Pardon My French Rachael Mogan McIntosh,2023-02-28 Uproarious and deliciously wise A pure delight Tori Haschka A Recipe for Family At the school gate when she accidentally kissed one new friend on the nose and called another a beautiful man horse Rachael realised that small town France could hardly be more different to beach side Australia The smell of cigarettes replaced the tang of bone broth and sprouted sourdough the neighbours sometimes came to blows and under no circumstances would anyone wear activewear in public Ever Muddling through every interaction in terrible French pushed Rachael s family to their limits Some days everybody cried and ate their feelings with almond croissants But the town of Sommi res embraced these ragtag Australians and the family fell in love with their temporary hometown and its outrageous gossip cobblestoned beauty and kind eccentric inhabitants Pardon My French is a candid hilarious love letter to family life and France with three valuable lessons for overcoming adversity make home a beautiful nest lean into the tough lessons and look for the comedy in everything

The Cosmic Embrace John Stevens,1999 Here is a survey through art from around the world of the sacred dimension of sexuality It demonstrates beyond a doubt that the notion of sexual relationships as something honorable nonpossessive fulfilling and beneficial is nothing new nor is the idea limited to the traditions of the mystic East John Stevens shows how world sexual traditions have always had the spiritual as their highest goal His survey looks at art from China India Native American traditions ancient Europe Japan the South Pacific Southeast Asia Tibet Greece Africa and Mexico as well as art by modern artists like Eric Gill The book includes an extensive bibliography

Jean-Jacques Lebel and French Happenings of the 1960s Laurel Jean Fredrickson,2021-03-25 Combining a broad overview of Jean Jacques Lebel s coming of age among Surrealists and his rupture with the movement Laurel Jean Fredrickson focuses on two landmark happenings in this book the first Funeral of the Thing of Tinguely 1960 and the most scandalous 120 Minutes dedicated to the Divine Marquis 1966 This study illustrates the development and significance of

French happenings in relation to cultural and political changes of the 1960s Research in Lebel's archives and others like the Archives nationales d'outre mer are indispensable in the telling of this extraordinary historical and theoretical narrative It illuminates sensitive often veiled dimensions of postwar French society from torture during the Algerian War to government censorship to the sexual politics of nudity in art This volume shows how Lebel synthesized the lessons of Dada and surrealism and 1960s experimentalism electrified by political radicalism to participate in shaping the erotics and forms of revolution in May 1968

Eroticism in French Literature, 1983

Joie de Vivre in French Literature and Culture Susan Harrow, Timothy A. Unwin, 2009 The apparent self-sufficiency of joie de vivre means that despite the widespread use of the phrase since the late nineteenth century the concept has rarely been explored critically Joie de vivre does not readily surrender itself to examination for it is in a sense too busy being what it is However as the essays in this collection reveal joie de vivre can be as complex and variable a state as the more negative emotions or experiences that art and literature habitually evoke This volume provides an urgently needed study of an intriguing and under-explored area of French literature and culture from the Middle Ages to the contemporary era While the range and content of contributions embraces linguistics literature art sport and politics the starting point is like that of the term joie de vivre itself in French language and culture This volume will be of special interest to researchers across the full range of French studies from literature and language to cultural studies It will be of direct appeal to specialist readers university libraries graduate and undergraduate students and general readers with a lively interest in French literature and culture of the medieval early modern and broad modern periods This book's fresh perspectives on the theme of joie de vivre and its relation to questions of privacy contemplation voyeurism feasting and nationhood will also be of relevance to researchers in comparative and cognate disciplines

A Study of Erotic Literature in England W. v. Murat, 2019-09-24 The present work fills a gap as it attempts to offer a history of erotic literature published in the United Kingdom The word Study in the title is perhaps a bit exaggerated as the material is largely taken from the now well known bibliographies by Pisanus Fraxi Henry Spencer Ashbee and quotations from the books themselves The time line is WW II Who was the author He may have been Charles Reginald Dawes 1879 1964 who is supposed to have written but not published a text of this or a similar title His profession or his activities are not known he once called himself a writer but library catalogues credit him only with two publications The Marquis de Sade Paris 1927 and Retif de la Bretonne London 1946 privately printed He may have been a popular writer under pseudonyms though Dawes owned a good erotica collection which he willed to the British Museum Library that would explain why the author of this Study if he was Dawes could quote freely from erotic texts which only few of his contemporaries would have had available The main merits of this book are that the author was thoroughly familiar with English and French erotic literature and that he put his material in chronological order and in context The editor added a number of references illustrations and indices of personal names and titles to facilitate navigation

The French Invention of Menopause and the Medicalisation of Women's Ageing Alison M. Downham Moore, 2022-10-06 Doctors writing about menopause in France vastly outnumbered those in other cultures throughout the entire nineteenth century The concept of menopause was invented by French male medical students in the aftermath of the French Revolution becoming an important pedagogic topic and a common theme of doctors professional identities in postrevolutionary biomedicine Older women were identified as an important patient cohort for the expanding medicalisation of French society and were advised to entrust themselves to the hygienic care of doctors in managing the whole era of life from around and after the final cessation of menses However menopause owed much of its conceptual weft to earlier themes of women as the sicker sex of vitalist crisis of the vapours and of astrological climacteric years This is the first comprehensive study of the origins of the medical concept of menopause richly contextualising its role in nineteenth century French medicine and revealing the complex threads of meaning that informed its invention It tells a complex story of how women s ageing featured in the demographic revolution in modern science in the denigration of folk medicine in the unique French field of hygiene and in the fixation on women in the emergence of modern psychiatry It reveals the nineteenth century French origins of the still current medical and alternative health approaches to women s ageing as something to be managed through gynaecological surgery hormonal replacement and lifestyle intervention

Love, Desire and Transcendence in French Literature Paul Gifford, 2016-12-05 European literature and theory of the twentieth century have been intensely preoccupied with questions of Desire whereas love has increasingly represented a fractured and strange if not actually suspect proposal this is a prime symptom of an age of deep cultural mutation and uncertainty Paul Gifford s book allows this considerable contemporary phenomenon to be observed steadily and whole with strategic understanding of its origins nature and meaning Gifford paints a clear and coherent picture of the evolution of erotic ideas and their imaginary and formal expressions in modern French writing He first retraces the formative matrix of French tradition by engaging with five classic sources Plato's Symposium the Song of Songs the myth of Genesis the tension between Greek Eros and Christian Agape and the repercussions of Nietzsche's declaration of the death of God Modern variations on these perennial problematics are then pursued in ten chapters devoted to Proust Valéry Claudel Breton Bataille Duras Barthes Irigaray Emmanuel Kristeva Literary and theoretical perspectives are perfectly blended in his study of these attempts at deciphering Eros The book will appeal not only to students of French literature but to all those interested in the cultural upheavals of the twentieth century

The Erotic Whitman Vivian R. Pollak, 2000-08-04 In this provocative analysis of Whitman's exemplary quest for happiness Vivian Pollak skillfully explores the intimate relationships that contributed to his portrayal of masculinity in crisis She maintains that in representing himself as a characteristic nineteenth century American and in proposing to heal national ills Whitman was trying to temper his own inner conflicts as well The poet's expansive vision of natural eroticism and of unfettered comradeship between democratic equals was however only part of the story As Whitman waged a conscious campaign to challenge misogynistic and homophobic literary codes he promoted a raceless classless ideal of sexual democracy that theoretically equalized all varieties of desire and resisted none Pollak suggests that this goal remains imperfectly achieved in his writings which liberates some forbidden voices and silences others Integrating biography and criticism Pollak employs a loosely chronological organization to describe the poet's multifaceted faith in sex Drawing on his early fiction journalism poetry and self reviews as well as letters and notebook entries she shows how in spite of his personal ambivalence about sustained erotic intimacy Whitman came to imagine himself as the phallic choice of America

Resistance, Flight, Creation Dorothea Olkowski, 2000 Thirteen women at the forefront of philosophy locate new feminist points of view within the discipline by rigorously engaging works of contemporary French philosophy In so doing they both transform the standard practices of the field and carve out new territory These writers amplify the work of feminist philosophers such as Simone de Beauvoir Luce Irigaray and Sarah Kofman in ways that are both stylistically and substantively creative They also appropriate for radical feminist use the works of male philosophers such as Michel Foucault Gilles Deleuze Maurice Merleau-Ponty and Jean-Paul Sartre The essays illustrate the manner in which feminist philosophers bypass traditional methodology in favor of a disciplinary freedom characterized by fluid methodologies best exemplified in Beauvoir's work and by the employment of imaginative forms including the autobiographical and the poetic The modes of inquiry used here range variously from psychoanalysis and existentialism to deconstruction post-structuralism and newly resurgent phenomenology This volume also contains a comprehensive bibliography of feminist thinkers who are enacting French philosophy in English German and French
