Midwifery, Freedom to Practise? Lindsay Reid, 2007 This book deals with the central theme of freedom to practise midwifery in selected countries of the world Each chapter has a separate author who has specific knowledge of the country for that chapter either as a citizen or researcher The underpinning theme of this book is the philosophy of best midwifery practice particularly that which is evidence based To clarify the meaning of the term the book includes an initial chapter that discusses the aims and realities of achieving best practice wherever in the world a midwife may be and under whatever circumstances she may be working The Practice of Freedom Richard J. White, Simon Springer, Marcelo Lopes de

Souza, 2016-09-29 The last two decades have seen a re birth of practices and principles that connect with the soul of left libertarianism although they may not explicitly engage with the anarchist tradition From practices of mapping and land use planning to local protests and transnational social movements this book explores a variety of case studies that trace the influences of and affinities between anarchist and geographic practice The chapters explore the vast possibilities of inventive exploratory libertarian practices from contemporary and historic contexts around the globe They examine the ways in which various spatial practices have been compatible with left libertarian principles and explore the extent to which anarchists neo anarchists and libertarian autonomists have animated these waves of protest and forms of resistance In an age that is desperately in need of critical new directions this volume shows that a serious re turn toward anarchist thought and practice can challenge and inspire geographers to travel beyond their traditional frontiers of geographical praxis The Right of the Child to Religious Freedom in International Law Sylvie Langlaude, 2007-11-30 The child s right to religious freedom in international law has never been considered in a comprehensive fashion yet key issues include the prevention of indoctrination religious clothing the relationship of the child with parents and religious communities and the duties of the state to the child Building on a sociological analysis of religious children a body of international legal materials is analysed against a theoretical model of what the child s right ought to be This book is the first attempt at analysing what international law says on the question the result is a compelling analysis of the definitive position of international law on the child s right to religious freedom The Catholic Church and the Modern State Joseph John Baierl, 1955 Religious Freedom and
