a tribute to Paulo Freire his courage his humanity and the timelessness and relevancy of his ideas that our work on this manuscript was never tedious never dull and never a burden but rather a constant source of joy inspiration and discovery Although the book was always intended to be a critical but friendly description and analysis of Freire's efforts as Secretary of Education the need to disseminate information about this radical educational reform became even more urgent after the sad news of Paulo Freire's death in May 1997 Thus while this text is the result of the scholarly efforts of three researchers it is also a celebration of a revolutionary thinker who had the unique opportunity to make his ideas concrete and therefore affect the lives of countless young children in his native country We dedicate our efforts on this volume to Paulo Freire and to the hundreds of educators in Sao Paulo whom he inspired to work tirelessly in creating a happy democratic school dedicated to serving poor and working class children and their communities It has been our pleasure and privilege to have worked with Paulo Freire and the many educators involved in educational reform in Sao Paulo Their commitment courage political clarity and struggle for social justice and equality are a constant source of motivation and inspiration for us to renew and reinvigorate our own efforts in the fight for equal rights decency and justice

Picturing Research Linda Theron, Claudia Mitchell, Ann Smith, Jean Stuart, 2012-01-01 Picturing research drawing as visual methodology offers a timely analysis of the use of drawings in qualitative research Drawing can be a method in itself as in the research area of Visual Studies and also one that complements the use of photography video and other visual methodologies This edited volume is divided into two sections The first section provides critical commentary on the use of drawings in social science research addressing such issues of methodology as the politics of working with children and drawing ethical issues in working with both adults and children and some of the interpretive considerations The second section in its presentation of nine research based case studies illustrates the richness of drawings Each case study explores participatory research involving drawings that encourages social change or illustrates participant resilience These case studies also highlight the various genres of drawings including cartoons and storyboarding The book draws on community based research from a wide variety of contexts most in South Africa although it also includes work from Rwanda and Lesotho Given the high rates of HIV AIDS in sub Saharan Africa it should not be surprising that many of the chapters take up concerns such as the preparation of teachers and community health workers in the age of AIDS and the experiences of orphans and vulnerable children Moving further afield this book also includes work done with immigrant populations in Canada and with tribunals in Somalia and Australia Picturing research is an important resource for novice and experienced researchers interested in employing qualitative methodology that encourages rich yet low tech visible data and that offers a participatory enabling experience for participants and their communities

Be the Change Rita Verma, 2010 At a time when teachers are the scapegoats for all that is wrong with education Rita Verma and colleagues push back by illuminating the critical and creative roles that teachers and youth are playing to make education impactful The examples in this book model the possibilities for anti oppressive activism through education and inspire Kevin Kumashiro author of The Seduction of Common Sense How the Right has Framed the Debate on America's Schools National Service, Citizenship, and Political Education Eric B. Gorham, 1992-09-01 This book analyzes the issues surrounding civilian national service policy from a fresh and original perspective The author connects national service programs to the political theories of civic republicanism and communitarianism assesses the practical consequences of these theories and examines past youth service programs such as the CCC and Peace Corps to see if they are appropriate models or ideals for a national program Gorham engages the issue of compulsory versus voluntary service and questions whether service tasks can instill a sense of citizenship in young people as defenders of the program claim Using the work of Michel Foucault Charles Taylor Carole Pateman and others he suggests that national service as presently planned will not create the citizen so much as a post industrial and gendered subject In the concluding chapters he presents an argument for a democratic national service and offers an alternative program for policymakers to consider
