Advances in Chemical Signals in Vertebrates Robert E. Johnston, Dietland Müller-Schwarze, Peter W. Sorenson, 2012-12-06 The field of olfactory research and chemical communication is in the early stages of revolutionary change and many aspects of this revolution are reflected in the chapters in this book Thus it should serve admirably as an up to date reference First a wide range of vertebrate groups and species are represented Second there are excellent reviews of specific topics and theoretical approaches to communication by odors including chapters on signal specialization and evolution in mammals the evolution of hormonal pheromones in fish alarm pheromones in fish chemical repellents the chemical signals involved in endocrine responses in mice and the controversy over human pheromones Third there are exciting new findings presented in numerous specific topic areas such as the chemis try of pheromones in a wide range of species salamanders to elephants the chemistry of proteins that control the release of pheromones the molecular biology and physiology of detection coding and response to odor signals the effects of experience on sensitivity to odors the role of genes of the immune system in odor production and in human mate choice the function and perception of scent over marks the recognition of individuals and kin by odors the influence of odors on predator prey interactions and the use of odors to help control pests This book is an offshoot of the Eighth International Symposium on Chemical Sig nals in Vertebrates held at Cornell University in Ithaca New York July 20 25 1997 hosted and organized by Bob Johnston Typical and Impaired Processing in Morphosyntax Vincent Torrens, 2020-10-15 The present volume presents research on language processing and language disorders Topics range across typical language processing child developmental language disorders adult neurodegenerative disorders and neurological bases of typical or impaired brains The chapters cover a number of linguistic phenomena including relative clauses empty categories determiner phrases and inflectional morphology Work in this collection uses a variety of experimental methods both online and offline such as eye tracking reaction times Event Related Potentials picture selection sentence elicitation and picture matching tasks This book will be useful for linguists speech therapists and psycholinguists working on the processing of morphosyntax Utkast till Elefantens Naturalhistoria ... Med tvenne i koppar graverade tabeller, ritade och tillika med texten utgifne af I. W. Palmstruch Conrad QUENSEL, 1804 BACCHIUS IUDAEUS James M. Scott, 2015-08-19 James M Scott examines a denarius minted in Rome in 55 bce which is visually fascinating but conceptually enigmatic On its obverse around the head of a female figure with turreted crown appears the name A Plautius who held the office of aedilis curulis in that year on its reverse is a camel in front of which a male figure kneels on his right leg holding the camel s reins in his left hand and extending a branch in his right hand the legend reads BACCHIVS IVDAEVS Scott s study argues that the oft suggested connection between Aristobulus gift of the golden vine from the Temple and the Bacchius Iudaeus denarius does seem to merit further investigation To that end he examines first Pompey s own agenda in having the coin minted It is shown that the year the denarius appeared 55 bce was the same year in which Pompey dedicated his spectacular theater temple in Rome and furthermore that these very public displays are related as expressions of Pompey's Dionysian pretensions. Second, Scott examines each element of the denarius in question looking for clues as to the meaning of Bacchus Iudaeus. It is shown that the Latin inscription refers first and foremost to the god Bacchus Dionysus via an interpretatio Romana. Finally, he explores the possible implications of his investigation for the precise date of the fall of Jerusalem in 63 BCE. Scott's study delves deeply into Judaism at the beginning of the Roman era using the Roman coin to highlight the complex interface between Greco-Roman and Jewish religious-cultural institutions of the period.
