Freshwater Saga Memoirs Of A Lifetime Of Wilderness Canoeing:

Freshwater Saga Eric W. Morse, 1987-01-01 Morse loved canoeing This memoir is a celebration of his ruling passion and the friends who shared it with him

Inheriting a Canoe Paddle Misao Dean, 2013-01-01 Inheriting a Canoe Paddle emphasizes the importance of self consciously evaluating the meaning we give to canoes as objects and to canoeing as an activity

Canoe Nation Bruce Erickson, 2013-06-15 More than an ancient means of transportation and trade the canoe has come to be a symbol of Canada itself In Canoe Nation Bruce Erickson argues that the canoe s sentimental power has come about through a set of narratives that attempt to legitimize a particular vision of Canada that overvalues the nation s connection to nature From Alexander Mackenzie to Grey Owl to Pierre Elliott Trudeau the canoe authenticates Canada s reputation as a tolerant environmentalist nation even when there is abundant evidence to the contrary Ultimately the stories we tell about the canoe need to be understood as moments in the ever contested field of cultural politics

Canoe Country Roy MacGregor, 2016-05-10 One of our favourite chroniclers of all things Canadian presents a rollicking personal photo filled history of the relationship between a country and its canoes From the earliest explorers on the Columbia River in BC or the Mattawa in Ontario to a doomed expedition of voyageurs up the Nile to rescue Khartoum from the author s family roots deep in the Algonquin wilderness to modern families who have canoed across the country kids and dogs included Canoe Country is Roy MacGregor s celebration of the essential and enduring love affair Canadians have with our first and still favourite means of getting around Famous paddlers have been so enchanted with the canoe that one swore God made Canada as the perfect country in which to paddle it Drawing on MacGregor s own decades spent whenever possible with a paddle in his hand this is a story of high adventure on white water and the sweetest peace in nature s quietest corners from the author best able and most eager to tell it

Thelon David F. Pelly, 1996-06-30 David Pelly tells the Thelon s story exploring the mystery of Man s relationship with this special place in the heart of Canada s vast Arctic barrenlands From Thanadelthur and Telaruk to J W Tyrrell John Hornby and Eric Morse the history is detailed complete and exciting The Thelon is the setting for a compelling Canadian adventure tale with all its drama intrigue joy and tragedy But the writer goes beyond that to contemplate the significance of the Thelon wilderness and to examine its uncertain future It is the richness of human experience layered on top of the natural splendour of the river valley and its wildlife that really sets the Thelon apart The place has a history both Native and non Native which gives it standing beyond the intrinsic value of wilderness itself David Pelly writes as one who has been there time and again He knows the Thelon from personal experience As a freelance writer for 20 years he has travelled many parts of the Arctic but claims that nowhere draws me back more powerfully than the Thelon

The Lure of Faraway Places Herb Pohl, 2007-05-11 The Lure of Faraway Places is the publication canoeist Herb Pohl 1930 2006 did not live to see published But Pohl s words and images provide a unique portrait of Canada by one who was happiest when travelling our northern waterways alone Austrian born Herb Pohl died at the mouth of the Michipicoten River on July 17 2006

He is remembered as Canada's most remarkable solo traveller. While mourning their loss, Herb Pohl's friends found to their surprise and delight a manuscript of wilderness writings on his desk in his lakeside apartment in Burlington, Ontario. He had hoped one day to publish his work as a book. With help and commentary from best-selling canoe author and editor James Raffan, Natural Heritage is proud to present that book. Herb's book, The Lure of Faraway Places, there's nothing like it in canoeing literature, says Raffan. It's part journal, part memoir, part wilderness philosophy and part tips and tricks of the most pragmatic kind, written about parts of the country most of us will never see by the most committed and ambitious solo canoeist in Canadian history.

A Brief Time in Heaven Darryl Blazino, 2013-02-23 What starts as a simple fishing trip becomes a cathartic experience in the untamed wilderness of Ontario's northwestern canoe country. A nine-day fishing trip turns into a profound life-altering event and marks the beginning of a lifelong love affair with the untamed wilderness of Canoe Country in northwestern Ontario. Author Darryl Blazino describes how he became entranced by the beauty and wonder of a land that beckoned him back again and again. This collection of personal stories captures a range of experiences and emotions, highlighting the very best and very worst of times gleaned from more than 12 years worth of adventures in the great outdoors. Incredible close-up intimate encounters with wildlife, harrowing brushes with danger, the challenges of wilderness camping with small children, and moments of intense splendour and serenity are told in descriptive detail and illustrated with breathtaking photography.

Canexus James Raffan, Bert Horwood, 1988-06-30 A symbol unique to Canada, the canoe is one of the greatest gifts of First Peoples to all those who came after.

Tourism and Leisure Mobilities Jillian Rickly, Kevin Hannam, Mary Mostafanezhad, 2016-07-15 This book reframes tourism as well as leisure within mobilities studies to challenge the limitations that dichotomous understandings of home, away, work, leisure, and host/guest bring. A mobilities approach to tourism and leisure encourages us to think beyond the mobilities of tourists to ways in which tourism and leisure experiences bring other mobilities into sync or disorder and, as a result, re-conceptualizes social theory. The proposed anthology stretches across academic disciplines and fields of study to illustrate the advantages of multi-disciplinary conversation and, in so doing, it challenges how we approach studies of movement-based phenomena and the concept of scale. Part One examines the ways in which mobility informs and is informed by leisure, from everyday practices to leisure-inspired mobile lifestyles. Part Two investigates individuals and communities that become entrepreneurial in the face of changing tourism contexts and reflects on the performance of work through multiple mobilities. Part Three turns to issues of development with attention to the cultural politics that frame development encounters in the context of tourism. The varied ways that people move into and out of development projects is mediated by geopolitical discourses that can both challenge and perpetuate geographic imaginations of tourism destinations.

Fascinating Canada John Robert Colombo,2011-05-27 Few people have read as widely in the field of Canadiana as has John Robert Colombo The curiosity of this Toronto writer editor and anthologist knows few if any bounds when it comes to the lore literature history culture and character of Canada He has an inquiring mind and he seems able to find national and even international twists to subjects of interest or importance Fascinating Canada his latest book is the product of over half a century of research reading writing and thinking Some years ago the author produced a trilogy of question and answer books 1 000 Questions about Canada 999 Questions about Canada 1 000 Questions about Canada The first two were published by Doubleday Canada the third one in 2001 by Dundurn Press The same format is adapted to the material in the present book but this time the majority of the questions are short whereas a good many of the answers are quite long discussions of the subjects at hand concise questions followed by considered answers Here is a book about the Canadian past present and future The information in Fascinating Canada is organized under four headings People Places Things Ideas and there is a
