French Modern Norms And Forms Of The Social Environment:

French Modern Paul Rabinow, 1989 Paul Rabinow's study of space and society power and knowledge in France from the 1830s through the 1930s uses tools from anthropology philosophy and cultural criticism to make fascinating connections between diverse protagonists and domains In each of these domains ranging from medicine to the layout of colonial cities Rabinow describes the creation of norms and the search for forms adequate for understanding and regulating what became known as modern society He also focuses on an unexplored middle ground between the masters of high culture and the experiences of ordinary life which he calls middling modernism Paul Rabinow is Professor of Anthropology at the University of California at Berkeley His most recent books include Michel Foucault Beyond Structuralism and Hermeneutics with Hubert Dreyfus and The Foucault Reader

French Modern Paul Rabinow, 1995 Housing and the City Katharina Borsi, Didem Ekici, Jonathan Hale, Nick Haynes, 2022-06-28 Housing and the City explores housing histories theories and projects in diverse geographies It presents a geographically dispersed history of the twentieth century modern housing project and its social diagram juxtaposed with case studies from the past and the present that suggest that we can live and work differently While the contributions are diverse in their theoretical approach and geographical situation their juxtaposition yields transversal connections in the conception of the home and the city and highlights the diversity of architectural solutions in the formation of housing and its communities The collection also reveals architecture's contribution to the construction of the self and communities the individual and the collective as both urban spatial entities and socio-political concepts Housing and the City provides essential reading for students academics and practitioners interested in the history theory or current design of housing At a time when cities are witnessing new ways of working changing social demographics increased geographical mobility and mass migrations as well as the pervasive threat of the climate crisis all trends exacerbated by the Covid 19 pandemic Housing and the City presents a historical and theoretical reflection on the question what does it mean to be at home in the city in the twenty first century

The Columbia History of Twentieth-century French Thought Lawrence D. Kritzman, Brian J. Reilly, 2006 Unrivaled in its scope and depth The Columbia History of Twentieth Century French Thought assesses the intellectual figures movements and publications that helped shape and define fields as diverse as history and historiography psychoanalysis film literary theory cognitive and life sciences literary criticism philosophy and economics More than two hundred entries by leading intellectuals discuss developments in French thought on such subjects as pacifism fashion gastronomy technology and urbanism Contributors include prominent French thinkers many of whom have played an integral role in the development of French thought and American British and Canadian scholars who have been vital in the dissemination of French ideas

Architecture and Urbanism in the British Empire G. A. Bremner, 2016 A comprehensive overview of the architectural and urban transformations that took place across the British Empire between the seventeenth and mid twentieth centuries exploring the built heritage of Britain's former colonial empire as a fundamental part of how we negotiate our postcolonial identities

Biosocialities, Genetics and the Social Sciences Sahra Gibbon, Carlos Novas, 2007-07-20 Biosocialities: Genetics and the Social Sciences explores the social, cultural and economic transformations that result from innovations in genomic knowledge and technology. This pioneering collection uses Paul Rabinow's concept of biosociality to chart the shifts in social relations and ideas about nature, biology and identity brought about by developments in biomedicine. Based on new empirical research, it contains chapters on genomic research into embryonic stem cell therapy, breast cancer, autism, Parkinson's and IVF treatment, as well as on the expectations and education surrounding genomic research. It covers four main themes: novel modes of identity and identification such as genetic citizenship; the role of institutions ranging from disease advocacy organizations and voluntary organizations to the state; the production of biological knowledge; novel life forms and technologies; the generation of wealth and commercial interests in biology. Including an afterword by Paul Rabinow and case studies on the UK, US, Canada, Germany, India and Israel, this book is key reading for students and researchers of the new genetics and the social sciences, particularly medical sociologists, medical anthropologists and those involved with science and technology studies. Patrick Geddes and Town Planning Noah Hysler-Rubin, 2013-12-16 Patrick Geddes is considered a forefather of the modern urban planning movement. This book studies the various and even opposing ways in which Geddes has been interpreted up to this day, providing a new reading of his life, writing and plans. Geddes' scrutiny is presented as a case study for Town Planning as a whole. Tying together for the first time key concepts in cultural geography and colonial urbanism, the book proposes a more vigorous historiography, exposing hidden narratives and past agendas still dominating the disciplinary discourse. Written by a cultural geographer and a town planner, this book offers a rounded, full-length analysis of Geddes' vision and its material manifestation, functioning also as a much-needed critical tool to evaluate Modern Town Planning as an academic and practical discipline. The book also includes a long overdue model of his urban theory. The SAGE Handbook of Architectural Theory C. Greig Crysler, Stephen Cairns, Hilde Heynen, 2012-01-10 The SAGE Handbook of Architectural Theory documents and builds upon some of the most innovative developments in architectural theory over the last two decades. Bringing into dialogue a range of geographically, institutionally and historically competing positions, the book examines and explores parallel debates in related fields. The book is divided into eight sections: Power, Difference, Embodiment, Aesthetics, Pleasure, Excess, Nation, Spectacle, Modernity, History, Memory, Tradition, Design, Practice, Production, Technology, Science, Virtuality, Nature, Landscape, Sustainability, City, Metropolis, Territory. Creating openings for future lines of inquiry and establishing the basis for new directions for education, research and practice, the book organizes itself around specific case studies to provide a critical, interpretive and speculative enquiry into the relevant debates in architectural theory. A methodical, authoritative and comprehensive addition to the literature, the Handbook is suitable for academics, researchers and practitioners in architecture, urban geography, cultural studies, sociology and geography. Cultures of

Confinement Frank Dikötter, Ian Brown, 2018-07-05 Prisons are on the increase from the United States to China as ever larger proportions of humanity find themselves behind bars While prisons now span the world we know little about their history in global perspective Rather than interpreting the prison s proliferation as the predictable result of globalization Cultures of Confinement underlines the fact that the prison was never simply imposed by colonial powers or copied by elites eager to emulate the West but was reinvented and transformed by a host of local factors its success being dependent on its very flexibility Complex cultural negotiations took place in encounters between different parts of the world and rather than assigning a passive role to Latin America Asia and Africa the authors of this book point out the acts of resistance or appropriation that altered the social practices associated with confinement The prison in short was understood in culturally specific ways and reinvented in a variety of local contexts examined here for the first time in global perspective The Social City Mats Deland, 2001 Making Social Knowledge in the Victorian City Martin Hewitt, 2019-07-02 This study explores the ecology of knowledge of urban Britain in the Victorian period and seeks to examine the way in which Victorians comprehended the nature of their urban society through an exploration of the history of Victorian Manchester and two specific case studies on the fiction of Elizabeth Gaskell and the campaigns for educational extension which emerged out of the city It argues that crucial to the Victorians approaches was the visiting mode as a particular discursive formation including its institutional foundations its characteristic modes and assumptions and the texts which exemplify it Recognition of the importance of the visiting mode it is argued offers a fundamental challenge to established Foucauldian interpretations of nineteenth century society and culture and provides an important corrective to recent scholarship of nineteenth century technologies of knowing Making Social Science Matter Bent Flyvbjerg, 2001-01-15 New approach demonstrating how social science can be successful focusing on context values and power Post-Soviet Social Stephen J. Collier, 2011-08-08 The Soviet Union created a unique form of urban modernity developing institutions of social provisioning for hundreds of millions of people in small and medium sized industrial cities spread across a vast territory After the collapse of socialism these institutions were profoundly shaken casualties in the eyes of many observers of market oriented reforms associated with neoliberalism and the Washington Consensus In Post Soviet Social Stephen Collier examines reform in Russia beyond the Washington Consensus He turns attention from the noisy battles over stabilization and privatization during the 1990s to subsequent reforms that grapple with the mundane details of pipes wires bureaucratic routines and budgetary formulas that made up the Soviet social state Drawing on Michel Foucault s lectures from the late 1970s Post Soviet Social uses the Russian case to examine neoliberalism as a central form of political rationality in contemporary societies The book s basic finding that neoliberal reforms provide a justification for redistribution and social welfare and may work to preserve the norms and forms of social modernity lays the groundwork for a critical revision of conventional understandings of these topics Urban Modernity Miriam R. Levin, Sophie Forgan, Martina Hessler, Robert H. Kargon, Morris Low, 2010-04-16 How

Paris London Chicago Berlin and Tokyo created modernity through science and technology by means of urban planning international expositions and museums At the close of the nineteenth century industrialization and urbanization marked the end of the traditional understanding of society as rooted in agriculture Urban Modernity examines the construction of an urban centered industrial based culture an entirely new social reality based on science and technology The authors show that this invention of modernity was brought about through the efforts of urban elites businessmen industrialists and officials to establish new science and technology related institutions International expositions museums and other such institutions and projects helped stem the economic and social instability fueled by industrialization projecting the past and the future as part of a steady continuum of scientific and technical progress The authors examine the dynamic connecting urban planning museums educational institutions and expositions in Paris London Chicago Berlin and Tokyo from 1870 to 1930 In Third Republic Paris politicians administrators social scientists architects and engineers implemented the future city through a series of commissions agencies and organizations in rapidly expanding London cultures of science and technology were both rooted in and constitutive of urban culture in Chicago after the Great Fire Commercial Club members pursued civic ideals through scientific and technological change in Berlin industry scientific institutes and the popularization of science helped create a modern metropolis and in Meiji era Tokyo Edo modernization and Westernization went hand in hand
