The Engineering Digest ,1908 The French Invention of Menopause and the Medicalisation of Women's Ageing Alison M. Downham Moore,2022-10-06 Doctors writing about menopause in France vastly outnumbered those in other cultures throughout the entire nineteenth century The concept of menopause was invented by French male medical students in the aftermath of the French Revolution becoming an important pedagogic topic and a common theme of doctors professional identities in postrevolutionary biomedicine Older women were identified as an important patient cohort for the expanding medicalisation of French society and were advised to entrust themselves to the hygienic care of doctors in managing the whole era of life from around and after the final cessation of menses. However, menopause owed much of its conceptual weft to earlier themes of women as the sicker sex of vitalist crisis of the vapours and of astrological climacteric years. This is the first comprehensive study of the origins of the medical concept of menopause richly contextualising its role in nineteenth century French medicine and revealing the complex threads of meaning that informed its invention. It tells a complex story of how women's ageing featured in the demographic revolution in modern science in the denigration of folk medicine in the unique French field of hygiene and in the fixation on women in the emergence of modern psychiatry. It reveals the nineteenth century French origins of the still current medical and alternative health approaches to women's ageing as something to be managed through gynaecological surgery, hormonal replacement and lifestyle intervention.

Spirit Varnishes Technology Handbook (with Testing and Analysis) H. Panda, 2011-10-01

Varnish is a clear finish best suited for accenting wood grain. Technically, all resin and solvent mixes are varnishes. Most resin or gum varnishes consist of a natural plant or insect derived substance dissolved in a solvent. The two main types of natural varnishes are spirit varnish (alcohol based) and turpentine or petroleum based varnish. Spirit varnishes made with alcohol are conveniently prepared and on account of their rapid drying and leaving no disagreeable smell are in frequent use in the household for covering various articles of art. Resin is a class of non volatile non evaporating solid or semisolid organic substances obtained directly from certain plants as exudations or prepared by polymerization of simple molecules. Some hard and soft resins used in varnishes are amber, copal, shellac, sandarac, mastic, resin of turpentine, dammar etc. Rosins are classified as pale yellow, yellow, reddish to yellow brown or black rosin. If the injection water be not completely expelled, the rosin is opaque. If the essential oils have not been completely eliminated, the rosin is viscous and tacky. Spirit varnishes are more or less thin, more or less viscous, colourless or more or less coloured, opaque or transparent solutions of one or more natural resins, e.g. shellac and sandarac etc. in one more appropriate volatile solvents which leave on evaporation a thin more or less resistant film which both adorns and protects the object on which it is applied. Some of the fundamentals of the book are characteristics of spirit varnishes, solvents, chemistry and distillation of rosin, sources and methods of obtaining turpentine, distillation of turpentine, turpentine testing and turpentine substitutes, chemistry and distillation of rosin, rosin spirit, rosin oil, chemistry of terpenes and camphors, amber, asphaltum, collodion and celluloid varnishes, India rubber insulating mastic and matte spirit varnishes, rosin spirit, sandarach, shellac spirit varnishes and enamels, testing and analysis of spirit varnishes, the determination of resins and solvents in spirit varnishes. This book gives detailed information on spirit varnishes, types and characteristics of spirit varnishes, sources of origin, principles of manufacturing processes, testing and analysis of spirit varnishes and many more. We hope this book will be very resourceful to all its readers: new entrepreneur libraries, paint and varnish technologists, existing industries etc.
