Elephant Memories Thirteen Years In The Life Of An Elephant Family:

Elephant Memories Cynthia Moss, 2000 Cynthia Moss has studied the elephants in Kenya's Amboseli National Park for over twenty seven years. Her long term research has revealed much of what we now know about these complex and intelligent animals. Here she chronicles the lives of the members of the T families led by matriarchs Teresia, Slit Ear, Torn Ear, Tania and Tuskless. With a new afterword catching up on the families and covering current conservation issues, Moss's story will continue to fascinate animal lovers. One is soon swept away by this Babar for adults. By the end one even begins to feel an aversion for people. One wants to curse human civilization and cry out, 'Now God stand up for the elephants.' Christopher Lehmann Haupt, New York Times. Moss speaks to the general reader with charm as well as scientific authority. An elegantly written and ingeniously structured account. Raymond Sokolov, Wall Street Journal. Moss tells the story in a style so conversational that I felt like a privileged visitor riding beside her in her rickety Land Rover as she showed me around the park. Sarah Blaffer Hrdy, New York Times Book Review. A prose poem celebrating a species from which we could learn some moral as well as zoological lessons. Chicago Tribune. Touching Space, Placing Touch Mark Paterson, Martin Dodge, 2016-02-24. Given that touch and touching is so central to everyday embodied existence, why has it been largely ignored by social scientists for so long? What is the place of touch in our mixed spaces of sociality, work, domesticity, recreation, creativity or care? What conceptual resources and academic languages can we reach towards when approaching tactile activities and somatic experiences through the body? How is this tactile landscape gendered? How is touch becoming revisited and revalidated in late capitalism through animal encounters, tourism, massage, beauty treatments, professional medicine, everyday spiritualities or the aseptic touch free spaces of automated toilets? How is touch placed and valued within scholarly fieldwork and research itself integral as it is to the production of embodied epistemologies? How is touch involved in such aesthetic experiences as shaping objects in sand or encountering fleshly bodies within a painting? The goal of this edited collection Touching Space, Placing Touch is twofold: 1. To further advance theoretical and empirical understanding of touch in social science scholarship by focussing on the differential social and cultural meanings of touching and the places of touch. 2. To develop a multi faceted and interdisciplinary explanation of touch in terms of individual and social life, personal experiences and tasks and their related cultural contexts. The twelve essays in this volume provide a rich combination of theoretical resources, methodological approaches and empirical investigation. Each chapter takes a distinct aspect of touch within a particular spatial context, exploring this through a mixture of sustained empirical work, critical theories of embodiment, philosophical and psychoanalytic approaches to gendered touch and touching or the relationship between visual and non visual culture to articulate something of the variety and variability of touching experiences. The contributors are a mixture of established and emerging researchers within a growing interdisciplinary field of scholarship, yet the volume has a strong thematic identity and therefore represents the formative collection concerning the multiple senses of touch within social science scholarship at this time Animals and Nature Rod Preece, 2011-11-01 No one tradition alone offers a sufficient respect for other species Taken together they may offer a prospect for saner human animal relations From the book Western conceptions of objectivity and individuality have resulted in a readier appreciation of the worth of the animals and nature than has been recognized This provocative book takes issue with the popular view that the Western cultural tradition in contrast to Eastern and Aboriginal traditions has encouraged attitudes of domination and exploitation towards nature particularly animals Preece argues that the Western tradition has much to commend it and that descriptions of Aboriginal and Oriental orientations have often been misleadingly rosy simplified and codified according to current fashionable concepts Animals and Nature is the result of six years intensive study into comparative religion literature philosophy anthropology mythology and animal welfare science The Evolved Nest Darcia Narvaez, PhD, G. Extraterrestrial Altruism Douglas A. Vakoch, 2013-09-14 Extraterrestrial Altruism examines a basic assumption of the Search for Extraterrestrial Intelligence SETI that extraterrestrials will be transmitting messages to us for our benefit This question of whether extraterrestrials will be altruistic has become increasingly important in recent years as SETI scientists have begun contemplating transmissions from Earth to make contact Technological civilizations that transmit signals for the benefit of others but with no immediate gain for themselves certainly seem to be altruistic But does this make biological sense Should we expect altruism to evolve throughout the cosmos or is this only wishful thinking Is it dangerous to send messages to other worlds as Stephen Hawking has suggested or might humankind benefit from an exchange with intelligence elsewhere in the galaxy Would extraterrestrial societies be based on different ethical principles or would we see commonalities with Earthly notions of morality Extraterrestrial Altruism explores these and related questions about the motivations of civilizations beyond Earth providing new insights that are critical for SETI Chapters are authored by leading scholars from diverse disciplines anthropology astronomy biology chemistry computer science cosmology engineering history of science law philosophy psychology public policy and sociology The book is carefully

Lets delve into the realm of top-selling books, exploring the engaging narratives that have charmed audiences this year. The Must-Read : Colleen Hoover's "It Ends with Us" This poignant tale of love, loss, and resilience has gripped readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover expertly weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can triumph. Uncover the Best : Taylor Jenkins Reids "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This intriguing historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reids absorbing storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery. Elephant Memories Thirteen Years In The Life Of An Elephant Family : Delia Owens "Where the Crawdads Sing" This captivating coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens crafts a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, entrancing readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These popular novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of compelling stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a masterful and thrilling novel that will keep you guessing until the very end. The novel is a warning tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
