Freedom Of Religion Under The European Convention On Human Rights:

The European Court of Human Rights and the Freedom of Religion or Belief Jeroen Temperman, T. Jeremy Gunn, Malcolm D. Evans, 2019-01-04 As the tensions involving religion and society increase the European Court of Human Rights and the Freedom of Religion or Belief is the first systematic analysis of the first twenty five years of the European Court's religion jurisprudence The Court is one of the most significant institutions confronting the interactions among states religious groups minorities and dissenters In the 25 years since its first religion case Kokkinakis v Greece the Court has inserted itself squarely into the international human rights debate regarding the freedom of religion or belief The authors demonstrate the positive contributions and the significant flaws of the Court's jurisprudence involving religion society and secularism

Freedom of Religion or Belief in the European Convention on Human Rights Caroline K. Roberts, 2023-11-23 The right to freedom of thought conscience and religion in Article 9 of the European Convention on Human Rights ECHR has become increasingly significant and contested Through an examination of ECHR Article 9 its drafting history and the related jurisprudence of the European Court of Human Rights ECtHR Caroline K Roberts challenges the classic approach to this right in the literature Roberts argues that claims that there is or should be a clear binary and hierarchical distinction between the absolutely protected internal realm and the qualified external realm in this right are not founded textually or jurisprudentially Rather the primary materials suggest that the internal and external aspects are deeply interrelated and this is reflected in the ECtHR's nuanced and holistic approach to ECHR Article 9 protection This comprehensive rigorous and up to date reappraisal of ECHR Article 9 and the related ECtHR jurisprudence will be essential reading for academics and practitioners

The European Convention on Human Rights William Schabas, 2015 The first complete article by article English commentary on the ECHR with chapters devoted to each distinct provision or article this commentary explores the substance of the rights the workings of the Court and the enforcement of judgments

Law of the European Convention on Human Rights David John Harris, Michael O'Boyle, Ed Bates, Carla Buckley, 2023 This seminal text offers a comprehensive account of the case law of the ECHR and its underlying principles It provides a guide to decisions under the Convention and its protocols article by article as well as explaining the history and likely development of the law

A People's History of the European Court of Human Rights Michael Goldhaber, 2008-12-31 The exceptionality of America's Supreme Court has long been conventional wisdom But the United States Supreme Court is no longer the only one changing the landscape of public rights and values Over the past thirty years the European Court of Human Rights has developed an ambitious American style body of law Unheralded by the mass press this obscure tribunal in Strasbourg France has become in many ways the Supreme Court of Europe Michael Goldhaber introduces American audiences to the judicial arm of the Council of Europe a group distinct from the European Union and much larger whose mission is centered on interpreting the European Convention on Human Rights The Council routinely confronts nations over their most culturally sensitive hot button issues It has stared down France on the issue of Muslim immigration Ireland on abortion Greece on Greek Orthodoxy Turkey on Kurdish separatism Austria on Nazism and Britain on gay rights and corporal punishment And what is most extraordinary is that nations commonly comply In the battle for the world's conscience Goldhaber shows how the court in Strasbourg may be pulling ahead Freedom of Religion or Belief in the European Convention on Human Rights Caroline K.

Roberts,2023-11-23 It challenges the classic scholarly approach to ECHR Article 9 and related ECtHR jurisprudence and offers an alternative interpretation The European Court of Human Rights and Minority Religions Effie Fokas,James T Richardson,2020-04-28 This book includes a collection of studies focused on engagements of religious minorities with the European Court of Human Rights ECtHR Beginning with an introduction of the global importance of the ECtHR as a standard setter in the protection of religious minority rights the subsequent five chapters entail critical assessments of some of the Court's case law dealing with religious minority claims exploring their clarity and consistency or lack thereof and controversiality In the process these texts impart a nuanced perspective on the challenges the Court faces in striking the right balance between protecting individual freedoms and respecting state rights to manage nationally and culturally sensitive matters The second set of contributions makes readers privy to the varied results of this balancing act on the ground Specifically it offers empirically based insight into the impact of the Court's religion related case law on grassroots religious minority groups working to defend their individual and communal rights The chapters taken together deepen our understanding of the ECtHR in its approach to and impact on religious minorities and offer a rare vantage point on the Court from the messages it generates to the messages received by religious minorities at the grassroots level The chapters in this book were originally published in Religion State Society the Journal of Muslim Minority Affairs and Democratization

Article 9 of the European Convention on Human Rights Jean-François Renucci,2005-01-01 Article 9 of the European Convention on Human Rights guarantees freedom of thought conscience and religion The protection it affords is of such significance that the judges of the European Court of Human Rights regard it as one of the cornerstones of democratic society The freedoms Article 9 guarantees have two essential aspects internal covering the freedom to hold convictions and beliefs and external covering the freedom to manifest one's convictions and beliefs The first of these freedoms is absolute the second relative but in neither case can their importance be undervalued European Convention on Human Rights Christoph Grabenwarter,2014-02-12 The European Convention on Human Rights ECHR entered into force on 3 September 1953 with binding effect on all Member States of the Council of Europe It grants the people of Europe a number of fundamental rights and freedoms right to life prohibition of torture prohibition of slavery and forced labour right to liberty and security right to a fair trial no punishment without law right to respect for private and family life freedom of thought conscience and religion freedom of expression freedom of assembly and association right to marry right to an effective remedy prohibition of discrimination plus some more by additional protocols to the Convention Protocols 1 ETS No 009 4 ETS No 046 6 ETS No

114 7 ETS No 117 12 ETS No 177 and 13 ETS No 187 Any person who feels his or her rights under the ECHR have been violated by the authorities of one of the Member States can bring a case to the European Court of Human Rights established under the Convention The States are bound by the Court's decisions The Committee of Ministers of the Council of Europe make sure that the decisions are properly executed Today the Court receives thousands of petitions annually demonstrating the immense impact of the Convention and the Strasbourg Court Professor Grabenwarter's Commentary deals with the Convention systematically article by article considering the development and scope of each article together with the relevant case law and literature

The European Convention on Human Rights and the Employment Relation Filip Dorsemont, Klaus Lörcher, Isabelle Schömann, 2013-11-25 The accession by the European Union to the European Convention on Human Rights ECHR has opened up new possibilities in terms of the constitutional recognition of fundamental rights in the EU In the field of employment law it heralds a new procedure for workers and trade unions to challenge EU law against the background of the ECHR In theoretical terms this means that EU law now goes beyond recognition of fundamental rights as mere general principles of EU law making the ECHR the gold standard for fundamental social rights This publication of the Transnational Trade Union Rights Working Group focuses on the EU and the interplay between the Strasbourg case law and the case law of the Court of Justice of the European Union CJEU analysing the relevance of the ECHR for the protection of workers rights and for the effective enjoyment of civil and political rights in the employment relation Each chapter is written by a prominent European human rights expert and analyses the case law of the European Court of Human Rights ECtHR and also looks at the equivalent international labour standards within the Council of Europe in particular the Revised European Social Charter the International Labour Organization ILO in particular the fundamental rights conventions and the UN Covenants in particular the International Covenant on Economic Social and Cultural Rights and the interpretation of these instruments by competent organs The authors also analyse the ways in which the CJEU has acknowledged the respective ECHR articles as general principles of EU law and asks whether the Lisbon Treaty will also warrant a reassessment of the way it has treated conflicts between these general principles and the so called fundamental freedoms
