the help of a secret society the Devorants but when at last he enters he learns a bitter truth not only about the girl but about his own half sister His erotic quest ends in bloodshed The Girl with the Golden Eyes is one of the most memorable and fantastic episodes in Balzac s Human Comedy its dark vision of Paris and human sexuality an inspiration to Oscar Wilde in Salom and to Marcel Proust whose Baron de Charlus praises its author for his knowledge even of those passions which the rest of the world ignores or studies only to castigate them The Girl with the Golden Eyes and Other Stories Honoré de Balzac,2012-11-08 What holds sway over this country without morals beliefs or feelings Gold and pleasure Sexual attraction artistic insight and the often ironic relationship between them is the dominant theme in the three short works collected in this volume In Sarrasine an impetuous young sculptor falls in love with a diva of the Roman stage but rapture turns to rage when he discovers the reality behind the seductiveness of the singer s voice The ageing artist in The Unknown Masterpiece obsessed with his creation of the perfect image of an ideal woman tries to hide it from the jealous young student who is desperate for a glimpse of it And in The Girl with the Golden Eyes the hero is a dandy whose attractiveness for the mysterious Paquita has an unexpected origin These enigmatic and disturbing forays into the margins of madness sexuality and creativity show Balzac spinning fantastic tales as profound as any of his longer fictions His mastery of the seductions of storytelling places these novellas among the nineteenth century s richest explorations of art and desire ABOUT THE SERIES For over 100 years Oxford World s Classics has made available the widest range of literature from around the globe Each affordable volume reflects Oxford s commitment to scholarship providing the most accurate text plus a wealth of other valuable features including expert introductions by leading authorities helpful notes to clarify the text up to date bibliographies for further study and much more Mesmerized by his Golden Eyes: A Werewolf Fated Mates Romance (The Lost Alpha Book 1) Aretha,2023-03-21 I can feel my legs hurting as I kept on running rushing out of the woods I once considered as my safe place I can t stop I can t let them catch up on me I can t let those same creatures that killed my Nona kill me too She told me to live and so I will But seeing the hypnotizing beauty of the moon I can t help but stop and adore its magnificence It s beauty is commanding me to stare and so I gazed at it But from the corner of my eye I can see the same creature approaching But instead of feeling fear calmness rushed over my body as I gaze at a pair of golden eyes so different from the cold blue ones that killed my Nona Seeing those golden eyes suddenly the Moon doesn t look as magnificent anymore because it is those pair of golden eyes that matters more Reflections in a Golden Eye Carson McCullers,2000 A reprint of the 1941 novel about the sad and tragic lives of the Pendertons and the Langdons two military couples living on an army base in the American South in the 1930s What Does a Woman Want? Manet and the Family Romance Nancy Locke, 2001. Édouard Manet's paintings have long been recognized for being visually compelling and uniquely recalcitrant. While critics have noted the presence of family members and intimates in paintings such as Le Déjeuner sur l'herbe, Nancy Locke takes an unprecedented look at the significance of the artist's family relationships for his art. Locke argues that a kind of mythology of the family or Freudian family romance frequently structures Manet's compositional decisions and choice of models. By looking at the representation of the family as a volatile mechanism for the development of sexuality and of repression, conflict, and desire, Locke brings powerful new interpretations to some of Manet's most complex works. Locke considers, for example, the impact of a father-son drama rooted in a closely guarded family secret: the adultery of Manet's father and the status of Léon Leenhoff. Her nuanced exploration of the implications of this story that Manet, in fact, married his father's mistress makes us look afresh at even well-known paintings such as Olympia. This book sheds new light on Manet's infamous interest in gypsies, street musicians, and itinerants. As Locke analyzes the activities of Manet's father as a civil judge, she also reexamines the close friendship between Manet and the Impressionist painter Berthe Morisot, who married Manet's brother. Morisot becomes the subject of a series of meditations on the elusiveness of the self, the transience of identity, and conflicting concerns with appearances and respectability. Manet and the Family Romance offers an entirely new set of arguments about the cultural forces that shaped these alluring paintings.

John Huston as Adaptor Douglas McFarland, Wesley King, 2017-01-28 John Huston as Adaptor makes the case that adaptation is the salient element in Huston s identity as a filmmaker and that his early and deep attraction to the experience of reading informed his approach to film adaptation Thirty four of Huston s thirty seven films were adaptations of literary texts and they stand as serious interpretations of literary works that could only be made by an astute reader of literature Indeed Huston asserted that a film director should be above all else a reader and that reading itself should be the intellectual and emotional basis for filmmaking The seventeen essays in this volume not only address Huston as an adaptor but also offer an approach to adaptation studies that has been largely overlooked How an adaptor reads the works to which he is drawn and how his literary interpretations can be brought to the screen without relegating film to a subservient role are some of the issues addressed by the contributors An introductory chapter identifies Huston as the quintessential Hollywood adaptor and argues that his skill at adaptation is the mark of his authorial signature The chapters that follow focus on fifteen of Huston s most important films including The Maltese Falcon 1941 The Treasure of the Sierra Madre 1948 The African Queen 1951 The Night of the Iguana 1964 Under the Volcano 1984 and The Dead 1987 and are divided into three areas aesthetics and textuality history and social context and theory and psychoanalysis By offering a more comprehensive account of the centrality of adaptation to Huston s films John Huston as Adaptor offers a greater understanding of Huston as a filmmaker
