Literature and Translation Brian Nelson, Brigid Maher, 2013-10-15 This volume explores the relationship between literature and translation from three perspectives the creative dimensions of the translation process the way texts circulate between languages and the way texts are received in translation by new audiences The distinctiveness of the volume lies in the fact that it considers these fundamental aspects of literary translation together and in terms of their interconnections

Contributors examine a wide variety of texts including world classics poetry genre fiction transnational literature and life writing from around the world Both theoretical and empirical issues are covered with some contributors approaching the topic as practitioners of literary translation and others writing from within the academy The Limits of Auteurism

Nicholas Godfrey, 2018-05-10 The New Hollywood era of the late 1960s and early 1970s has become one of the most romanticized periods in motion picture history celebrated for its stylistic boldness thematic complexity and the unshackling of directorial ambition The Limits of Auteurism aims to challenge many of these assumptions Beginning with the commercial success of Easy Rider in 1969 and ending two years later with the critical and commercial failure of that film's twin progeny The Last Movie and The Hired Hand Nicholas Godfrey surveys a key moment that defined the subsequent aesthetic parameters of American commercial art cinema The book explores the role that contemporary critics played in determining how the movies of this period were understood and how in turn strategies of distribution influenced critical responses and dictated the conditions of entry into the rapidly codifying New Hollywood canon Focusing on a small number of industrially significant films this new history advances our understanding of this important moment of transition from Classical to contemporary modes of production The New York Times Guide to the Best 1,000 Movies Ever Made Peter M.

Nichols, 2004-02-21 From the film critics of The New York Times come these uncut original reviews of the most popular and influential movies ever made from the Talkies to blockbuster megahits like Chicago and The Wizard of Oz from timeless classics like Casablanca and Notorious to beloved foreign films by Truffaut and Kurosawa Fellini and Almodovar The reviews eloquent incisive and intuitive reflect Hollywood history at its best must have reading for movie lovers or Students In addition this essential volume includes Full cast and production credits for every movie The 10 Best lists for every year from 1931 to the present An index of films by genre and an index of foreign films by country of origin This edition is thoroughly updated to include all the important movies of the past several years as well as a new introduction by A Times film critic A O Scott

US Foreign Policy and the War on Drugs Cornelius Friesendorf, 2007-02-22 This book examines the geographic displacement of the illicit drug industry as a side effect of United States foreign policy To reduce the supply of cocaine and heroin from abroad the US has relied on coercion against farmers traffickers and governments but this has only exacerbated the world s drugs problems US Foreign Policy and the War on Drugs develops and applies a causal mechanism to explain the displacement analyzing US anti drug initiatives at different times and in various regions The findings clearly show that American foreign policy has been a major driving force behind the global spread of the illicit drug industry calling for urgent revision This book will be of interest to students of US foreign policy security studies and international relations in general
