The Golfer's Guide to the Meaning of Life Gary Player, 2001-10-12 On the Nature of Champions The most significant common intangible among the truly great is that they enjoy adversity They want to be put in fear inducing situations because they know it is the ultimate test The true prize is not the trophy Rather the prize is the knowledge that at precisely the right moment one is able to exercise absolute self control and precise judgment On Fate We who play the game know that sometimes we get pleasant and unexpected surprises such as a hole in one or a ball that skips off the water and onto dry land We also know we are equally likely to get a bad break a wild bounce of the ball a sudden gust of wind The game leaves us no choice but to accept the good with the bad and to move on to the next shot On Competition The game of golf challenges your mind anew every single day and presents you with the ultimate opponent yourself I ve always been amazed that people can derive so much satisfaction out of beating others when they have never taken the ultimate test of battling themselves On the Role of Mind The swing is not the thing The professional tours were and still are loaded with people who can swing the golf club as gracefully as you please That does not make them great players The difference between being a good swinger of the club and a great player lies between the ears in the mind To keep your mind open to learning new things is to keep progressing forward in life On Positive Thinking I will say without hesitation that you cannot achieve any goal if you have negative thoughts running through your head You must have positive and what might even seem to others bold thoughts This is not to say that you should ignore the strengths of an opponent whether on the golf course on a sales call or in the boardroom Acknowledge his strengths Yes Dwell on them No
