French Women Writers:

French Women Writers Eva Martin Sartori, Dorothy Wynne Zimmerman, 1994-01-01 Marie de France Mme De S vign and Mme De Lafayette achieved international reputations during periods when women in other European countries were able to write only letters translations religious tracts and miscellaneous fragments There were obstacles but French women writers were more or less sustained and empowered by the French culture Often unconventional in their personal lives and occupied with careers besides writing as educators painters actresses preachers salon hostesses labor organizers these women did not wait for Simone de Beauvoir to tell them to make existential choices and have projects in the world French Women Writers describes the lives and careers of fifty two literary figures from the twelfth century to the late twentieth All the contributors are recognized authorities Some of their subjects like Colette and George Sand are celebrated and others are just now gaining critical notice From Christine de Pizan and Marguerite de Navarre to Rachilde and H l _ne Cixous from Louise Labe to Marguerite Duras these women speak through the centuries to issues of gender sexuality and language French Women Writers now becomes widely available in this Bison Book edition

The Hysteric's Revenge Rachel Mesch, 2006 Brings into relief a critical relationship between the female mind and body that is essential to understanding the discursive position of the turn of the century woman writer This book includes novels that confront this mind body problem through a wide variety of styles and genres that challenge conventional fin de siecle notions of femininity

French Women Writers and the Book Tilde Sankovitch, 1988 Examines the work of French women writers Marie de France Simone de Beauvoir and Helene Cixous and three who are much less well known Madeline and Catherine des Roches and Marie de Gournay This study shows how they have dealt with the challenge of entering the male literary tradition

French Women's Writing 1848-1994 Diana Holmes, 2000-01-12 A wide range of French women writers are surveyed including Sand Colette Beauvoir and Duras among the canonized and many marginalized or forgotten and contemporary names not yet widely known outside France These writers are seen within the political economic and cultural context of women s lives and how these have changed across a century and a half Underpinning the whole account is the relationship between gender and language between politics sexual and textual

French Women Writers Eva M. Sartori, Dorothy Zimmerman, 1991 Aims to acquaint the reader with the lives and works of the most important women writers in the history of French literature 51 essays cover individual writers with an emphasis on their experiences as writers a discussion of their major themes and surveys of critical reactions

A History of Women's Writing in France Sonya Stephens, 2000-05-22 This volume was the first historical introduction to women s writing in France from the sixth century to the present day Specially commissioned essays by leading scholars provide an introduction in English to the wealth and diversity of French women writers offering fascinating readings and perspectives The volume as a whole offers a cohesive history of women s writing which has sometimes been obscured by the canonisation of a small feminine elite Each chapter focuses on a given period and a range of writers taking account of prevailing sexual ideologies and women's activities in or their relation to the social political economic and cultural surroundings Complemented by an extensive bibliography of primary and secondary works and a biographical guide to more than one hundred and fifty women writers it represents an invaluable resource for those wishing to discover or extend their knowledge of French literature written by women French Women Writers Project, 199? A searchable database containing works by French women authors from the 16th to the 19th century French Women's Writing Elizabeth Fallaize, 1993 Includes chapters on Marie Cardinal Chantal Chawaf Annie Ernaux Claire Etcherelli Jeanne Hyvrard Annie Leclerc Marie Redonnet and women's writing in the 1970s and 1980s French Women Authors Kelsey Lee Haskett, Holly Faith Nelson, 2013 From the overwhelmingly Christian culture of the Middle Ages and pre Enlightenment France to the wide diversity prevalent in post modern times including the rise of Islam within French borders a radical shift has permeated French society a shift that is reflected in the work of the writers chosen for this book Moreover the sensitivity of women writers to the individual side of spiritual life in contrast to the practices of organized religion also emerges as a major trend with women often being seen as a voice for social and religious change or for a more meaningful personal faith

French Women Writers and the Book Tilde A. Sankovitch, 1988-01-01 Women Writers in Pre-Revolutionary France Collette H. Winn, Donna Kuizenga, 2018-12-07 This extensive collection of English language essays examines the many strategies of resistance to male domination that women in France from the 16th through the 18th centuries utilized in their lives and their writings Women Writers in France: Variations on a Theme Germaine Brée, 1973 Fifty French women writers E. Sartori, The Forgotten Generation Jennifer E. Milligan, 1996 Introduction A Retrospective Overview 1 Coming to Writing 2 Miss Representations 3 Autobiographical Fallacies 4 Fictionalized Autobiographies 5 Re reading the Romance 6 Revising the Romance Conclusion Missing Links French Women Novelists: Defining a Female Style Adele King, 1989-06-18 A study of a female style of writing French English and American theories of how women's creative imagination and use of language may differ from conventional literary norms are examined in relation to the work of five of the best 20th century French women writers Early Modern French Women Writers, 1997 Worldwide Women Writers in Paris Alison Rice, 2021-12-16 Worldwide Women Writers in Paris examines a new literary phenomenon consisting of an unprecedented number of women from around the world who have come to Paris and become authors of written works in French It takes as its starting point a series of filmed interviews conducted in the French capital a set of recorded conversations motivated by a desire to pay homage to these discrete voices and images at a moment characterized by impressive diversity Their individual paths to France and to French are noteworthy and these authors of different generations and varying places of origin emphasize their singularity However the juxtaposition of their reflections reveals that many have faced similar difficulties when learning the French language adapting to life in France and many have encountered forms of prejudice in the publishing world related to their ethnicity or gender These challenges have led them each in an idiosyncratic manner to tackle tough topics in their work and to respond to adversity by finding effective creative expressions Taken together the innovations and interventions in oral and written form of these authors collectively contribute to significant change in the specialized score that is the Parisian literary landscape H l ne Cixous Algeria Zahia Rahmani Algeria Le la Sebbar Algeria Bessora Belgium Julia Kristeva Bulgaria Pia Petersen Denmark Maryse Cond Guadeloupe Eva Almassy Hungary Shumona Sinha India Chahdortt Djavann Iran Yumiko Seki Japan Evelynne Accad Lebanon Etel Adnan Lebanon Nathacha Appanah Mauritius Brina Svit Slovenia Eun Ja Kang South Korea Anna Mo Vietnam Voices from the Asylum Susannah Wilson,2005 Teaching Seventeenth- and Eighteenth-Century French Women Writers Faith E. Beasley,2011-01-01 Seventeenth and eighteenth century France has been celebrated as the period of conversation Salons flourished and became an important social force Women and men worked together in dialogue with their contemporaries other texts and their culture to create novels political satire drama poetry fairy tales travel narratives and philosophy Yet the inclusion of women s contributions only recently recovered changes the way we conceive of the period that constitutes one of the building blocks of French national identity and Western civilization and teachers are often unsure how and where to incorporate the texts into their courses Teaching Seventeenth and Eighteenth Century French Women Writers attempts to reconstruct these conversations by integrating women s work into classrooms across the curriculum The works of French women writers are crucial to courses on the early modern period and enliven many others whether on literature history women s history the history of science philosophy women s and gender studies or European civilization The essays included in part 1 provide necessary background and help instructors identify places in their courses that could be enriched by taking women s participation into account Contributors in part 2 focus on some of the central writers and genres of the period including Lafayette Charri re and Graffigny the epistolary novel convent writing and memoirs The essays in part 3 offer concrete descriptions of courses that place women s texts in dialogue with those of their male colleagues or with historical issues Contemporary French Women's Writing Shirley Ann Jordan,2004 In the 1990s the French literary arena was enlivened by the emergence of a new generation of women writers This book selects six of its most distinctive voices and addresses important questions about the very new in French women s writing What are young women choosing to write about What do they tell us about changing perceptions of feminine identities What does it mean to write and to read as women at the start of the new millennium An introductory chapter explores key issues such as the woman writer in the public imagination and continuity and change within French women s writing since the 1970s It also highlights thematic threads which recur across the work of the authors studied history and time wandering and exile self and other the body and sexuality and writing and telling The remaining chapters propose productive approaches to the fictional worlds of Marie Darrieussecq Virginie Despentes Marie Ndiaye Agn s Desarthe Lorette Nob court and Am lie Nothomb through close readings of their most challenging popular or telling texts They focus on perennial preoccupations in women s writing which are given new treatment by these writers and discuss important developments such as uses of the pornographic myth and fairy tale and parody and irony in new women's writing
