history as seen through the lens of the clothes we wear from the Native American moccasin to Manolo Blahnik's contribution to stiletto heels. Through four detailed volumes, this work delves into what people wore in various periods in our country's past and why, from hand-crafted family garments in the 1600s to the rough clothing of slaves to the sophisticated textile designs of the 21st century. More than 100 fashion experts and clothing historians pay tribute to the most notable garments, accessories, and people comprising design and fashion. The four volumes contain more than 800 alphabetical entries, with each volume representing a different era. Content includes fascinating information such as that beginning in 1619, through 1654, every man in Virginia was required to plant a number of mulberry trees to support the silk industry in England; what is known about the clothing of enslaved African Americans; and that there were regulations placed on clothing design during World War II. The set also includes color inserts that better communicate the visual impact of clothing and fashion across eras.

French Trade in Istanbul in the Eighteenth Century Edhem Eldem, 2023-08-28 This work deals with French trade in Istanbul in the eighteenth century, using French and Ottoman sources and integrating the political and social dimensions of the question. It also sheds light on the financial dimension of trade, particularly that of bills of exchange and monetary trade linking Istanbul to other Ottoman cities and to European financial centers. Finally, it tackles the issue of western economic penetration, arguing that despite some signs of domination, French control over the market was efficiently opposed by local actors; that economic integration with the West was often realized on equal terms; and that much of the domination witnessed toward the end of the century was in fact the result of French diplomatic leverage and of the gradual estrangement of non-Muslim traders from the Ottoman commonwealth.
