Duckert, P.F. et al. (2008). The Five Most Important Questions You Will Ever Ask about Your Organization. Jossey-Bass, San Francisco, CA.

Gilbert, N. (2011). A First-Rate Madness: Discovering the Link Between Leadership and Mental Illness. Penguin Press, New York.

Using historical psychology, this author makes the case that some of the greatest world leaders had experiences with mood disorders that provided skills and attitudes that contributed to effective leadership. The author concludes with a call for education that counters stigma associated with psychiatric conditions as this stigma is preventing potentially great leaders from entering public service.

Greener, J. (2006). Little Black Book of Connections: 63 Assets for Networking Your Way to Rich Relationships. Bard Press, Austin, TX.

This book details the how and why of networking. Using life experiences, the author details specific skills and strategies for creating meaningful relationships within or outside organizations for the benefit of all parties.

Greene, R. (2008). The 48 Laws of Power. Viva Books, London.

This author details 48 (often brutal) principles for obtaining and maintaining power over others in an organization. While many are likely to find these principles and the offered strategies offensive, this book remains extremely popular in the U.S. business, government and non-profit sectors. It offers insight as to how other leaders behave and why.
