French Studies In History Vol. 1 The Inheritance Harbans Mukhia, 1990 French Studies in History: The inheritance Maurice Aymard, Harbans Mukhia, 1988 Comparative and Transnational History Heinz-Gerhard Haupt, Jürgen Kocka, 2012 Since the 1970s West German historiography has been one of the main arenas of international comparative history. It has produced important empirical studies particularly in social history as well as methodological and theoretical reflections on comparative history. During the last twenty years however this approach has felt pressure from two sources: cultural historical approaches which stress microhistory and the construction of cultural transfer on the one hand; global history and transnational approaches with emphasis on connected history on the other. This volume introduces the reader to some of the major methodological debates and to recent empirical research of German historians who do comparative and transnational work.

A Cultural History of Famine Ayesha Mukherjee, 2019-01-15 The term food security does not immediately signal research done in humanities disciplines. It refers to a complex contested issue whose currency and significance are hardly debatable given present concerns about environmental change, resource management and sustainability. The subject is thus largely studied within science and social science disciplines in current or very recent historical contexts. This book brings together perspectives on food security and related environmental concerns from experts in the disciplines of literary studies, history, science and social sciences. It allows readers to compare past and contemporary attitudes towards the issues in India and Britain; the economic, social and environmental histories of these two nations have been closely connected ever since British travellers began to visit India in the latter half of the sixteenth century. The chapters in this book discuss themes such as climate, harvest failure, trade, technological improvements, transport networks, charity measures and popular protest which affected food security in both countries from the seventeenth century onwards. The authors cover a range of disciplinary and interdisciplinary approaches and their chapters allow readers to understand and compare different methodologies as well as different contexts of time and place relevant to the topic. This book will be of great interest to students and researchers of economic and social history, environmental history, literary studies and South Asian studies.

History and Climate Change Neville Brown, 2005-06-29 This book is a balanced and comprehensive overview of the links between climate and man's advance from pre-history to modern times. It is a synthesis of the many historical and scientific theories regarding man's progress through the ages.

Globalization and the Colonial Origins of the Great Divergence Pim de Zwart, 2016-04-08 In Globalization and the Colonial Origins of the Great Divergence Pim de Zwart examines the Dutch East India Company's intercontinental trade and its effects on living standards in various regions on the edges of the Indian Ocean in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries. Contrary to conventional views, De Zwart finds significant evidence of the integration of global commodity markets, an important dimension of globalization before the 1800s. The effects of this globalization and the associated colonialism were diverse and could vary between and within regions. As globalization and colonialism affected patterns of economic development across the globe they played a part in the rise of global economic inequality known as the Great Divergence in the early modern period Capital and Ecology Rakhee Bhattacharya,G. Amarjit Sharma,2023-08-28 This volume studies the intersection of capital and ecology primarily in one of the most sensitive geographies of the world the Eastern Himalayan region It looks at how the region has become a melting ground of neoliberal developmentalism and ecological subjectivities with the penetrating forces of global and state capitalism economic projects and complex power relations The essays in the volume argue that specific focus on energy infrastructure and energy production has pushed technology and capital towards asset building which has had an adverse effect on the environment labour relations indigenous knowledge systems and traditional livelihood practices in the area They look at assets like mega dams electricity transmission networks natural gas grids infrastructural and developmental projects and other alternative ventures which require interventions in the natural world and its resource deposits Interdisciplinary in approach the volume adopts a variety of lenses developmentalism state strategy indigenous voices geopolitics and environmentalism to provide a unique and alternative narrative on the various dimensions of the ecological risks and livelihood threats It will be of great interest to scholars and researchers of politics development studies indigenous studies and Asian studies Playing with Nature Sajal Nag,2017-08-07 North East India is called nature s gift to India It is mountainous thickly forested nourished by massive rainfall has massive rivers has a diverse wildlife inhabited a number of forest dwellers called tribes who cherished environmentalist ethos The region has been experiencing environmental depletion which was a result of colonial policies exploitation of its ecological and mineral resources large scale trans border immigration and settlement of people establishment of the plantation industry through deforestation and the dependence of the dairy industry on grazing and other factors This books depicts the precariousness of the environmental situation and traces the history and politics of such degeneration with a view to raise the consciousness of the people of the region towards their environment and save it from further aggravation History of Ecology and Environment in India Mr. Rohit Manglik,2023-08-23 In this book we will study about India s environmental history traditional ecological knowledge forest policies environmental movements and challenges in conservation The Making of Early Kashmir Muhammad Ashraf Wani,Aman Ashraf Wani,2023-02-22 This is the first full length history of early Kashmir locating it beyond its regional context from pre history to the thirteenth century Drawing on a variety of sources including conventional archaeological and literary sources as well as non conventional sources like philology toponym and surnames it presents a connected history of early Kashmir over the longue duree It challenges tendencies towards nationalist historiographies of the region by situating it in the context of the shared histories of humanity The volume will be of great interest to scholars and researchers of history archaeology anthropology and South Asian studies French Studies in the Philosophy of Science Anastasios Brenner,Jean Gayon,2009-04-14 Having examined previous volumes of the Boston Studies series devoted to different countries and having discussed the best way to present contemporary research in France we have arrived at a careful selection of 15 participants including the organizers Our aim is to bring together philosophers and practicing scientist from the major institutions of the country both universities and research centers The areas of research represented here cover a wide spectrum of sciences from mathematics and physics to the life sciences as well as linguistics and economics This selection is a showcase of French philosophy of science illustrating the different methods employed logico linguistic analysis rational reconstruction and historical inquiry These participants have the ability to relate their research both to the French tradition and current discussions on the international scene Also included is a substantial historical introduction explaining the development of philosophy of science in France the various schools of thought and methods as well as the major concepts and their significance

Europe in the Seventeenth Century Donald Pennington, 2015-12-14 As before the second edition of this widely used survey is in two main parts The first analyses the major themes of seventeenth century European history on a continent wide basis The second part moves on to outline political diplomatic and military events in the various states and nations of the time For the second edition all the chapters have been rewritten to take account of recent scholarship

Moreover many new topics are discussed the family crime the impact of printing climate population and social mobility Islam in seventeenth century Europe Throughout the book emphasises current lines of research and controversy to illustrate that the history of the period is a process of enquiry and argument rather than incontrovertible fact A Millennium of Family Change Wally Seccombe, 1995-10-17 How do changes in family form relate to changes in society as a whole In a work which combines theoretical rigour with historical scope Wally Seccombe provides a powerful study of the changing structure of families from the Middle Ages to the beginning of the Industrial Revolution Responding to feminist critiques of sex blind historical materialism Seccombe argues that family forms must be seen to be at the heart of modes of production He takes issue with the mainstream consensus in family history which argues that capitalism did not fundamentally alter the structure of the nuclear family and makes a controversial intervention in the long standing debate over European marriage patterns and their relation to industrialization Drawing on an astonishing range of studies in family history historical demography and economic history A Millennium of Family Change provides an integrated overview of the long transition from feudalism to capitalism illuminating the far reaching changes in familial relations from peasant subsistence to the making of the modern working class
