Freeing the Female Body J. A. Mangan, Fan Hong, 2001 Stories of remarkable women who devoted their lives to the cause of women's physical liberation are told in this volume They each shared the same ambition to free women's bodies through sport Scholars have studied the paradoxical importance of sport in both reinforcing the male dominated status quo and emancipating women from traditional repression in both Western and Eastern worlds but the role that individuals played in achieving the political and economic freedom of women through sport has been neglected This collection records the bravery of these forgotten inspirational figures whose determination challenged and overcame convention custom and prejudice to free women from the ranks of the sexualized controlled and oppressed Special Issue Freeing the Female

Women, Sport, Society Roberta Park, Patricia Vertinsky, 2013-09-13 During the last four decades women's and gender history have become vibrant fields including studies of attitudes regarding the limited physical and other abilities of females as well as studies of the accomplishments of notable female athletes We have become increasingly aware that women have made contributions to physical education dance and sport that go far beyond being teachers athletes and coaches They have created and implemented an astonishing variety of programs intended to serve the needs of large numbers of children and youth sometimes organizing student health services as well as chairing departments of physical education They have worked as directors of sport physical education and dance running playgrounds and recreational facilities and have created and or served as important officers of a variety of sporting organizations This book explores the contributions and achievements of women in a variety of historical and geographical contexts which not surprisingly opens opportunities for additions revisions and counter narratives to accepted histories of physical education and sport science It seeks to broaden our understandings about the backgrounds motivations and achievements of dedicated women working to improve health and bodily practices in a variety of different arenas and for often different purposes This book was previously published as a special issue of the International Journal of the History of Sport

Running Cultures John Bale, 2004 Running is one of the world's most widely practiced sports and recreations but until now it has intended to elude serious study outside of the natural sciences John Bale brings the sport into the realm of the humanities by drawing on sources including literature poetry film art and sculpture as well as statistics and training manuals to highlight the tensions ambiguities and complexities that lie hidden beneath the commonplace notion of running The text explores both local and personal as well as communal and global aspects of running and its practitioners It examines the streets tracks and stadiums where athletes run the races in which they compete and the running relationships such as exist between the athlete and the coach between runners and between the athlete and spectator It discusses the importance of speed and records how running has been used to symbolise resistance and transgression and the extent to which it can be associated with a healthy lifestyle Running Cultures provides new ways of seeing a familiar sporting phenomenon it will appeal to both students and researchers with an interest in running in particular and sport and leisure cultures more generally Disreputable Pleasures Mike Huggins, J. A. Mangan, 2004 Challenging the respectable image of Victorian society this irreverent revisionist collection explores the sinful side of middle class Victorian leisure highlighting the problematic relationship between public respectability and private pleasure The Commercialisation of Sport Trevor Slack, 2004-03-01 What does commercialisation mean for the future of sport Modern sports links to commerce are highly visible Stadiums and arenas bear the names of businesses while sponsors logos appear on athletes clothing and equipment on the facilities in which they play and in the titles of the events in which they compete Media companies pay vast sums for the rights to broadcast sports events and advertisers pay a premium to promote products during the screening of these events Cities invest at the expense of other social projects in the staging of major sports events and to attract professional teams to their areas Star athletes are transferred for multi million fees and professional sport franchises are sold for sums higher than the gross domestic products of some countries Even recreational athletes are subject to a constant barrage of commercial pressures to improve their game Sport s links to commerce have intensified over the past 30 years but have been subjected to little academic analysis This book represents an attempt to fill that significant gap in the literature by examining five different aspects of the commercialisation of sport The sports industry The public sector The commercialisation of amateur sport Sport and television Sports sponsorship There has been a rapid and widespread commercialisation of sport and it is vital that we now raise critical questions and analyse the changes that have taken place Disciplining Bodies in the Gymnasium Sherry Mckay, Patricia Vertinsky, 2004-05-06 The prize winning War Memorial Gymnasium at the University of British Columbia is discussed here examining what the building s design construction and shifting functions reveal about the university s values during the post war years Sites of Sport John Bale, Patricia Vertinsky, 2004-06-01 The study of built environments such as gymnasiums football stadiums swimming pools and skating rinks provides unique information about the historical enclosure of the gendered and sexualised body the body s capabilities needs and desires It illuminates the tensions between the globalising tendencies of sport and the importance of local culture and a sense of place This collection uses spatial concepts and examples to examine the nature and development of sporting practices At a time when the importance of spacial theories and spacial metaphors to sport is being increasingly recognised this pioneering work on the changing landscape of sporting life will appeal to students of the history sociology and management of sport The Games Ethic and Imperialism J.A. Mangan, 2013-11-05 This is more than a description of the imperial spread of public school games it considers hegemony and patronage ideals and idealism educational values and aspirations cultural assimilation and adaptation and the dissemination of the moralistic ideology of athleticism Sport in South Asian Society Boria Majumdar, J A Mangan, 2013-09-13 A detailed study of sports arrival spread and advance in colonial and post colonial South Asia A selection of articles addresses critical issues of nationalism communalism commercialism and gender through the lens of sport This book makes the point that the social histories of South Asian sport cannot be understood by simply looking at the history of the game in one province or region Furthermore it demonstrates that it would be wrong to understand sport in terms of the exigencies of the colonial state Drawing inspiration from C L R James well known epigram What do they know of cricket who only cricket know the findings suggest that South Asian sport makes sense only when it is placed within the broader colonial and post colonial context The book demonstrates that sport not only influences politics and vice versa but that the two are inseparable Sport is not only political it is politics intrigue culture and art To deny this is to denigrate the position of sport in modern South Asian society This volume was previously published as a special issue of The International Journal of the History of Sport Making Sport History Pascal Delheye, 2014-05-23 The field of sport history is a relatively new research domain situated at the intersection of a number of disciplines and sub disciplines This interdisciplinarity has created interesting avenues for growth and fresh thinking but also inherent problems of coherence and identity Making Sport History examines the development of an academic community around sport history exploring the roots of the discipline its current boundaries borders and challenges and looking ahead at future prospects Written by a team of world leading sport historians with commentaries from scholars working outside of the sport historical mainstream the book considers key themes in the historiography of sport including The relationship between history sport studies and physical education Comparative analysis of the role of historians in the writing of sport history Modern and post modern approaches to sport history Race gender and the sport historical establishment The role of scholarly organisations conferences and journals in discipline building Presenting new perspectives on what constitutes sport history and its core methodologies the book helps explain why historians have become interested in sport why they ve chosen the topics they have and how their work has influenced the wider world of history and been influenced by it Making Sport History is essential reading for any advanced student scholar or researcher with an interest in sport history historiography or the history and philosophy of the social sciences Soccer, Women, Sexual Liberation Hong Fan, J. A. Mangan, 2004 This collection considers women s football in a global context and analyses its progress and the challenges and problems it has faced Women, Sport and Society in Modern China Dong Jinxia, 2004-08-02 Drawing on Chinese sources hitherto unavailable in the West including official documents and interviews with top athletes the author explores the rise of Chinese super sportswomen and their relationship with politics culture and society before and during the Cultural Revolution and through China s transition to a market economy Sport and the Emancipation of European Women Gigliola Gori, J.A. Mangan, 2016-03-23 Sport and the Emancipation of European Women the Struggle for Self fulfilment explores the contributions of European women to the emancipation of women worldwide It expands understanding of the need for their attitudes and actions and celebrates their achievements in freeing the female body from unwarranted political cultural and social restraint in the courageous pursuit of the Enlightenment's secular value system the unity of mankind and basic personal freedoms and a world of tolerance knowledge education and opportunity from Roy Porter Enlightenment Britain and the Creation of the Modern World 2004 The Collection records the pulling down of European barriers via sport to women's realisation of ability and release of talent and their conquest of crushing inhibitions inexcusable irrationality intolerable prejudice and denial of opportunity no barriers came down without confrontation The struggle to overthrow prejudice set for the first time in the context of recent European history and the recent evolution of European sport is described in this pioneering Collection It is the first publication to focus specifically on European women and their struggle for emancipation via sport This book was published as a special issue of the International Journal of the History of Sport Cricketing Cultures in Conflict Boria Majumdar, J. A. Mangan, 2004 This title looks at the economic and social implications of the 2003 Cricket World Cup in various countries and explores the role of cricket in relation to South Africa Pakistan Sri Lanka West India and Kenya Serious Sport Scott A. G. M. Crawford, 2004 With essays covering all aspects of sports history this volume is a tribute to the scholarship of Professor Tony Mangan Regarded by many as a pioneer and mentor Professor Mangan's foundational work has sustained the field for decades The Changing Face of Women's Education in China Xiaoyan Liu, 2017 This book offers a critical study on the history of Shanghai No 3 Girls Middle School from its missionary predecessors St Mary's Hall and McTyeire School to its present form as a public school By bringing together three historical periods late imperial the Republic of China and the People's Republic of China and their respective political regimes into one project and tracing continuities and discontinuities in terms of education between the Nationalists and Communists the book argues that education in Chinese modern history affords another example of continuous revolution Dissertation Series Sinologie Vol 5 Subject Education Chinese Studies Asian Studies Gender Studies History Politics Venus with Biceps David Chapman, 2010-12-01 A visual history of female bodybuilders and other muscular women from the late nineteenth to mid twentieth centuries
