Going To Playschool:

Starting Playschool- Mini-Pals Go, Too Chris Hancock,2013-02 This is a little book to help children who have anxiety about separation when they start playschool or nursery Sometimes when we feel sad or lonely we hold onto things which remind us of those we love and that we are loved A much loved item such as a Special Toy a Mini Pal Mini Mum or Mini Dad Brother Sister or Grandparent or anyone else can be a symbol of love and used to give comfort and reassurance If the child does not have a special toy there may be small pockettoys which could be used with these books or parents may prefer to make their own

Go Play Outside! Nancy Fresco,2021-01-15 Having children doesn't mean that you can't enjoy every season in the great outdoors even if you happen to live in the middle of Alaska Whether you're biking eighty miles into the heart of Denali National Park cross country skiing to a remote cabin or merely enjoying the mud on the banks of the Chena River in downtown Fairbanks fun for all ages abounds with a little preparation and the right mindset Using a deft mixture of storytelling and practical pointers this guidebook offers advice and encouragement to families those who live in Alaska as well as those in less extreme climates and locales Organized by the age of the young adventures from days old infants to independent teens each section invites readers to learn from the humorous real life adventures and misadventures of the author her husband and their twin girls Weaving in the kids advice in their own words this guide covers challenges ranging from unexpected hailstorms to very much expected mosquitoes Tips include everything from how to avoid moose to how to get out in the rain to the benefits of setting big kids free to explore This family's enthusiastic joyful and often hilarious tales offer the impetus and the tools to encourage new parents or more experienced parents or anyone who loves kids to go play outside

Assessment and Therapy for Young Dysfluent Children Lena Rustin,Elaine Kelman,1995-06-08 Clinicians continue to be anxious about the assessment and treatment of dysfluency but all the evidence suggests that early intervention is of primary importance in preventing long term chronic stuttering This practical programme aims to provide the means to assess the child's speech and language and the family life style to identify the children at risk and to plan appropriate treatment for the child concerned
